SCORES OF CHILDREN NOT ACCOUNTED FOR

State's Attorney Hoyne Declares Eastland Was Overloaded as Taking of Testimony Begins

Chicago, July 27.—With the taking of testimony by the coroner's jury, the first open investigation into the capsizing of the steamer Eastland started today. At the same time investigations were being conducted by the state grand jury, the federal authorities and the city council while the state public utilities commission issued an announcement that it would not conduct an investigation as it had planned, the reason given being that the matter was fully covered by other investigators.

Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield arrived today and took up what he promised would be a thorough inquiry. A short time later attorneys from the United States district attorney's office visited all of the men held in custody as witnesses and obtained statements from them at the same time subpoenaing them to appear before the federal grand jury which meets Thursday.

Secretary Redfield upon arrival, said he welcomed the most searching investigation possible and that if an inspector were at fault no one was more interested in it than he.

States Attorney Hoyne also was active in his investigation. Both the federal authorities and the police cooperated with him today. Mr. Hoyne said he was confident the boat was overloaded.

Stubs Do Not Account for All.

"From all accounts there were scores of children on the boat only part of whom can be accounted for by the ticket stubs," he said. He added that he had obtained stubs of 2,550 tickets.

The funeral of the victims continued to be held today, although the great majority will be buried tomorrow.

The work of searching the river and the Eastland's hull for bodies continued with unabated energy today. At noon the official list of dead and missing was:

Identified dead, 822.

Unidentified dead, 5.

Missing (Western Electric company list) 393.

Total, 1,220.

Placing the Blame.

At the opening of the inquest Coroner Hoffman announced that its object was to ascertain the cause and "place the blame where it belongs."

"It is the intention to make a fair, thorough and impartial investigation," said the coroner.

Victor Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's union, who had been quoted as denouncing the United States inspection service of lake boats, would, it was said, be a witness both before the coroner's jury and the grand jury. Secretary Redfield in a statement issued today not only denied that steamboat inspectors were appointed at the instance of steamboat owners, as had been charged, but also denied that Mr. Olander had ever brought to his attention the condition of the Eastland.

Secretary Redfield's Statement.

Secretary Redfield in his statement, added:

"On my arrival in Chicago this morning, I met D. N. Hoover, jr., deputy supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service, and Captain Charles H. Westcott, the supervising inspector of the Eighth district. Both have been notified to appear before the state grand jury. I instructed

BULLETIN.

Chicago, July 27.—Not more than forty bodies remain in the hull of the Eastland according to Wm. Demeu, a diver, who is working on the wrecken boat.

"A strong undercurrent has swept a large number of bodies away and they are now floating in the river or the drainage canal," added Demeu.

UNCLE SAM MAY BE NEXT TO PROSECUTE

Sabin Smith Found Guilty of Running Blind Tiger in Country.

On testimony by which Sabin Smith was convicted in the city court Tuesday afternoon of running a blind tiger at the former Hiser roadhouse on the Goshen highway north of the city the federal government may be able to found a good case and secure a conviction. He was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended jail sentence of thirty days. He took an appeal.

Smith was tried on the evidence of the young sons of half a dozen prominent Churubusco business men, whose disclosures a week or more ago caused a sensation in that town as well as Fort Wayne and have led to the filing of five blind tiger charges against as many different liquor dealers in Fort Wayne, including the proprietors of the Hof Brau cafe and the Hotel Edwin.

Smith was brought to trial Tuesday morning before Attorney Otto E. Fuelber, who was appointed when a change of venue was taken from City Judge H. Waveland Kerr. Prosecutor H. H. Hilgemann appeared for the state, assisted by Hon. William P. Breen, who was employed by the parents of the Churubusco boys to aid in the prosecution.

Oscar E. Gandy, Adam Bechtold, Phil Downey and Herman Fogel, all of Churubusco, and all minors, testified as to specific instances in which they had purchased beer at the Smith roadhouse. The sales were made the nights of July 16 and 17, although two of the boys testified to previous purchases. Sheriff A. C. Gladieux testified that he interviewed Smith Monday evening and got from the roadhouse keeper a statement that he had a government license up to July 1, this year, when it expired. The sales for which Smith was convicted were proven to have been made since that license expired, which exposes Smith to prosecution by the federal government.

Following the Smith case the trial of John P. Hedges, who runs a saloon with a club annex above at 106 East Columbia street, and his bartender, Carl Slagle, on blind tiger charges, were begun. Churubusco boys were the witnesses in these cases.

ENGLAND MAY BE WILLING TO HEAR

Gives Lansing Notice That Supplemental Note is Coming.

Washington, July 27.—Sir Edward Grey cabled Secretary Lansing today that the British government has in preparation another note to the United States on the orders in council, and asked that the note delivered yesterday be withheld from publication pending receipt of the new communication. Therefore yesterday's note will not be published tomorrow morning as had been planned.

No indication of the nature of the forthcoming note was given in Sir Edward's cable and state department officials have no intimation. They assume, however, that it is of a supplemental nature. The development will further delay dispatch of the American note to Great Britain on the same subject.

Secretary Lansing said the message from London stated the new note would be here in another week. In official quarters the development was regarded as highly significant. The belief prevailed that the last American note to Germany with its reference to the freedom of the seas may have influenced Great Britain to place herself on record as willing to take under consideration any new suggestions by the United States to the belligerents.

Rebellious Troops Attack President Guillaume, of Haiti.

HE FINALLY FLEES BURNING BUILDING

Takes Refuge in French Legation as Revolution Reaches Capital.

Port Au Prince, July 27.—The revolutionary movement against President Guillaume, which broke out under the leadership of Dr. Rasalvo Bobo last March, showed itself in Port Au Prince today.

After several hours of fighting at the presidential residence where Guillaume made a courageous defense against the revolutionists, the president took refuge in the French legation, whither he had been preceded by the members of his family. The place was on fire before Guillaume decided to seek refuge under the flag of France.

Rebellious troops of the government attacked the palace at 4 o'clock and continued firing upon it for two hours. The president was supported by a few loyal troops and the members of his personal staff.

Also Obliged to Flee.

Gen. Oscar, governor of Port Au Prince, continued his resistance at the palace even after Guillaume had left, but his situation soon became untenable and he was obliged to flee to the Dominican legation.

As the result of a ruling by the interstate commerce commission in establishing divisions between different interurban roads between Indianapolis and Louisville it will be only a short time until through rates are established through from Louisville to Fort Wayne.

Fort Wayne shippers have long desired through rates from Louisville and the recent ruling of the interstate commerce commission will make this possible.

Fire Chief Had to Pay.

Fire Chief Tim Doud, of Peru, came in the limelight this week when he had a heated controversy with a conductor on the Main street line at that place. The Peru city lines are owned by the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company. According to information from Peru the conductor told him he would be obliged to pay or get off the car. "You don't know who I am," said Tim. "I'm chief of the fire department." "It don't make any difference to me who you are, you'll have to pay to ride on this car or get off." Several more words passed between them, when Tim threatened to stretch a line of hose across the track and stop the car, to which the conductor replied that if he did he'd run the car over the hose and cut them in two. This ended the controversy and the chief coughed up the carfare and was taken to the end of his journey.

TOUCHARD ADMITS GOLF BALL THEFTS

The Former Indoor Tennis Champion Pleads Guilty to Larceny.

New York, July 27.—Gustav Touchard, 27, former indoor tennis champion and for several years a keen contender in outdoor national tournaments, plead guilty today to the larceny of golf balls valued at $140 from Abercrombie & Fitch, dealers in sporting goods, where he was a trusted employee. Judge Rosalsky, of general sessions, before whom he made his plea, remanded him for sentence until Friday.

George Gordon Battle, counsel for Touchard, in asking for mercy for his client, told the court that early this year Touchard's wife died in childbirth, and that the defendant was left with the baby. Doctors and medicine bills, he said, had piled up and his client's resources were at an end. Then came temptation and he fell.

A number of prominent tennis men have written to Judge Rosalsky in his behalf.

The response was by Prof. W. H. T. Dau, of the St. Louis Theological seminary.

CRAZY INEBRIATE TRIES TO END LIFE

A man so crazy with drink that he could not tell his own name and had to be booked as John Doe, stripped off his clothing in a police cell Tuesday forenoon and with the shreds of his garments tried to hang himself from the upper grating of his prison. He was overpowered, taken to the jail and put in the padded cell. He was taken from the hayloft in the stable at the rear of the McKiernan grocery on Grand street, where he had crawled to sleep and fought furiously against disturbance. At the station he raved over having been robbed of $75 that he said he worked all summer on a farm to earn. The police searched his clothing thoroughly but could find no trace of any money and it was concluded that if the man had been robbed it must have been in one of the saloons near the railroads, where he had been drinking. Detective Sergeants Spillner and Junk were detailed to make an investigation.

300 EXCURSIONISTS THROWN INTO PANIC

Packet and Pleasure Boat Collide in Ohio River Near Vevay.

Vevay, Ind., July 27.—Three hundred excursionists on the excursion steamer Homer Smith were badly frightened when the packet City of Louisville collided with the Homer Smith in the Ohio river near here early today. The coolness of the excursion boat's crew, it is said, prevented a panic. Four women fainted. Both steamers were only slightly damaged.

The packet, it is said, was endeavoring to pass the Homer Smith when the current threw her against the other craft, demolishing a part of the packet's wheelhouse. In an endeavor to get away she rammed the Smith and stripped a number of buckets from her wheel. The Homer Smith was en route to Vevay to unload her passengers and the City of Louisville was making her regular trip to Cincinnati.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS GAIN

Increase Assets Over One Hundred Millions in Past Year.

San Francisco, July 27.—The building and loan associations of the United States increased their assets a little more than $100,000,000 in 1914, marking a growth of 8.72 per cent. over the previous year, according to the annual report of A. S. Cellarus, of Cincinnati, secretary of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations made here today at the twenty-third annual meeting. Secretary Cellarus continued: "Considering the fact that this period included nearly six months of the great war in Europe, during which time there also existed in this country an industrial depression more or less severe, this showing speaks volumes for the thrift and saving habits of the wage earning class of our citizens who are the chief patrons of these institutions."

There are in the United States 6,662 building and loan associations with a membership of 3,310,000 and assets aggregating $1,357,340,036. This is an increase over last year of 183 associations, 267,002 members and $108,860,897 in assets. The average amount due each member is $437.36, as against $440.16, the amount shown last year.

Ten automobiles were required to carry the various county vice presidents and the other twenty machines went as far as Princeton, where a big reception was accorded the Dixie Bee line officials. The committee will go as far north as Danville and will return here Friday morning.

STILL RAGING AFTER 7 DAYS

Battle Along Isonzo River is Mightiest and Most Frightful of War.

AUSTRO-ITALIAN CONFLICT FEARFUL

Germans Still Driving at Warsaw Against Stiff Resistance.

Berlin, July 27.—The battle between the Italians and Austrians along the Isonzo river is described by the correspondent in the Tyrol of the Lokal Anzeiger as being "mightiest and most frightful of the world war."

The great struggle has lasted a week, the correspondent says, without any decision having been reached. The principal Italian onslaught has been directed against the Doberdo plateau where the artillery fire exceeds in intensity that of the battles of Tarnow and Gorlice in Galicia. The correspondent adds:

"The conflict, which is being directed from captive balloons, lasted three days without any interruption and after only a few hours' pause was resumed. The Austrian army, which is composed of soldiers of nearly all the nationalities in the dual monarchy, endures the terrible fire bravely and when the Italians gain a position they are soon thrown out of it.

"Italian aviators are continually seeking to destroy the railways at the rear of the Austrian lines, especially around Nabresina, but thus far they have done no great damage."

Submarines in Battle.

The French submarine Mariotte was destroyed by a German submarine on July 26 in the narrows of the Dardanelles, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. Thirty-one members of the French submarine crew were captured.

The narrows where the engagement took place is about midway of the Dardanelles straits between the Aegean sea and the sea of Marmora. They were fifteen miles from the entrance to the straits.

AUSTRIAN WARSHIPS BOMBARD.

Rome, July 27.—Certain light Austrian cruisers and four Austrian torpedo boat destroyers at dawn today bombarded several points on the railroad which runs along the shore of the

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The German advance on Warsaw continues today to be the most important development in the field of war. It is being conducted with energy, and the Russian resistance has brought furious fighting along a wide front. Nevertheless, the latest reports indicate that the German movement to envelop the Polish capital is progressing.

A Russian official report admits that the Germans are attacking the advance defenses of Novgeorogivsk, fifteen miles northwest of Warsaw, but at the same time recites a number of instances in which the Germans have been either repulsed or unsuccessful in their attacks. The battle is still raging with terrific fury on almost the whole front between the Viprez and the Bug rivers. Furthermore, Petrograd announces the destruction in the Black sea of forty sailing vessels laden with coal for Germany.

The casualties in the fighting in the Italo-Austrian frontier, have latterly been very heavy, according to a news despatch received by the Tribune of Geneva.

There have been no developments of any moment on the western front. The French official report of today recites a few minor engagements, but shows no changes of importance.

A correspondent on the Italian front of a German newspaper has described the fighting along the Isonzo rivers, the mightiest and most frightful of the war. For seven days it has been going on, and no result yet had been attained. Captive balloons are being used to direct the fire of the artillery, and Italian aeroplanes are brought forward in attempts to destroy the railroads to the rear of the Austrian forces.

Gas Explosion Traps Miners; Eight Dead

Christopher, Ill., July 27.—Eight men were killed and fifteen badly burned in a gas explosion at one of the entrances of the Moderwell mine here today. Three men are missing.

The number of men in the mine is not clear, estimates ranging from 250 to 450. Less than thirty men were at the entrance where the explosion took place. All save those at the burning entrance escaped.

When the explosion occurred it was regarded as certain that at least nineteen miners had been trapped in a position from which it would be impossible for them to escape. The accident occurred four hundred feet below the surface.

MOST OF THEM ESCAPE.

Murphysboro, Ill., July 27.—Four hundred and fifty men were in the mine at Christopher, Ill., when the explosion occurred but most of them escaped.

Seven men were taken out dead and fourteen were taken out badly burned.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN IMMUNE

Washington Believes Attack on Leelanaw New Breach of 1828 Treaty.

BUT IS AWAITING THE FULL DETAILS

Course of U. S. Government Will Then Be Determined Upon.

Washington, July 27.—Details of the sinking of the American steamship Leelanaw by a German submarine were today awaited by officials of the United States government pending which they are reserved in their comments.

A full account of the destruction of the Leelanaw is not expected until the American consul at Dundee, Scotland, has completed his investigation. The inquiry was to begin there today with the arrival of the vessel's crew.

Only meagre accounts of the sinking of the steamer have been received here. The episode, however, is the subject of considerable informal discussion, coming so soon after the delivery of the American note to Germany.

The course to be pursued by the American government will not be finally determined upon till all facts in the case have been received. It is probable, however, that the procedure will be the same as in the case of the Wm. P. Frye, when the United States disputed Germany's right to destroy American ships even if carrying contraband.

Officials here are of the opinion that the Leelanaw should have been immune from attack and that Germany in reality had again violated the Prussian-American treaty of 1828.

330,995 IS TOTAL OF BRITISH CASUALTIES

Asquith Gives Out Figures on English Army and Navy Losses.

London, July 27.—The casualties in the British army and navy have reached a total of 330,995, according to a printed statement issued by Premier Asquith.

The total naval casualties up to July 20 were 9,106 and the military casualties to July 18 were 321,889. The naval losses were divided as follows: Officers killed, 49; wounded. 87; missing, 29; men killed, 7,431; wounded, 787; missing. 274.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons on June 9 that the total British casualties, excluding the naval division, had been 258,069 up to May 31 in killed, wounded and missing. This shows casualties in the army alone of 63,820 between May 31 and July 18. A statement made in London June 15 giving the number of killed, wounded and missing in the British navy up to May 31 as 13,547 evidently was erroneous in the fact of Premier Asquith's statement. On April 11 H. J. Tennant, under secretary for war, announced the total of British losses since the beginning of the fighting as 139,378. If his figures were correct the British have lost 182,582 men in the past fourteen weeks, an average of 13,000 a week. Great Britain is the only one of the powers engaged in the war which has announced from time to time her total casualties. Germany has issued at home full lists by name of all men killed, wounded or missing, but the government has given out no official total. No comprehensive lists of casualties have been given out by France, Russia, Austria-Hungary or Italy.

FIRST NIGHT OF ELKS' BIG REVIEW

The first performance of the Elks' Big Review was given Monday evening in a tent located on North Calhoun street, and, though the audience was not large, the performers were enthusiastically applauded throughout the entire entertainment. Larger audiences are expected Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The entertainment is in the form of a minstrel, entirely different, however, from the average minstrel show. The production is most gorgeously staged, and the costumes are beautiful and costly.

The show opened with a tenor solo, "Perfect Day," by Herman Martin, followed by fancy dancing by Fish and Romary. The Elks' quartet, composed of Marion Kiess, Rodney Breidenstein, David Erwin and Herman Martin, made a most favorable impression, the singers being called back several times.

Music throughout the evening was furnished by Prof. O. E. Osterle and orchestra, which was one of the big features of the entertainment.

The proceeds derived from the performances will be employed for charitable purposes.

Frank F. Heighway, of Crown Point, superintendent of the Lake county schools, was a visitor in Fort Wayne Monday. Mr. Heighway was here in the interest of his candidacy for the republican nomination for state superintendent of public instruction.

GERMAN ENVELOPING MOVEMENT VAST ONE

London, July 27.—The magnitude of the German enveloping movement in the eastern field now is absorbing the attention of the British officials and public. The latest reports show that Gen. von Buelow's cavalry have turned southward from Riga and are within eighty miles of the railway connecting Petrograd with Warsaw.

In this way the northern German line is closing in on the main northern railway artery to the Russian capital while the southern army similarly is pressing the main railroad running to Odessa. It is declared human history can show no parallel to the tremendous extent of this enveloping movement which involves results to Russia and the western allies comparing with Russia's resistance to a Mongolia invasion.

The Times believes the operations are a real danger not alone to Warsaw but to the whole system of railway defenses of which the city is the center and that it now is apparent that the Germans are planning to envelop the entire Russian army in this region. The newspaper points out that the fall of Warsaw will have a grave significance for the west, as it will mean that Russia's power to resume a successful offensive will have been indefinitely postponed and the principal bases for operations would be in the hands of Germany. Today's Petrograd statement saying that the Germans have been thrown back at one point of the Narew river brings some relief to London, as the military observers held that the final results depend largely upon Russia prolonging her resistance until climatic conditions in that country interpose a barrier to the full realization of the German plan.

Reports from the other military fields, with the exception of the Italian frontier where the Italians claim to have taken 1,600 prisoners, show comparative inactivity.

1,500 STRIKERS GO BACK AT BAYONNE

Return to Work With Prospect That Wage Increase Will Come.

New York, July 27.—About 1,500 men who had been on strike for several days, returned to work today in the plants of the Standard Oil company and the Tidewater Oil company in Bayonne, N. J. Mayor Pierre Garvin and Sheriff Kinkead declared that the strike was broken, that by agreement the strikers would be back at work and that several hundred guards who have been protecting the plants could be removed. The sheriff said he was positive an increase in pay would be granted the employes before the end of this week.

About 5,000 men have been idle since the strike began in the plants of the Standard Oil company. As a result of this strike and of disorder in which several of the strikers and their sympathizers were shot and killed, employes of the Tidewater Oil company quit work, it was said, unwillingly. The return of the men to work followed Sheriff Kikead's action yesterday in taking command of a meeting of the English speaking strikers and obtaining their vote to go back, after he had arrested Jeremiah J. Baly, their leader. Sheriff Kinkead had 650 uniformed policemen and guards stationed about the Standard Oil plant when the men went to work today. For six blocks a guard was stationed every fifty feet and on every corner was a policeman with a rifle. A crowd of several hundred men who gathered near the oil works was dispersed by the sheriff. Two arrests were made but there was no disorder and the sheriff appeared to have absolute control.

Many of the alien employes followed the English speaking strikers as they entered the oil plant and the sheriff was confident that all the foreigners would go back to work.

The strike was begun to enforce a demand for a 15 per cent increase in wages.

RALSTON ORDERS A COURT MARTIAL

Guard Sergeant Ball to Be Tried for Killing Private in 1913.

Indianapolis, July 27.—Under an order from Governor Ralston, a court-martial to try Sergt. Edwin F. Ball, of the Indiana national guard for the killing of Private Walter McDowell at the time of the guard encampment on July 21, 1913, will be organized probably within the next week. Ball was indicted by the Marion county grand jury shortly after the tragedy, but on motion of his attorneys the indictment was quashed by Judge Collins in the Marion criminal court for lack of jurisdiction.

It is probable the proceedings against Ball now will be under the general court-martial law governing the national guard, which provides for the appointment of not less than five nor more than thirteen commissioned officers by the adjutant general to try such cases. Under the general court-martial law such a body would have power to impose fines of not more than $300 and to imprison in jail for not more than six months. Such a body also would have power to dismiss the accused from service.

At the time of the shooting, McDowell was a private in the militia company from Madison, Ind. Ball was doing provost duty and had charge of McDowell, who was accused of attempting to smuggle liquor into the camp. It is charged that McDowell attempted to escape, when Ball fired. McDowell died later in a hospital.

Governor Ralston said yesterday he did not know how soon the court-martial would be named, but that it probably would be within the next few days. On his return from the west Governor Ralston learned that the indictment against Ball had been quashed, and, believing that some action should be taken to fix responsibility for the death of McDowell, he directed that the court-martial be organized and that the accused be given a trial in that way.

GERMAN SUBMARINE ATTACKED TURNWELL

New York, July 27.—Captain Humby, of the British steamer Turnwell, which arrived today from Swansea, reported that after sailing from Liverpool on June 15, he encountered a German submarine thirty-five miles off Tuskar. The submarine fired several shots from a rapid firer at the Turnwell, and the crew of the latter took to their boats. The Germans then boarded the Turnwell, Humby said, exploded several bombs in the empty holds and abandoned the steamer to attack the British coasting steamer Trafford. After sinking the Trafford the submarine crew returned to the Turnwell, but before they could do any further damage to the steamer, patrol boats of the British fleet appeared, and the submarine disappeared.

NOW WRITING AERIAL INSURANCE.

German Company Indemnifies Against Airship Attacks.

Washington, July 27.—Insurance against damage to property in Germany by aircraft is one of the latest developments of the European war. The American consul general at Dresden, Saxony, reporting to the department of commerce said a demand for insurance against bombs had been created by aeroplane attacks upon German cities near the battle lines.

As a result a German insurance company has established what, the consul says, may properly be called aerial insurance, policies being issued covering damage to all property caused either by explosives thrown from the aeroplanes or the aeroplanes themselves in landing. No provision is made for injury to or loss of life.

GIRL BREAKS LEG AGAIN.

Whitley County Sisters Are in Splints Most of the Time.

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—Miss Eva Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Graves, of Jefferson township, and a sister of Miss Mina Graves, who accompanied her in a daring ride this spring which resulted in a terrible accident in which both girls received broken legs, fell Sunday in the parlor at the home of her parents and rebroke her right leg above the knee.

Miss Mina and Miss Eva Graves drove to this city last May on the day of the Whitley county track meet and in the evening while returning to their home, in Jefferson township, indulged in a race, when near the Sam Hurd farm, just east of this city. The race ended when the rig driven by the girls was thrown against a telephone pole, the buggy torn to pieces and both girls sustained broken legs. The girls were taken to the office of Dr. Souder, of this city, where he, assisted by Dr. Nolt, reduced the fractures and they were then taken to their home. They were recovering nicely and were gradually growing stronger until recently. About a month ago Miss Mina, the eldest of the sisters, was walking in the yard when she fell and rebroke her leg. She was taken to the St. Joseph hospital in Fort Wayne by Dr. E. V. Nolt, where he, assisted by Dr. MacBeth, reduced the fracture. On this occasion the doctors were compelled to perform an operation on the young lady in order to get the bones of the leg together correctly.

STRONG sentiment against the offensive garbage can—breeding-place for flies, vermin and bacteria—is sweeping like a wave over the country. Newspapers, magazines, boards of health—even Uncle Sam himself, are taking up the fight. The garbage can must go!

The ESTATE Gas-Fired Incinerator

is the modern, sanitary substitute for the garbage can and trash barrel. It is installed conveniently in the kitchen or basement, requires very little space, and works without dirt, waste or odor.

The capacity of the Estate Incinerator is three-fourths of a bushel. When the appliance becomes well filled you light the gas, and in a short time the entire accumulation is reduced to a scoopful of fine ashes.

The Estate Incinerator is the first high-grade, successful incinerator to be sold at a popular price. It is not a luxury, but a sanitary necessity—something that you need and should install now.

COLUMBIA CITY MAN DIES.

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—Nicholas R. Eisaman, aged 70, a well known citizen of this city, and veteran of the civil war, passed away at his home on North Line street, Monday afternoon, death being due to cancer of the stomach. He was born in Westmoreland county, Pa., and lived quietly at home until the war broke out and then enlisted with Company H, 84th regiment Pennsylvania volunteers. He remained in the army during the entire war, and during that time was in some of the thickest and heaviest of the fighting. After the war he went back to his home in Westmoreland county, where he remained for a short time. After his parents moved to Allen county, this state he followed them to Indiana. Later on his parents moved to Whitley county and he accompanied them. He was united in marriage on August 9th, 1887, to Miss Dilla Hoosack, of this city, and to this union six children were born, among those surviving being Ray Eisaman, of Fort Wayne.

ON TRAIL OF FORGER.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Sheriff Johnston has a warrant for the arrest of Edward C. Willard, wanted here for forgery, and the police of Fort Wayne and other cities have been asked to help locate the alleged crook. The accused man, Willard, is specifically charged with having presented and received payment of a forged check calling for $8.50 at the Farling & Sons meat market, a few days ago. He represented that he was a traveling salesman for a salt firm in Cleveland, Ohio, and named three or four local parties to whom he claimed to have sold salt. Later investigation showed that none of the persons named had bought salt from him.

ROBBERIES AT PIERCETON.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—One of the most sensational robberies in the history of the county was accomplished in a daring manner last night when yeggs entered two Pierceton stores in the early morning and escaped with loot valued at more than $100. The robbers gained entrance to the Radcliff Bro.'s general store by breaking in the back door. The fireproof—but not burglar proof—safe was easy prey for the thieves at first as the heavy outer door was opened by combination. The inner, small cash chest was a stumbling block, however, but finally was pried off and $60 in cash taken. The Brosnahan hardware store was entered and the cash register rifled of more than $10 and a number of tools taken.

BOTH WILL RECOVER.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—Mrs. George Lamaster suffered no internal injuries Sunday evening when Ray Foust lost control of his jitney bus north of Banquo and it overturned, her physician said yesterday. Mr. Lamaster is the more seriously injured, but is not in a critical condition. Four ribs and his collar bone were fractured. They are at their home, 1320 Marshal street. Miss Frances Erlenbaugh, of Marshal street, who was the fourth person in the automobile, has only a few bruises to remind her of the accident. Foust also has bruises and minor cuts. Fresh gravel on the road a mile and a half north of Banquo caused the machine to leave the road.

NOBLE COUNTY CITIZEN DIES.

Albion, Ind., July 27.—David Winebrenner, age 78, prominent Noble county farmer, expired at his home near Merriman. His death was due to heart trouble and gangrene which developed in his left foot. Mr. Winebrenner was born in Pennsylvania, August 3, 1837. He had resided in Noble county for thirty years. The widow and five children survive. The children are Andrew, of Merriman; Mrs. J. S. Zumbrum, Whitley county; Mrs. Thomas Skinner, Wolf lake; Mrs. George Miller, Cromwell; Mrs. Mildred Winebrenner, of Merriman.

LARWILL HAS ROBBERY.

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—The Adams Express company office in Larwill was robbed Sunday afternoon between the hours of 5:30 and 6 o'clock and $15 belonging to Sherman Welker who conducts a news stand and looks after the express business, and $10 of the company's money was taken. The boldness of the robbery has startled the people of Larwill, and they have strong suspicions as to the guilty party.

Mr. Welker immediately notified the Express company of the loss and they have men on the field conducting a thorough investigation.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—Back wages amounting to $700 are due him for work as a farm hand at $20 a month, William Robinson asserts in a suit filed yesterday against his employer, Sarah Dunton. BURGLAR BECOMES A HERMIT.

Former Sing Sing Convict Found Living in Seclusion.

Pleasantville, N. J., July 23.—A strange recluse, living in a miserable log hut with a dirt roof in a desolate spot, a few miles from here, was discovered by a New York detective searching for a murderer from that city. The recluse was living in wretched surroundings and admitted that while he was well supplied with food he did no work. He declined to reveal his source of income, however, and admitted that he was a former convict from Sing Sing, having served a sentence as a "gentleman burglar."

The discovery of the hermit was made by Detective Allen, who recognized the man and told him a reward of $250 offered for the hunted slayer would be his if he gave information of his whereabouts. The hermit said he knew the man, but had not seen him in years. Asked why he did not return to New York, the unkempt hut dweller said he feared to return to his temptations.

Try This For Removing Hairs

Hairs on the face, arms or neck can be very easily and safely removed by a simple solution that dissolves them entirely, leaving the skin soft and smooth as velvet. Get an ounce of sulfo solution from your druggist, apply with finger tips, keeping the hairs moist for a few minutes, you will soon see them shrivel up and dissolve away. Any druggist will sell you sulfo solution; it is a little expensive, but one ounce will be all you will ever need as the hairs very rarely grow after the first application.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Genesis 50:1-13.

1 And Joseph fell upon his father's face, and wept upon him, and kissed him.

2 And Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Israel.

3 And forty days were fulfilled for him; for so are fulfilled the days of those which are emblamed: and the Egyptians mourned for him threescore and ten days.

4 And when the days of his mourning were past, Joseph spake unto the house of Pharaoh, saying, If now I have found grace in your eyes, speak, I pray you, in the ears of Pharaoh, saying,

5 My father made me swear, saying, Lo, I die: in my grave which I have digged for me in the land of Canaan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me go up, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come again.

6 And Pharaoh said, Go up, and bury thy father, according as he made thee swear.

7 And Joseph went up to bury his father: and with him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt,

8 And all the house of Joseph, and his brethren, and his father's house: only their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Goshen.

9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen: and it was a very great company.

10 And they came to the threshing floor of Atad, which is beyond Jordan, and there they mourned with a great and very sore lamentation: and he made a mourning for his father seven days.

11 And when the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, saw the mourning in the floor of Atad, they said, This is a grievous mourning to the Egyptians: wherefore the name of it was called Abel-mizraim, which is beyond Jordan.

12 And his sons did unto him according as he commanded them:

13 For his sons carried him into the land of Canaan, and buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah, which Abraham bought with the field for a possession of a buryingplace of Ephron the Hittite, before Mamre.

The Eastland Investigations

Investigations, complete and thorough, of the Eastland disaster at Chicago, are promised and some of them are under way. The federal government, the state of Illinois and the city of Chicago all purpose taking up the frightful catastrophe and making inquiry down to the last detail to determine upon whose shoulders shall rest the blame for the loss of more than one thousand lives. When all is said and done, will it be discovered that some pitiful little figure has been chosen to be the "goat" in the calamity, just as they piled the blame for the loss of the General Slocum upon the poor old captain, and as they piled the larger share of blame for the Titanic disaster upon the grave of its dead commander beneath the waters of the sea?

Investigations will be futile if they fail to go deeply and searchingly and place the blame fearlessly. The men who are manning these craft go out under orders from responsible owners. Their jobs, their salaries, their living, the living of their families, depended upon their carrying out the orders of these responsible owners. If they refuse to do so, their jobs are at an end and less scrupulous captains would have had their places.

The newest indications are that the Eastland was criminally overloaded, and that she was habitually overloaded; that again and again thousands of lives had been placed in jeopardy when the safe capacity of the craft was overtaxed in the greed for profits. Do you believe it possible there were among the responsible owners men who did not known this fact—who had not been warned of it, but who were willing to take a chance with the lives of others? Evidence is accumulating that skilled engineers had called attention to the freakish and faulty construction of the Eastland, and warned that failure to remedy the defects would end in disaster. And what of the federal inspection service? What of the officials who counted the throngs streaming into the Eastland and failed to halt the human tide before the limit of safety had been reached? Much feeling developed against Captain Pederson, of the Eastland, and he was for a time in danger of violence at the hands of the frenzied throngs gathered at the scene. Yet Captain Pederson is but a mere cog in the great machine. He can at most be charged with an infinitesimally small portion of the blame. The real responsibility for the disaster is clearly in some other quarter. Let it be hoped that some of the various investigations started will be able to find that quarter.

News from Washington is to the effect that a definite step toward settling the Mexican problem will soon be taken by the United States government, and, indeed, some such action has been forecasted for some time. No announcement is forthcoming as to the means to be employed, but it is difficult to see how any other step than actual intervention can be efficacious. For more than two years the United States, with its self-assumed responsibility of policing the North American continent, has patiently insisted that the Mexican people be permitted to adjust their own differences, and it has sought by every means short of the application of force to aid them in doing so. It is becoming clear to even the most patient of American leaders that some more radical remedy than has yet been used must be applied. That can mean but one thing, and that thing is armed intervention, with its cost in good American lives as well as dollars.

It is said that the section of the state militia now in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison for annual instruction is devoting itself to real work as never before in the history of the annual encampments. The recent shake-up given the Indiana national guard by Uncle Sam's orders may prove to have been a genuine service to that organization. There is certainly a more pronounced effort at efficiency now evident than has been manifested for some years.

The European war may end, as some prophets profess to believe, before another winter season arrives, but it will be noted that the German forethought and preparation is still in good working order. German army authorities announce officially that full provision has been made for warm underclothing, gloves and wristlets for the soldiers of the kaiser for an "eventual winter campaign."

Correspondence which is now coming to light indicates that the owners of the steamship Eastland were in violent opposition to the new seaman's bill which was designed to provide greater safety for both passengers and crews on American vessels. The disaster at Chicago would make it clear that such was the case even in the absence of documentary evidence of that fact.

ONE "BACHELOR'S DAY."

(Indiana Daily Times.)

We do not know Harry Worden, of Huntington. We do not know why he is a bachelor. We do know he ought to be one of the best daddies in Indiana. He deserves the supreme happiness that goes only with intelligent fatherhood and warm home felicity. Worden is one bachelor who has solved, in a way, the question of a "Bachelor's day."

For a few hours Thursday Worden became ex-officio the proud papa of 4,000 Huntington county little ones. It was "Worden day" in name, but it was the children's day in fact, with Worden the joyous host to romping childhood. Never did Indiana see such a day of innocent enjoyment.

Thousands of ham sandwiches, thousands of cookies, thousands of packages of crackerjack, hundreds of gallons of lemonade and 300 gallons of ice cream, all free to the young ones, and all topped off with games and contests and a fairy play with children for fairies—this was Worden's beautiful, realized, happy vision of a "Bachelor's day."

No wonder the fathers and mothers of Huntington children caught the glad spirit of the occasion and flocked, 6,000 of them, to the fair grounds, to share in the happiness of the babies. No wonder the business men, aroused to the meaning of the event, closed their shops and tagged along with the kiddies to see and to join in the fun. It is to the lasting credit of those business men that they doffed dignity, put on aprons and slaved in the sun to make the children happy and to fill them with the sweets of "Worden day."

For once Worden and the children had absolute sway. Toiling in relays, the best citizens of Huntington bowed before sentiment and ran hither and thither bearing viands to small boys and American princesses.

Worden, though childless, teaches the parents of children a wholesome lesson. In this second annual celebration of the meaning and beauty of childhood Worden reminds fathers and mothers that girls and boys, both large and small, babies and all, are large, and vital factors in home life. Further, Worden's tribute of love to all children may serve to teach many parents that a little more unashamed affection and softness toward the little ones; a little more frank, open consideration for the entertainment and for the reasonable desires of the babies would be not only worth while, but helpful.

It is not difficult to win and hold the love of a child. On the other hand one may quickly forfeit the respect and regard of a youngster and later find it is difficult to regain the old affection.

Worden seems to be a natural born daddy. Our hat is off to him. We join the children in congratulating him. We felicitate Huntington on having a citizen who owns a heart and mind capable of conceiving and carrying out such a joy enterprise as that lovingly called "Worden day."

UTILIZING WEST POINT.

(Milwaukee Wisconsin.)

When Speaker Champ Clark, at San Francisco the other day expressed his views on national defense he avowed himself in favor of doubling the number of cadets at West Point and also of making provision that would enable any boy possessing prescribed qualifications to secure education on reasonable terms either at West Point or Annapolis.

Gen. King, at Camp Douglas, said that the greatest need now is to see that West Point is employed to its full capacity. The academy could graduate four times as many finished soldiers as it does, if it were fed with sufficient material, and the country would feel safer in times of emergency with the knowledge that the output of this school of trained military men able to officer the citizen armies was not as at present 250, but 1,000 men a year.

Gen. King does not think that a second military academy, located in the west, would give results as good as are obtained at the institution haloed with tradition on the Hudson.

Far better than maintenance of a large standing army would be provisions for the drilling of soldiers on brief notice and for their command when drilled by men technically skilled in the art of war. The idea of utilizing West Point to its full capacity is a good one.

WILL NOT HAVE TO INSURE TEACHERS

New Workmen's Compensation Act Does Not Affect Public Schools.

J. N. Study, superintendent of the schools of Fort Wayne, is in receipt of a letter from the state board of accounts to the effect that school officials will not be compelled to insure teachers and that they do not come under the workmen's compensation law passed by the last legislature.

The letter was read to the members of the school board at their meeting Monday afternoon and is as follows:

"It is not compulsory on public officials to take out insurance under the workmen's compensation law enacted by the legislature of 1915. This is the decision of the industrial board of Indiana in Rule XV. All letters, circulars and representations to the contrary should be discharged by all township trustees, county highway superintendents, county commissioners, city and town school corporations, civil cities and towns, municipal-owned corporations, state institutions and state boards and officials."

The board reappointed all the medical inspectors as follows: Dr. Charles R. Dancer, chief medical inspector, and Drs. I. W. Ditton and Frederick J. Schulz.

Superintendent Study reported that the members of the advisory board of the vocational school had gone through the new Harmer school and had made notations of the many conveniences the building will afford for vocational work.

The Fort Wayne Special Furniture works was given the contract for eighteen teachers' desks and one principal's desk. Sixteen of these desks and the principal's desk are for the new Harmar school, while the other two teachers' desks are for the Lakeside Normal school. Six are to be furnished in oak and twelve in mahogany.

Hattersley & Sons, who were the lowest bidders for installing new lavatories at the Lakeside school, were awarded the permanent contract.

AT THE TEMPLE.

TRUTH OPENS EYES.

"Ready Money" Ryder in "Lion and Mouse" Human Under Surface.

Truth as an eye-opener is potent. This fact is exemplified in the finance drama, "The Lion and the Mouse," in which "Ready Money" Rider, blinded by the power of his money and his financial connections, finds himself suddenly enmeshed in the folds of a domestic revolution, headed by his son, Jefferson Ryder, who does not hesitate to speak his mind to his father relative to the latter's ruthless campaign against Judge Rossmore's character. Jefferson, however, is too much of a chip off the old block to accomplish any definite results. His straight-from-the-shoulder attack is parried and then met by similar weapons, but when Shirley Rossmore, the talented daughter of the judge, taken into the confidence of "Ready Money" Ryder exercises her woman's wits, she finds a way through scornful truth to bring the money king to his knees as he sees reflected a true image of himself in the biting arraignment this girl presents. The drama is one of Charles Klein's, written round the exposures of interference by big capital with the governmental functions of the United States senate and the judicial activities of our Federal courts.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

BEAUTIFUL LENORE ULRICH.

Star of "The Bird of Paradise," at Jefferson—Pathe Pictorial News.

Lenore Ulrich is ideal as "Kilmeny," a child of aristocratic parentage who grows up from 6 to 18 with roving gypsies, becoming probably as beautiful and touching a character in her supreme love of living things of wood and stream as has ever been portrayed upon the screen. At the same time the role is distinctly amusing, and it would be hard to conceive anything funnier than "Kilmeny's" return to society as represented by Lord Leigh's manor. The novelty of electric light switches which push on and off, fickle shower baths and hardwood floors which yield a beautiful sliding surface for a rug-craft, are comedy opportunities of which Lenore Ulrich takes full advantage. She is a veritable little tornado of fun.

The Pathe Pictorial News, which is an invariable attraction on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, is shown with "Kilmeny." Thursday and Friday bring Hazel Dawn to the Jefferson in "Gambier's Advocate," presented with a brilliant supporting cast, including James Kirkwood, Maude Odell, Robert Broderick and Fuller Mellish. Monday, Marguerite Clark is in Margaret Delano's "Seven Sisters."

EASTLAND SCENES HERE.

Views of Chicago Disaster to Be Shown at New Palace Soon.

The tragic scenes that ensued immediately after the great lake steamer Eastland had rolled over on her side in the Chicago river last Saturday morning, carrying over 1,000 happy excursionists to their deaths, will be re-enacted at the New Palace theater the last two days of the week, when the Tribune views of the horror will be exhibited. The profits from these films will be devoted to the relief of the families left destitute by being deprived of their bread earners.

The films were made by the Tribune's own camera men, artists skilled in selecting the thrilling subjects and schooled on the battlefields of Europe and Mexico to remain cool in danger and excitement.

ALL ARE GUESSING ON WILSON'S MOVE

No Hint of Course With Regard to Mexico is Revealed.

Washington, July 27.—Official announcement that the United States government shortly would make a definite move to solve the Mexican problem led to some speculation here today as to just what course would be pursued. The announcement did not reveal the nature of teh action planned.

President Wilson has been giving close study to the Mexican situation, particularly since the heads of the warring factions have failed to heed his warning to settle their differences and bring peace to the troubled republic. The president, it is said, was weighing carefully several suggested courses, but an announcement of his decision likely will not be made until after his return from Cornish, N. H.

The most probable step, it was said, will be to make a final plea to Gen. Carranza to confer with other factional leaders in an effort to restore peace. Failing in this, conferences of other Mexican chiefs will be urged. A government formed by them might be recognized by the United States and aid given to maintain it.

attack on the presidential residence was the chief of police of Port Au Prince. The exact number of casualties has not yet been determined but it is believed to be heavy.

At 10:30 the rifle firing was about over and officials and citizens went out upon the streets to take stock of the damage in lives and property.

By noon the city was in the possession of revolutionists. The movement was started by a regiment of soldiers who had been disbanded by President Guillaume and who resented this treatment.

Reign of Terror.

There has been a reign of terror in Port Au Prince for the past ten days. On the 17th of July President Guillaume, doubtless realizing that his fall was but a question of a few days, started on a series of persecutions. He began by causing the arrest of all Haitiens of any wealth or position, without distinction of age or sex and expelling all foreigners. He apparently recognized the fact that the spirit of revolution was growing and that he knew the rebels were marching on the capital. Haitien women have been arrested on the streets and taken away to prison. On July 17 a French actress, Madame Taldy, was treated in this arbitrary manner. The prisons of the city are full and the conditions in them are deplorable. Prisoners die daily as a result of hunger and the unsanitary conditions in which they are compelled to live. The foreign legations hold many refugees.

The present revolution in Haiti has been going on for several months. The purpose of it is to drive out President Guillaume and set up in his stead Dr. Rosalvo Bobo. Up to the present time the fighting has been largely on the northern coast of the island, but the outbreak of today brings it into the capital on the southern side.

Rear Admiral Caperton, U. S. N., has been in command of the American cruiser Washington in Haitien waters since early in July. The French also have had a cruiser on the Haitian coast. The American vessel was sent to afford protection to American interests. Admiral Caperton about two weeks ago landed marines at Cape Haitien on the north coast to protect foreign interests. The Bobo revolt was declared a few days after Gen. Guillaume was proclaimed president of the republic last March. Dr. Bobo raised a force of men and captured Cape Haitien. Later the Guillaume forces retook Cape Haitien and then Bobo captured it a second time.

the country were present at the opening session. Among the distinguished visitors is Rev. Eisseld, of River Grove, Ill., founder of the Lutheran Children's Friends society.

Services will be held in all the Lutheran churches in the city Tuesday evening, the pulpits to be occupied by visiting ministers as follows: Redeemer, Rev. August Schlechte, in charge of the Chicago Lutheran Rescue mission; St. Paul, Rev. Jauss, superintendent of the Lutheran institution for epileptics at Watertown, Wis.; Trinity, Rev. C. Franke, in charge of the Buffalo Lutheran city mission; Emmaus, Rev. H. Hartman, superintendent of the Iowa Children's Friend society's institution at Fort Dodge, Ia.; Zion, Rev. H. Herzberger, of St. Louis; Concordia, Rev. Eisseld, of River Grove, Ill., founder of the Lutheran Children's Friend society; Emmanuel, Rev. F. Rudi, superintendent of the Lutheran hospital at St. Louis.

The evening services will begin at 7:45 o'clock, and the proceeds from the offerings will be divided among the following institutions: Lutheran sanitarium, Denver, Colo.; institution for the deaf and dumb at Detroit, Mich., home for epileptics and feeble-minded persons at Watertown, Wis., and for other charitable purposes.

President Makes Report.

One of the features of the session Tuesday morning was the report of President Wambsganss in which he briefly reviewed the work of the year and urged even greater things during the coming year.

An interesting paper was read just before adjournment at the noon hour by Prof. Dau on "Charity and Its Relation to the Work of the Church."

A sumptuous dinner was served by the ladies' committee at 12 o'clock. Between seventy-five and eighty were served.

Represent Fifty-four Institutions.

According to figures compiled by Rev. F. M. Rudi, official statistican of the organization, the fifty-four institutions represented by the delegates to the convention include eleven hospitals, eleven orphanages, eight homes for the aged, fourteen children's friends' societies, one school for the feeble-minded, one school for the deaf and dumb and other institutions representing a total estimated valuation of close to $1,500,000. A total of 7,319 patients have been cared for during the past year in the eleven hospitals, with a total number of 429 beds. The total number of orphans in the care of the synod is 441, of whom eighty-nine were admitted during the past year. A total of 328 children were cared for by the children's friends' associations. Of this number 150 were placed in homes or adopted, while 147 are being cared for in the synod's institutions. The total number of inmates in the homes for the aged is 389, while 143 patients are being cared for in the homes for the feeble-minded and deaf and dumb.

STILL RAGING AFTER 7 DAYS

Adriatic between Senigallia, sixteen miles northwest of Ancona and Pezaro. At the same time several shells were thrown into the villages of Fano and Senigallia.

At the same hour two hydroaeroplanes dropped bombs on Ancona. Neither bombardment killed or wounded any one, and the damage inflicted was slight.

ITALIAN GENERAL SLAIN.

Udine, Italy, July 26.—(Via Paris, July 27.)—Gen. Antonio Cantore has been killed in battle on the Isonzo front. He is the first officer of that rank lost by Italy. He won a general's commission by the heroism he displayed during operations in Tripoli.

Gen. Cantore had charge of actions which resulted in the occupation of Ala and other villages near Rovreto in Trentino. Armed only with a riding whip he directed his men from the most exposed positions, declaring he would be ashamed to run less risk than his soldiers.

them to say that to the grand jury and to any other properly constituted authority that the department of commerce and the steamboat inspection service have nothing to fear or to conceal, that it desires the fullest possible light thrown upon every detail of its work and organization.

"Such an inquiry cannot be too sharp and keen to please the steamboat inspection service and the department. They were told to lay everything in their possession and knowledge before the state grand jury or any other legal body desiring information. They were instructed to say to the state grand jury that I will willingly appear before anybody to give them any information in my possession.

"They were also instructed to say to the state grand jury that since the local inspectors at Grand Haven, Mich., who inspected the Eastland, were possibly outside the jurisdiction of the state of Illinois, I would at once order them here for examination by the state grand jury if that body desires it done.

"I also instructed them to say that the supervising inspector at Cleveland who had the vessel under his care for some years and is possibly outside the state jurisdiction, will be summoned here if the state grand jury or any other body or person having authority wishes it.

Captain Westcott's Record.

"Captain Westcott was originally appointed to the steamboat inspection service by President Harrison. He was removed by President Cleveland and reappointed by President McKinley, and has served continuously ever since. No charges of any kind have ever been made against him.

"His father was a shipbuilder and he, himself, as a young man, was actively engaged in the construction of vessels. At the time of his appointment as supervising inspector, he held a first-class master's license, and was in command of a lake steamer and drawing one of the biggest salaries for that work on the lakes.

"The local inspectors are all appointed under civil service. They are selected from the list prepared by the civil service commission after the examination provided by law had been held by that body.

"The statement seems to have been made that the supervising inspectors have been appointed at the instance of the steamboat owners. This is wholly untrue. No supervising inspectors have been appointed in the lake districts under the present administration because upon careful inquiry I decided that the present officials were doing their work conscientiously and well.

"Where appointments have been made by the present administration it has never been at the instance of any vessel owner or steamboat company. Indeed in one important case an appointment was made with their very strong opposition.

"The records of the service in all of these matters are open for all to read."

Secretary Redfield, following President Wilson's request for a thorough investigation, is prepared to go into the case independently of the federal steamboat inspection service, but will announce his conclusion when he has had time to make a personal examination of conditions.

Eight Inquiries Under Way.

With the entry of the cabinet member into the case, not less than eight separate investigations are in progress or contemplated with the situation complicated by a clash between States Attorney Hoyne and federal authorities over the possession of evidence gathered by the Chicago police and which the latter on demand turned over to the government agents for presentation to the federal grand jury.

The county grand jury started its hearing at the criminal court building and the coroner's jury began the taking of testimony at the county building. United States District Attorney Clyne began the calling of witnesses for the federal grand jury. The harbor and wharves committee of the city council began its investigation and the state public utilities committee is considering the question of starting an inquiry. Gov. Dunne has been urged to call a special session of the legislature and the sanitary district board will meet Thursday to appoint an investigating board.

Total Dead Yet Unknown.

Bids for the raising of the Eastland will be received today, and, until this work is completed, it is probable that the number of lives lost in the disaster cannot be definitely computed. A number of bodies are known to be in the hull of the vessel, but divers have been unable to reach them. Coroner Hoffman declares that he has no way of computing the number of unrecovered dead. Late estimates place the total dead at between 1,000 and 1,200.

State's Attorney Hoyne declared that Captain Pederson, of the Eastland, told him that Federal sanction for increasing the boat's carrying capacity without change in construction was "arranged," and that he (Pederson), was told to go to Grand Haven, Mich., and get the certificate.

Completion of a relief fund of $300,000 for the aid of the families of the victims is expected to be attained before the close of the day.

Home Has Not Been Entered.

A house at 2301 South Kolin avenue, has not been entered since the Eastland capsized. Two families, consisting of seven persons, lived in the house, and all are either dead or missing. A wagon drove to the residence with two bodies, but there was no one there to receive them.

Insurance managers estimate that between 50 and 75 per cent of the Eastland victims carried policies, the average amount being $300. They say $500,000 will be paid to families of victims during the week. Several of the skilled workers of the Western Electric company carried policies of $5,000. Several Chicago representatives of the insurance companies have omitted the customary red tape and started to pay the claims. In several cases these payments have prevented applications to relief institutions. Some insurance men have not waited for claims to be presented, but sent their forces of collectors to find the beneficiaries.

Fighter Among Victims.

The body of Eddie Bartlett, well known as a fighter in the bare knuckle days, has been identified among the victims of the Eastland. He was employed on the boat and his body was laid beside that of Joe Bertrand, former bantam boxer, who also perished in the disaster. Bartlett prepared Harry Gilmore for his bare knuckle fight with Jack McAuliffe at Lawrence, Mass., in 1887. His last ring appearance was with Tommy Ryan, at Whiting, Ind., in the early '90s.

Thinks Tug Caused It.

William H. Hull, general manager of the company which owns the Eastland, advances the theory that the vessel was overturned by the pulling of a tug that had been engaged to pilot it to open water.

"My theory is that the boat was resting on the bottom of the river," he said, "then, when the tug pulled, over she went. The river probably was not deep enough at that point for the Eastland. We have plenty of water at our own dock, but perhaps the river had filled in at the place she was docked Saturday. My information is that a rear line was fast and that it pulled off the cap of the piling when the tug pulled. When the piling gave way the tug pulled over the boat in a hurry. If that theory is not right, I have not the slightest idea of what caused the accident. The boat was safe. It wasn't the boat."

Scores of Funerals.

Scores of funerals today passed through the streets of Cicero and other west side suburbs that suffered heavily in the Eastland disaster. Tomorrow, which will see the passing of many more of these silent processions, has been named "Black Wednesday" in Cicero.

Free funeral service has been provided for those families left destitute and plans have been completed for community funeral services tomorrow in the various churches of Cicero and neighboring suburbs.

Taking of testimony at the coroner's inquest as to the cause of the disaster was begun today. First to arrive were members of the crew under guard of policemen. No charge has been formally placed against the men, who are being detained as witnesses.

The coroner's jury was empanelled last Saturday and later inspected the steamer and the bodies of the victims. Representatives of State's Attorney Hoyne, owners of the steamer and scores of lawyers, who appeared in behalf of various interests, occupied seats near Coroner Hoffman.

Passenger First Witness.

The first witness called was Robert Moore, a passenger on the Eastland. Moore said he arrived at the Eastland at 7 o'clock in the morning and was on the boat when it overturned.

He was asked by Coroner Hoffman to describe what he saw.

"As I went on board I saw a great quantity of water rushing out of a pipe on the side of the boat. The first sign of listing I saw at about 7:15. I was on a rail on the second deck and the refrigerator in the bar toppled over. There were eight or ten minutes' interval between the time the boat began listing badly and the time it finally overturned.

"There was ample time I think to have emptied the boat had the warning been given.

"There was no warning. When the boat went over I was thrown into the water and was rescued with a number of others." The witness said that all the decks were crowded, particularly the upper deck, and declared positively that there was no rush across the deck before the boat overturned.

"There was no excitement," said the witness, "until the list became dangerous."

Daniel W. Gee, one of the committee of Western Electric company employees which arranged for steamers to carry the excursionists to Michigan City, was the next witness.

The contract between the Indiana Transportation company and the employe's committee, was read into the record.

Mr. Gee said that 6,900 full-fare tickets were sold at $1 each, and several hundred half-fare tickets. The contract called for a rebate of 50 cents a ticket on all tickets in excess of 4,000.

"I noticed the Eastland was listing, but not more than I had often seen in other boats," said Gee. "I did not see the boat capsize, as I was at another part of the dock at the time."

Gee said children under 5 years of age were to be carried free, but that no list was kept of the children. One adult ticket was honored for two children, he said.

MRS. POINSETTE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Hard-Fought Case Ends in a Victory for the Young Wife.

After having had the case under advisement for several days in the hope that a reconciliation might be possible and finding that no such happy consummation was at all probable, Judge Yaple in the superior court on Tuesday granted a decree of divorce to Georgia Poinsette from Henry J. Poinsette, awarded her $100 alimony, gave her the custody of a minor child and ordered the father to pay $7 a week for its support. The case was one of the most bitterly contested heard in the superior court. The parties are young.

Two Suits Are Combined.

The suit of Lola Bertha Moore against Jesse Moore for divorce and her suit against him for $1,000 damages were combined in the superior court Tuesday and heard together, the evidence of the one being practically the same in the other. Mrs. Moore alleges that on the night of May 4 her husband came home drunk and after abusing her and driving her out of the house he set fire to the dwelling, it being destroyed with its contents. She claims ownership of the house and furniture.

Wants to Show Him Up.

In a second paragraph of a divorce complaint filed by Loretta L. Taylor against William N. Taylor, the plaintiff asks the superior court to order her an allowance of $250 attorney's fees and $100 to take depositions in order to procure evidence at Lebana, Moorsville and Indianapolis to the effect that it was mainly by her own labors that the Taylor property was accumulated and that such labor ruined her health. She says that she worked like a man—doing more than her husband, who would not work—to pay for three different farms they purchased, selling the first to buy the second and the second to buy the third, and that after they sold the last one she conducted a rooming house in Indianapolis until she was compelled to go to a sanitarium. She wants a divorce, her maiden name and $2,000 alimony. She has lately been employed at the state home for feeble-minded youth near Fort Wayne.

Notes of the Courts.

The suit of Barney Hessert vs. Henry C. Kanning and Henry Hachmeier has been dismissed from the superior court.

Upon citation for contempt in the superior court, where he has a divorce suit pending against his wife, Ida A. Miller, it was shown by Frank P. Miller, Tuesday, that he has the ability to make the payments ordered by the court and he promised to do so. He was ordered to do so or suffer the consequences.

The suit of Addison Herrick vs. one Ostermeyer, first name unknown, and Jennie Braybrook, has been dismissed from the superior court and the restraining order was dissolved. The plaintiff got an injunction to prevent the defendants from interfering with him in harvesting crops he had planted on land belonging to Jennie Braybrook.

Harry R. Spurling, Charles W. Sperry and Archie W. Spurling, all of Fort Wayne, are the incorporators and directors of the company.

COUNCIL LIKELY TO INSIST ON EXPERT

Willing to Name Committee to Confer on Garbage Disposal.

That the majority of the city council would be likely to stand pat on the resolution adopted a week ago asking the board of works to employ a garbage engineer to survey conditions here before the board should proceed with any steps for an additional garbage crematory was the belief Tuesday of a majority of the members who supported the resolutions. The matter is to come up Tuesday evening in the report of the committee of the whole on the proposal to buy property in the southwest part of the city on which to locate a second crematory. The members who voted for the resolution are, however, willing to modify the report so as to provide that a committee of three councilmen, appointed by the president of the body, shall work with the board for a solution of the garbage problem.

TO CUT TRACK LEVY 3 CENTS.

That and Lopping Off Garbage Levy Would Save Budget Some.

That the proposal of the city council to cut down the track elevation levy from 10 cents to 5 cents may be compromised by the administration by consenting to a cut of 3 cents, making it 7 cents, is a probability. This with the 3 cents carried for the garbage disposal fund started three years ago would give 6 cents for distribution among other funds and relieve Comptroller W. C. Baade from necessity to do too much pruning of the departmental budgets, a labor upon which he has already begun in a tentative way. Comptroller Baade says that his experimental work with the financial knife shows that he will have to cut about $30,000 from the budgets to get inside the money this year's tax valuation will produce with a total levy of $1.16 per $100, which the present council is pledged by the last democratic platform not to exceed during its term. The comptroller will send his budgets to the council at the first meeting in August, and expects to get the appropriation ordinances together with the tax levy must be passed before the first of September.

WOULD HAVE BREAD WRAPPED.

Health Department Will Soon Send an Ordinance to Council.

Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, president of the board of health, says the board will have the city attorney prepare for early introduction to the city council an ordinance to require that all bread sold in Fort Wayne be wrapped in a sanitary fashion at the place of its manufacture. Such an ordinance was started on its way several years ago, but never got very far. The board of health takes the view that since all bread sold must be wrapped either at the bakery or the place where it is retailed and that the expense of doing it sanitarily is probably less at the bakeries than at the retailers the ordinance will work no hardship. A number of the local bakeries have for a good while been wrapping their bread in a sanitary manner.

Another ordinance the board of health will send to the council will provide that all soda fountains in the city shall be licensed, the ordinance to be drawn in such wise as will bring the soda fountains within the regulations of the state board of health.

MAYOR WINS IN CONTEST.

In a contest for a stake of $1,000 Mayor Hosey has won out over City Comptroller W. C. Baade and Tuesday evening an ordinance will go to the city council to appropriate $1,000 from the general fund to the new street intersection fund to pay the city's portion of the paving of Wayne trace from New Haven avenue to the city limits. The mayor is very anxious to get that improvement accomplished this year, but when the subject of another paving raid on the general fund was broached Comptroller Baade more than shook his head doubtfully; he said "Nothing more doing this year." However, the mayor made his case so strong that the comptroller yielded and that $1,000 will be forthcoming unless the council objects. This is understood, however, to be the final, the very ultimate drag on the general fund for paving this year.

HEARINGS FIXED BY BOARD.

The board of works at its Monday meeting fixed Aug. 12 as the date for hearings on the assessment rolls for new cement sidewalks on both sides of Elmwood avenue, St. Joe boulevard to Tecumseh street, and on both sides of Nelson street, Woodlawn to Jefferson.

PARK BOARD ABANDONS MEETING.

No meeting of the park board was held Tuesday afternoon because three of the four members—Louis Fox, Prof. Louis Dorn and Abe Ackerman—were out of the city. No business of special consequence was scheduled for the afternoon.

HAS BIDS UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Eight bids received Monday afternoon by the board of works for furnishing 1,000 tons of coal to the garbage crematory have been taken under advisement by the board until the best bid can be determined.

OBJECT TO SEWER.

Louis C. Zollinger, O. W. and Herman C. Tresselt and Robert L. Carnahan conferred with the board of works Tuesday concerning the construction of a sewer from Superior street to the Carnahan property south of the baseball park, designed to drain the Carnahan property. Messrs. Zollinger and the Tresselts, through whose property the sewer would pass, strongly objected to the drain. The question of opening Duck street from Clinton street through to Calhoun, was discussed. No conclusions were reached on either proposal.

Cornish, N. H., July 27—President Wilson gave up his usual morning game of golf today and was at work on official business received from Washington soon after breakfast. CUBS DROP SECOND GAME TO SMOKES

And It All Happens After Two Outs in the Ninth.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 27.—Wheeling took the second game of the series from Fort Wayne yesterday when Neale hit Reilley across the plate in the ninth with two down. The final score was 3 and 2. Red Hart flung for Fort Wayne and hurled a very pretty little game, but it was only in that last frame when the Wheelingites got to him right.

Fort Wayne got its pair of runs in the sixth when Holderman opened with a single and was followed by Bratchi, who singled, too. Brubaker forced Bratchi but Holderman got third on the out, and scored on a passed ball. Hartle finished with a double that scored Brubaker. The score:

FIRST DAY RESULTS AT TENNIS TOURNEY

Rain Spoils Morning Events for the Second Day—The Scores.

With a score of tennis stars on deck from out of the city and a like number of local favorites in action, the northern Indiana tennis tourney opened Monday at the Fort Wayne Country club. From the early morning with its unpleasant gray to the sunshine of late afternoon the courts were always filled, and some mighty interesting matches came off. Tuesday morning a light drizzle held up the play.

Orne, the grand old man of tennis, was on the job all day, and played like a fiend. He is a personage far from petite, and the manner in which he gets over the courts is a matter of envy to the fat fellows along the side lines. Of course Trask was there, brown goggles, handkerchief, blazer and enthusiasm, the same Charlie Trask he was last year. McKrell, of Pittsburg, another old local favorite, defeated Gilbert in the first round, and Swayne, a newcomer from Philadelphia, who is considerable tennis bug in the east, looks good to stay right on through to the finals.

The scores yesterday were:

George Gawehn won from V. Nicholson, default.

T. Hendricks won from D. S. McClure, 6-3, 6-3.

J. C. Mackrell won from H. H. Gilbert, 6-3, 6-2.

C. Burton won from E. Gawehn, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0.

J. Virdon won from H. Orne, 6-2, 6-4.

P. McNagny won from M. Mulholland, 6-2, 6-3.

C. P. Trask won from Dr. Humes, 6-0, 6-1.

J. Hennessey won from Dr. Miles Porter, jr., 6-3, 9-7.

F. Bastian won from John Schwieters, 6-0, 6-0.

L. Baker won from A. Troemel, 6-0, 6-3.

N. W. Swayne won from J. Berghoff, 6-0, 6-2.

R. Bastian won from C. Berghoff, 8-6, 6-0.

R. Fisher won from D. W. Furnas, 8-6, 6-3.

Only three arrests were made in northern Indiana last week for violation of the Indiana game laws.

Another complaint for non-payment of road tax was filed by Trustee Henry P. Scherer, of Wayne township, Monday, making a total of seven he has filed. Judgments against six have already been granted.

White Dress Parade Robison Park, Wednesday, August 4th

The annual White Dress Parade will be held at Robison park on Wednesday, August 4. Should the day be stormy and rain be falling up to 12 o'clock noon, the fete will be postponed till the next fair day. As in former years, the street car fare will be 5c for boys and girls from any part of Fort Wayne to Robison park and 5c for the return, making 10 for the round trip.

Registrations are not required and a simple white dress is all that is necessary to enter the parade. Dresses are not considered by the judges in the selection of Queen and Maids of Honor. Purity, Simplicity and Innocence are the keynotes of the White Dress Parade and every girl in Fort Wayne and Allen county, between the ages of 5 and 16 years, is invited. The line-up will begin at 3:00 p. m. and girls will march four abreast. The White Dress spectacle is easily the park's most brilliant event. Two thousand one hundred and twenty-one snow-clad girls, each one carrying an American flag, marched in the parade last year.

MILLIONAIRES TO BUILD PRIVATE TRACKS

Horse racing may fall under the ban of public disapproval or under the disapproval of the law, but if a man wants to build a race track, stables and stands, buy horses, employ trainers, grooms and jockeys and hold private race meetings with friends as guests, there is nothing to prevent it.

And if anyone wants to bet a couple of ten thousand dollar bills it can be done without a bookmaker.

This is the latest development in country life around Washington. Several young multi-millionaires who amuse themselves in society at the capital are investing in estates in the Virginia hills and having race tracks laid out. Invitation meets are to be held for the pleasure and excitement of the society set.

The latest is E. R. McLean, whose family millions were linked with those of the Walsh family when he married. He is an enthusiastic sportsman. His first love has been baseball, and it is said he has tried to buy a major league club to use as a plaything.

The race fad seems to have appealed to him. He is having a track built at an estate at Leesburg, Va., about an hour's motor ride from Washington.

McLean will invite friends to enter horses. New Yorkers and members of famous hunt clubs will have entries.

The chief event of the first meeting, according to plans, will be a steeplechase with a purse of $1,000 added.

One feature that will give a touch of English country racing will be a race, part of which will be run over a timbered hunting course.

Work was given in the first and second degrees to a large class of candidates by Phoenix lodge No. 101 Monday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall. Following the exemplification of work a smoker was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

CROWDING WORK ON BIG STORE HOUSE

Electric Plant Addition Will Be Enclosed Before Snow Flies.

"We will have from 150 to 200 men engaged in building the foundation for the warehouse for the Fort Wayne Electric works in a few days," said E. N. Franklin, manager for Bentley & Sons, of Toledo, the general contractors. "William L. Griebel, the subcontractor on excavation, has practically completed that work, and we have about sixty men engaged in preparing the trenches for the reception of the concrete foundation. These are all the men we can handle until the balance of our equipment arrives, which will be in a few days," continued Mr. Franklin. "When it arrives, we will push the work with a view of completing the foundation in ten days," added Mr. Franklin. The Fort Wayne Electric works, which will have charge of the wiring, has assigned H. B. McGuire, one of its construction men, to the work, and he will remain with it, carrying it along as rapidly as possible, so it will be finished simultaneously with the construction work on the building. A large office, material and tool house is being erected at the northeast corner of the building site, adjacent to the Pennsylvania tracks.

GROCERY CLERKS IN FEDERATION.

Delegates Admitted to the Central Labor Body.

One of the important features of the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night was the admission of Delegates R. Masterson, E. C. Kilbiger, Miss O. Wynkeken, C. B. Weaver, and H. C. Hull, of the Grocery Clerks' union, which was recently organized. The charter of this union will remain open for sixty days, and it was announced that the meetings will be held Thursday night, instead of Monday night, hereafter. Another important event in labor union circles, which was announced at the meeting of the Federation, was the temporary organization of the local union of jitney drivers and chauffeurs generally in Fort Wayne. This was effected last night when eighteen of the jitney bus drivers met as the result of the work of General Organizer Thomas H. Flynn and the organizing committee of the Federation, composed of Clayton E. Johnson, J. C. Werkman, E. T. Drew, J. J. Perry and C. E. Redrup. It was announced that an active campaign would be waged during the next few days, and that it was expected to have a 100 per cent organization. Another meeting will be held this evening. Other matters to come before the Federation were the reading of an invitation to send delegates to the Peace Congress at San Francisco, which will be held October 10, 11 and 12; the report of the men engaged in the campaign in the interest of the Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and other movements of a similar character, including the results obtained from the committee work with the school board on the vocational question of commercial course at the High school.

WILL OPPOSE COMPENSATION LAW

Large yellow cards on all the bulletins of the Pennsylvania shops and elsewhere tell the employes that the company will refuse to pay compensation for injuries or death of employes as provided by the Indiana workmen's compensation act. The bulletin bears the name of the Pennsylvania company, by J. J. Turner, vice-president, and reads as follows: "To the Employes of the Undersigned and the Industrial Board of Indiana: You and each of you are hereby notified that the undersigned employer, being engaged in a business or occupation comprehended within the scope and meaning of an act of the general assembly of the state of Indiana approved March 8 and known as the Indiana workmen's compensation act and having employes engaged in said business does hereby elect to reject the provisions of said act and to refuse to pay compensation for injuries to or the death of said employes as in said act provided. Postoffice address of employer: General Office, Pennsylvania Station, Pittsburg, Pa."

FORGING BUSINESS BETTER.

Business at the blacksmith shop of the Bass Foundry and Machine company is showing a disposition to improve. Foreman Joseph Slater said this morning that some pretty good orders had been placed on the books during the past week and if the improvement continues, it will not be long until the shop will be running with a full force. There is also an improvement in the machine shop, though Foreman Thomas Blythe has not taken on any new men for several months. The boiler shop, as stated before, is running day and night with all the men it can handle. This department booked another order yesterday, through W. A. Barrett. It was a boiler for the Kneipp sanitarium, at Rome City, where the heating and power plant is being reconstructed. In 1907 the Bass company put in two boilers, which will remain a part of the new plant.

HEAVY TRAVEL ON PENNSY.

The Pennsylvania is enjoying a good passenger business at present. Tonight there will be two extra sleepers on train No. 25, carrying the New York National ball team to Chicago. Tomorrow a special train running as second No. 25 will carry the Keystone state infantry to Chicago, where it will be delivered to a western road and taken to the coast. No. 19 tomorrow will carry Vice-President J. M. Schoonmaker and party in a Pittsburg and Lake Erie private car. They are going to the Panama-Pacific exposition, and tomorrow No. 40 will have two extra cars occupied by the Kistler and Marshall touring party, on their return from the exposition.

WHERE SAFETY FIRST STARTED.

The origin of the safety first practice is a matter of doubt, several railroads claiming the honor. Among them is the Cumberland Valley road, which is a part of the Pennsylvania road system, which at a meeting of the board of directors in 1838 passed the following resolution: "That no person shall be employed or continued in the service of the board whose habits of intemperance, either permanent or occasional, or such as to hazard the safety of passengers upon the road or property carried upon it—and that the board hereby charge the chief engineer and his assistants with the special duty of enforcing attention to this resolution."

ENGINEERS SEEK RETIREMENT.

It was learned at the Pennsylvania Relief Department offices yesterday that Benjamin F. Campbell and William L. Scott would retire soon. Mr. Campbell will retire December 1 by reason of reaching the age of 70, and Mr. Scott will seek retirement under the clause that permits between the ages of 65 and 70 when the applicant has become incapacitated by sickness or injury. Mr. Scott became a fireman on the Pennsylvania April 4, 1882, and Mr. Campbell entered the service as a fireman December 17, 1883. Both have been engineers many years.

NEW MOTOR ON FIRST TRIP.

The motor car received here Friday by the local Wabash people, started today for Toledo, its first big trip over the line. It carried Division Engineer W. S. Danes, Assistant Engineer C. E. Danes and Division Storekeeper E. L. Ensel. This car is a reconstructed Reo automobile. Wheels built for a hand car carry it and there are some other changes, particularly in the body, but it has the gearing and other attachments of an auto and is said to be able to reel off miles at the rate of forty-five miles an hour.

AN ALL DAY PICNIC.

Kekionga Aid society, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, will be entertained by Mrs. T. P. O'Connell at her cottage in Rome City next Thursday with an all day picnic. All members are requested to be at Pennsylvania passenger station at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, prepared to take the G. R. & I. train to Rome City.

Supt. B. H. Hudson and Chief Clerk Charles H. Tongsing, of the G. R. & I., are at Grand Rapids on business for the company. Commercial Agent E. O. Wagner, of the same line, is in Chicago on business today.

O. Cooper, switchboard engineer at the Fort Wayne Electric works, has returned from Toronto, Ont., where he spent a two weeks' vacation. L. M. Garman, production clerk, has also returned to work after a two weeks' sojourn at Lake James.

J. Mole, employed as a laborer at the Pennsylvania machine shops a number of years, resigned this morning. He has a cancer on his face and will go to New York to have it removed by a specialist, who is also an Italian. Later Mr. Mole may return to Italy to take up arms in her behalf.

Nickel Plate engines are again taking water at Bellevue, after they were supplied at Old Fort and the Huron river for several weeks on account of a shortage at Bellevue. Recent rains have filled the reservoir with water and no further shortage is expected for some weeks.

Conductor Charles Cole, of the L. E. & W., was taken violently ill at Bluffton yesterday, while making his usual local freight run over the line. He was attended by Dr. L. H. Cook, and then brought to his home, 1307 Orchard street, in an automobile. His condition is greatly improved. Brakeman Gray assumed charge of the train when Conductor Cole was taken ill.

Machinist James A. Lechler, who last week attended a meeting of the executive board of the twelve railroads' employes at Kansas City, resumed work yesterday. The officials of the unions formulated and presented to the railway officials for agreement, some working rules affecting the Terminal association in which the twelve lines are interested.

As a fruit raising country the Blackfoot Reserve is unsurpassed, being well named the Inland Empire of the West. For truck gardening it cannot be beat, independence and wealth being open to her fortunate possessors of an 160-acre farm in this great country.

All of this land may be filed upon by an agent. Soldiers and sailors, their widows and children may file upon one of these farms without making a personal trip to do so, having special privileges. Howell, Soldiers' and Sailors' Registration, 497 Markison avenue, Columbus, Ohio, by enclosing stamp for personal reply, showing you how you may obtain one of these fine farms without a personal trip. 27-2t

FRANKLIN TRIES TO SPARE ASSAILANT

Never Saw Man Who Admits He Hit Him on Head With Brick.

With his head swathed in bandages that concealed a long scalp wound in which a surgeon had taken half a dozen stitches, Spencer Franklin sat in the city court and testified that he never had seen the man who hit him on the head with a brick because the brick was thrown from a distance of thirty feet when he wasn't looking. It was magnanimous, but it wasn't the truth, as was shown when Franklin's divorced wife, Anna Franklin, took the stand. She said she and Albert Cothrell, on trial for assault and battery on Franklin, were walking on the street Saturday night and that her former husband and another man followed them to Clinton and Dock streets, where Franklin made a rush for her escort and when within three feet of him was beaned with a brick that Cothrell had seized from a pile nearby. Cothrell took the stand and testified to the same facts. Judge Kerr took the circumstances under consideration for thirty days, continued the case against Cothrell for the assault and the case against Franklin for being drunk, in order to see if the trouble is at an end.

A Pair to the Penal Farm.

Jack Beno, arrested Monday by Officer Young for stealing a bicycle, was found guilty of petit larceny and drew $10 and costs and thirty days at the penal farm, all of which will make a sojourn of seventy-two days. Papers found on Beno indicated him to be a crook.

Bill Hicks, a persistent offender in the matter of getting drunk, was found guilty of public intoxication with three previous convictions, and $20 and costs and sixty days at the penal farm. He will grub there for the next three months. Bill was found rioting with himself and a bottle of alcohol in a Nickel Plate box car on the siding near Calhoun street by special officer Hazelett.

Hiding Money from Wife.

Walter Wedlaw, a negro, pleaded not guilty to a larceny charge and offered as an explanation of $5 found in his shoe at the L. J. Libbing store, on East Main street, where a clerk said he had paid the colored man $5 too much change, that when he drew $11 from a bank he buried $5 in his sock to hide it from his wife, to whom he purposed making a birthday present August 28. Detective Sergeant Walter Immel and Baliff George Eisenhut who were called to the Libbing store, after Wedlaw refused to produce when charged by the clerk with having $5 too much, frisked the darkey and found the money. To permit Attorney W. C. Ryan to present authorities to the court in support of a contention that larceny had not been committed, Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Friday.

Other City Court Cases.

Tom O'Hern, John McDonald, Fred Hensel and John Van Allen, drunks, were turned loose, and Albert Cook and Charles Delaver, the latter a known crook, were continued on drunk charges for a day or two. William Kelly, another drunk, was fined $5 and costs for indecent conduct on Holman street.

The case against Alfred Boerger, for assault and battery on Fred Lagemann, was continued until August 17. Lageman is still in the hospital.

Two colored vags held from Monday, were turned loose.

TEST IN CASE AT WARSAW.

Try Out New Law Compelling Early Wage Payment.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—Because the Hugro Manufacturing company failed to pay Charles Ward, an employe, $4.59 within seventy-two hours of the time he resigned Ward brought suit under a law passed by the 1915 legislature and awarded judgment for $34.38. The law requires an employer to pay within seventy-two hours when a workman resigns or is discharged and provides that in case of failure to pay the employe shall be entitled to collect full pay for all days until payment is made. The case probably will be appealed and will be a test of the new law, which some attorneys declared is unconstitutional.

Indianapolis, July 27.—Dr. James M. Dinnen, of Fort Wayne, with his Chalmers, was the first man in Allen county to register his machine at the state house this year. Ferd Salge, of Fort Wayne, registered his Paige a few days ago.

There are now over 83,000 automobile owners registered for 1915 in the entire state, as against 65,000 in 1914.

Fords lead the other cars for numbers in Indiana, showing a total registration of approximately 30,000. This information comes from the Campbell Circular Advertising Co., of Indianapolis, who have compiled such lists for automobile concerns and other lines of business for a number of years.

WILL CONTINUE ON NON-PARTISAN LINE

Anti-Saloon League Head Talks of Work Planned in Indiana.

Indianapolis, July 27.—The Indiana Anti-Saloon league, through its state superintendent, Rev. E. S. Shumaker, has issued a statement to the newspapers of the state reaffirming its allegiance to the non-partisan methods of activity which have characterized its work in the past.

At the recent annual convention of the National Anti-Saloon league at Atlantic City, N. J., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"After twenty years of practical demonstration of the value of non-partisan activity in the warfare against the liquor traffic, with special emphasis at this time we again declare for the preservation of the non-partisan or omnipartisan character of the anti-saloon league movement. We protest against every effort to use the rapidly growing temperance sentiment of the nation for the furthering of political ambitions or political ends. The anti-saloon league is entrusted with a sacred duty. That duty must be performed without complications in partisan politics and without swerving from the straight path which leads to the overthrow of the liquor traffic. From this great task the anti-saloon league cannot turn aside to support friends or oppose enemies except in so far as that support of friends or that opposition to enemies may help to hasten the final overthrow of this traffic."

The Indiana league announces that it will wage its campaign next year in full harmony with this resolution. Superintendent Shumaker says: "The league sincerely hopes that no political party will put a prohibition plank in its platform next year. The league does hope, on the other hand, that the various parties will nominate in the primaries candidates for congress, the state legislature and for governor men who are personally committed to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. It is on this exact ground that the league will wage its whole fight next year. The whole influence of the state organization will be exerted in the spring primary for the nomination of men favorable to the prohibition issue. In the election which follows, the league will know no political lines. Candidates will be supported and opposed without reference to party affiliations. The deciding consideration will be the attitude of the candidate on the one question of state-wide statutory prohibition.

"In order that the league may act wisely and justly in its attitude toward the various candidates, it will at the proper time respectfully interrogate candidates for the offices above named on the question of their personal attitude toward the prohibition issue. It is not the intention of the league to heckle or pester candidates, but as a matter of justice it will seek first-hand and authoritative information on the question. In adopting this policy the league feels that it is not imposing upon candidates or placing them under any embarrassment whatever. Rather, it believes that by giving the candidates an opportunity to be fully and fairly understood on this question, it is doing them a decided service. The league contends that no fair man would wish to go through a campaign at this time without being clearly and fully understood by the people as to his position on this great question that is closer to the hearts of thousands of the best citizens of this state than any other issue that may arise."

League leaders are careful to have it understood that they will not assume an arrogant or dictatorial attitude in this matter. They will not insist necessarily upon a categorical answer to any questions that may be propounded. What they do seek, in any way that candidates may see fit to give it, is a positive assurance that if elected they will stand squarely with that vast majority of the voters of Indiana that demand the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

League leaders are now busy perfecting plans for the greatest campaign ever waged in the state. Local organizations will be perfected in every county in the state through which the dry sentiment may be crystallized in the primary in the nomination of acceptable candidates, and if necessary later in the election of acceptable candidates. The fight throughout, both in the primary and in the election, will be waged on candidates entirely. Partisanship will be carefully avoided throughout.

MADE INSANE BY BOMB EXPLOSION

Officers Looking for Chicago Girls Who Escaped from an Asylum.

Springfield, Ill., July 27.—Miss Della Noonan, of Chicago, employed as a maid at the home of Mrs. Maud Ferris, of Taylorville, was a massenger on a C. & A. train which entered this city early last spring. As she was alighting on the platform a trunk, thrown from the baggage car to a truck, exploded violently, seriously injuring the porter and baggageman.

Miss Noonan's mind was unbalanced by the shock and she was sent to the state institution for the insane at Jacksonville. June 26 she was removed to St. Vincent's hospital.

Recently the young woman disappeared from the latter institution and all efforts of deputy sheriffs and attendants to locate her have failed.

It was learned that she had packed her trunk and was apparently contemplating leaving the city. When her absence from the institution was learned the police were informed and visited all outgoing trains. They did not find her.

Miss Noonan was improved in condition, but was watched by the nurses at the hospital.

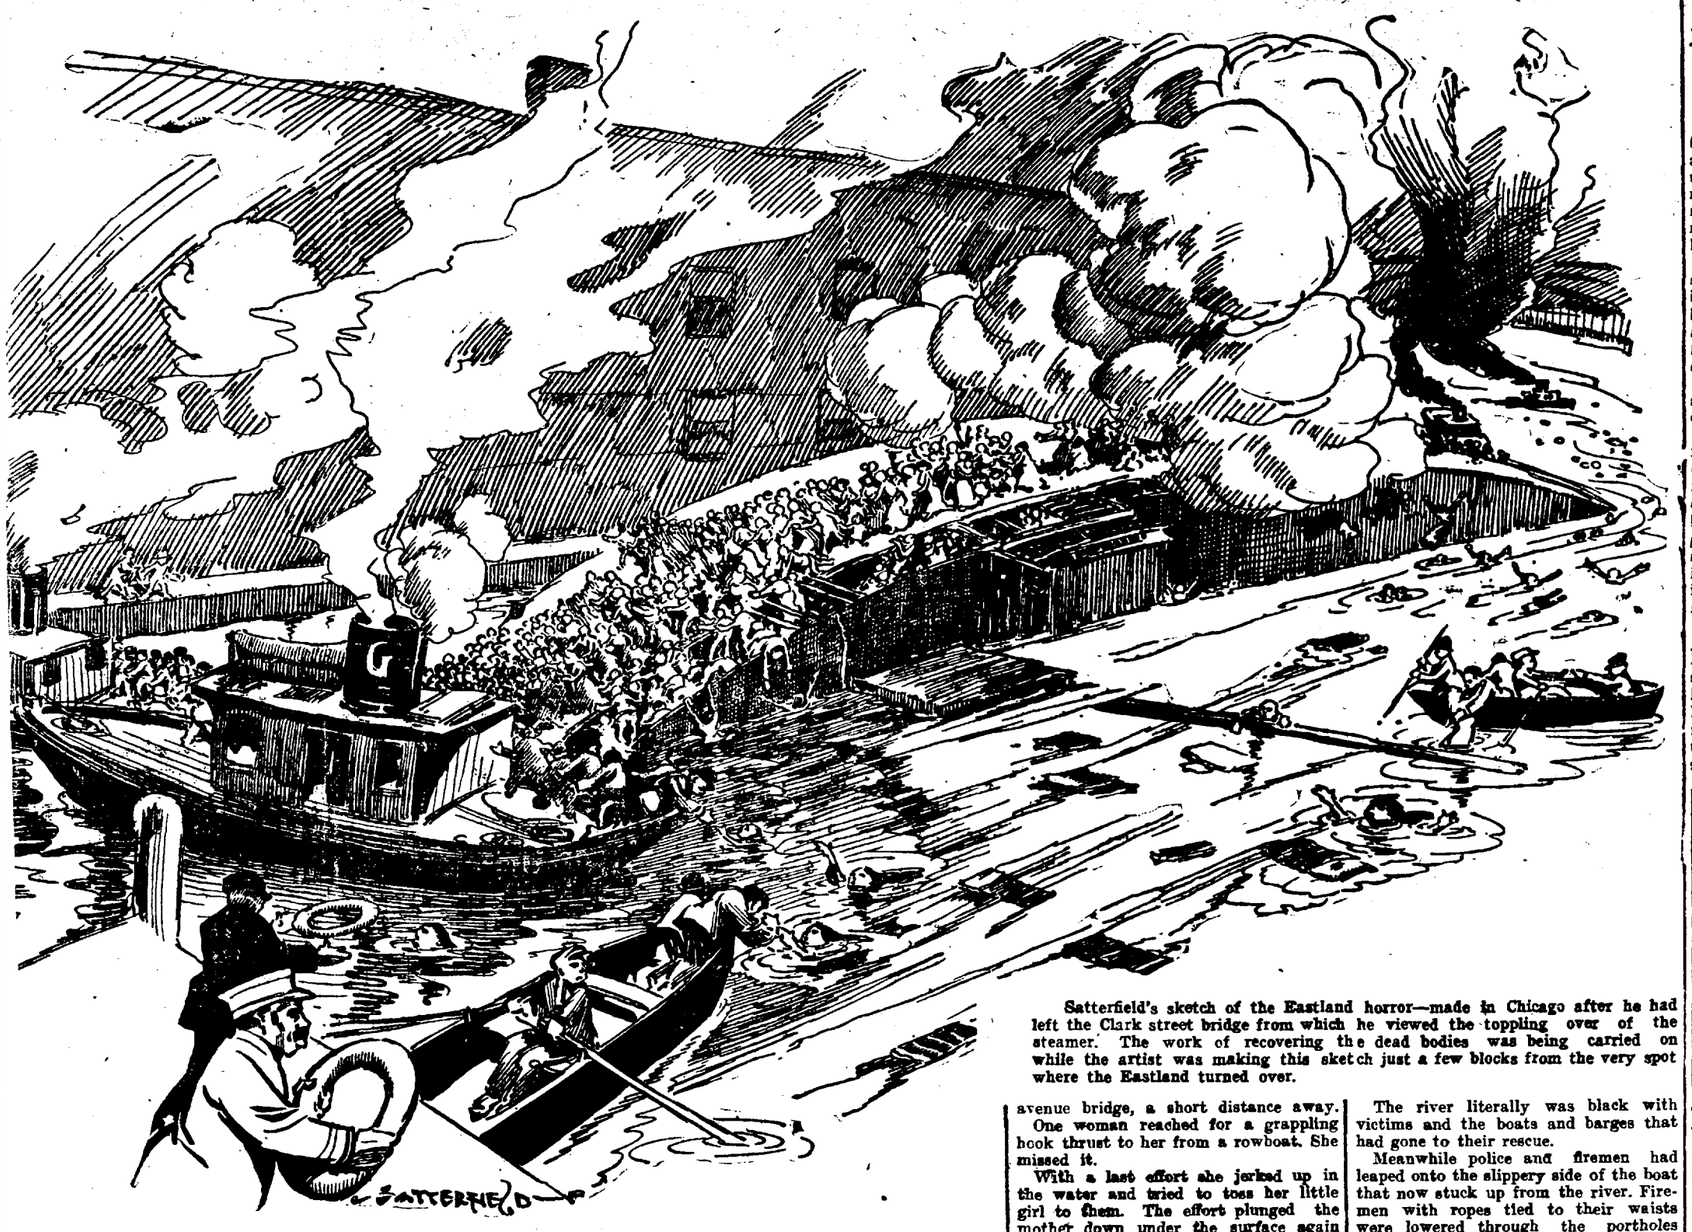
Cartoonist Satterfield Witnessed Eastland Catastrophe in Chicago and Tells What It Was Like in Picture and Story



Satterfield's sketch of the Eastland horror—made in Chicago after he had left the Clark street bridge from which he viewed the toppling over of the steamer. The work of recovering the dead bodies was being carried on while the artist was making this sketch just a few blocks from the very spot where the Eastland turned over.

(By Robert Satterfield, the famous cartoonist, who was an eye-witness of the sinking of the steamship Eastland.)

Chicago, July 27.—I was just crossing the Clark street bridge when I noticed the steamship Eastland, crowded with people, and with flags and pennants waving. Tugs were just beginning to haul her away from the pier.

I noticed the crowds that blackened the decks. Then I looked away for it was 7:40 and I was hurrying to the office.

As I did so I heard a woman shriek! Just one long piercing scream that rose high above the din and bustle of the early morning traffic.

I looked toward the Eastland again—and the big excursion boat was tipping over—was turning over on her side towards the middle of the river tumbling its holiday deckload of passengers into the swirling water.

The people, in order to see the tug boats start pulling the Eastland into the river, had rushed to the port railing. The weight of thousands was too much, and the top-heavy boat rolled over, practically turning turtle.

The air was filled with the shrieks of men and women and the thinner, shriller screams of hundreds upon hundreds of little children for (as I learned later) it was the annual picnic excursion of the thousands of employes of the Western Electric company.

As I ran towards the end of the bridge to reach the pier I could see the tumbling thousands of pleasure seekers fighting and scrambling as they were swept into the water.

Women and children and babies, with a sprinkling of men, were brushed into the river as some giant hand would sweep crumbs from a huge table.

For an instant the part of the deck that still showed the railing and the slimy, moss-grown—now upturned—bottom of the vessel were cleared.

The next instant it was blackened with human beings as flies swarming on a lump of sugar, blacken it.

Only instead of flies it was half-crazed picnickers crawling and fighting their way out from inside the boat.

But of the hundreds that screaming and scrambling managed to crawl through portholes and hatchways and reach and cling to the side and railing on the starboard side of the boat that now protruded from the water, still more hundreds were trapped below. It was an hour or more later before rescuers managed to reach these hundreds of drowned.

Many more passengers were below decks than above. They had been herded and jammed into the big passageways on the lower deck just as the order to "cast off" was given.

The big gates across the entrance hatches had been put in place, and as the boat turned they were trapped like cattle in a pen. Hundreds were drowned without a chance. They could not reach the upper decks for the crowds and they could not try to leap for the pier because of the gates.

Women near the gates tried to toss babies and children to the outstretched hands on the pier. Some were caught and others dropped into the water between the boat and the slimy piling and sucked under and drowned.

Police from the nearby streets rushed to take charge. With their clubs they cleared the pier of the terrified hundreds, the overflow of picnickers who had been waiting to get on the boat, but could not.

I turned back and managed to climb down on the bulkhead, under the bridge. There I could see the water filled with bobbing heads.

Life preservers were rained into the river by the wagonload. Everybody that could grab something that would float threw it to the struggling mass of victims.

Choking in the muddy water, the victims were drawn under and carried down the river by the current faster than they could be pulled into the boat of lifeboats and tugs that now were arriving on the scene.

I saw women with babies in their arms being swept away under the Fifth avenue bridge, a short distance away.

One woman reached for a grappling hook thrust to her from a rowboat. She missed it.

With a last effort she jerked up in the water and tried to toss her little girl to them. The effort plunged the mother down under the surface again and she did not reappear. But the child fell a yard nearer the boat.

Its white, frilled holiday dress with its ribbons spread out kept her afloat. Then the grappling hook caught it and she was dragged into the boat.

The river literally was black with victims and the boats and barges that had gone to their rescue.

Meanwhile police and firemen had leaped onto the slippery side of the boat that now stuck up from the river. Firemen with ropes tied to their waists were lowered through the portholes that now gaped to the sky.

The first victims they could reach were hoisted up by ropes. Girl after girl was hauled up, their soaked holiday attire standing out in pitiful contrast against the scene of death.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

CROWDING WORK ON BIG STORE HOUSE

Electric Plant Addition Will Be Enclosed Before Snow Flies.

"We will have from 150 to 200 men engaged in building the foundation for the warehouse for the Fort Wayne Electric works in a few days," said E. N. Franklin, manager for Bentley & Sons, of Toledo, the general contractors. "William L. Griebel, the subcontractor on excavation, has practically completed that work, and we have about sixty men engaged in preparing the trenches for the reception of the concrete foundation. These are all the men we can handle until the balance of our equipment arrives, which will be in a few days," continued Mr. Franklin. "When it arrives, we will push the work with a view of completing the foundation in ten days," added Mr. Franklin. The Fort Wayne Electric works, which will have charge of the wiring, has assigned H. B. McGuire, one of its construction men, to the work, and he will remain with it, carrying it along as rapidly as possible, so it will be finished simultaneously with the construction work on the building. A large office, material and tool house is being erected at the northeast corner of the building site, adjacent to the Pennsylvania tracks.

GROCERY CLERKS IN FEDERATION.

Delegates Admitted to the Central Labor Body.

One of the important features of the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night was the admission of Delegates R. Masterson, E. C. Kilbiger, Miss O. Wynkeken, C. B. Weaver, and H. C. Hull, of the Grocery Clerks' union, which was recently organized. The charter of this union will remain open for sixty days, and it was announced that the meetings will be held Thursday night, instead of Monday night, hereafter. Another important event in labor union circles, which was announced at the meeting of the Federation, was the temporary organization of the local union of jitney drivers and chauffeurs generally in Fort Wayne. This was effected last night when eighteen of the jitney bus drivers met as the result of the work of General Organizer Thomas H. Flynn and the organizing committee of the Federation, composed of Clayton E. Johnson, J. C. Werkman, E. T. Drew, J. J. Perry and C. E. Redrup. It was announced that an active campaign would be waged during the next few days, and that it was expected to have a 100 per cent organization. Another meeting will be held this evening. Other matters to come before the Federation were the reading of an invitation to send delegates to the Peace Congress at San Francisco, which will be held October 10, 11 and 12; the report of the men engaged in the campaign in the interest of the Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and other movements of a similar character, including the results obtained from the committee work with the school board on the vocational question of commercial course at the High school.

WILL OPPOSE COMPENSATION LAW

Large yellow cards on all the bulletins of the Pennsylvania shops and elsewhere tell the employes that the company will refuse to pay compensation for injuries or death of employes as provided by the Indiana workmen's compensation act. The bulletin bears the name of the Pennsylvania company, by J. J. Turner, vice-president, and reads as follows: "To the Employes of the Undersigned and the Industrial Board of Indiana: You and each of you are hereby notified that the undersigned employer, being engaged in a business or occupation comprehended within the scope and meaning of an act of the general assembly of the state of Indiana approved March 8 and known as the Indiana workmen's compensation act and having employes engaged in said business does hereby elect to reject the provisions of said act and to refuse to pay compensation for injuries to or the death of said employes as in said act provided. Post-office address of employer: General Office, Pennsylvania Station, Pittsburg, Pa."

FORGING BUSINESS BETTER.

Business at the blacksmith shop of the Bass Foundry and Machine company is showing a disposition to improve. Foreman Joseph Slater said this morning that some pretty good orders had been placed on the books during the past week and if the improvement continues, it will not be long until the shop will be running with a full force. There is also an improvement in the machine shop, though Foreman Thomas Blythe has not taken on any new men for several months. The boiler shop, as stated before, is running day and night with all the men it can handle. This department booked another order yesterday, through W. A. Barrett. It was a boiler for the Kneipp sanitarium, at Rome City, where the heating and power plant is being reconstructed. In 1907 the Bass company put in two boilers, which will remain a part of the new plant.

HEAVY TRAVEL ON PENNSY.

The Pennsylvania is enjoying a good passenger business at present. Tonight there will be two extra sleepers on train No. 25, carrying the New York National ball team to Chicago. Tomorrow a special train running as second No. 25 will carry the Keystone state infantry to Chicago, where it will be delivered to a western road and taken to the coast. No. 19 tomorrow will carry Vice-President J. M. Schoonmaker and party in a Pittsburg and Lake Erie private car. They are going to the Panama-Pacific exposition, and tomorrow No. 40 will have two extra cars occupied by the Kistler and Marshall touring party, on their return from the exposition.

WHERE SAFETY FIRST STARTED.

The origin of the safety first practice is a matter of doubt, several railroads claiming the honor. Among them is the Cumberland Valley road, which is a part of the Pennsylvania road system, which at a meeting of the board of directors in 1838 passed the following resolution: "That no person shall be employed or continued in the service of the board whose habits of intemperance, either permanent or occasional, or such as to hazard the safety of passengers upon the road or property carried upon it—and that the board hereby charge the chief engineer and his assistants with the special duty of enforcing attention to this resolution."

ENGINEERS SEEK RETIREMENT.

It was learned at the Pennsylvania Relief Department offices yesterday that Benjamin F. Campbell and William L. Scott would retire soon. Mr. Campbell will retire December 1 by reason of reaching the age of 70, and Mr. Scott will seek retirement under the clause that permits between the ages of 65 and 70 when the applicant has become incapacitated by sickness or injury. Mr. Scott became a fireman on the Pennsylvania April 4, 1882, and Mr. Campbell entered the service as a fireman December 17, 1883. Both have been engineers many years.

NEW MOTOR ON FIRST TRIP.

The motor car received here Friday by the local Wabash people, started today for Toledo, its first big trip over the line. It carried Division Engineer W. S. Danes, Assistant Engineer C. E. Danes and Division Storekeeper E. L. Ensel. This car is a reconstructed Reo automobile. Wheels built for a hand car carry it and there are some other changes, particularly in the body, but it has the gearing and other attachments of an auto and is said to be able to reel off miles at the rate of forty-five miles an hour.

AN ALL DAY PICNIC.

Kekionga Aid society, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, will be entertained by Mrs. T. P. O'Connell at her cottage in Rome City next Thursday with an all day picnic. All members are requested to be at Pennsylvania passenger station at 9 o'clock Thursday morning, prepared to take the G. R. & I. train to Rome City.

FRANKLIN TRIES TO SPARE ASSAILANT

Never Saw Man Who Admits He Hit Him on Head With Brick.

With his head swathed in bandages that concealed a long scalp wound in which a surgeon had taken half a dozen stitches, Spencer Franklin sat in the city court and testified that he never had seen the man who hit him on the head with a brick because the brick was thrown from a distance of thirty feet when he wasn't looking. It was magnanimous, but it wasn't the truth, as was shown when Franklin's divorced wife, Anna Franklin, took the stand. She said she and Albert Cothrell, on trial for assault and battery on Franklin, were walking on the street Saturday night and that her former husband and another man followed them to Clinton and Dock streets, where Franklin made a rush for her escort and when within three feet of him was beaned with a brick that Cothrell had seized from a pile nearby. Cothrell took the stand and testified to the same facts. Judge Kerr took the circumstances under consideration for thirty days, continued the case against Cothrell for the assault and the case against Franklin for being drunk, in order to see if the trouble is at an end.

A Pair to the Penal Farm.

Jack Beno, arrested Monday by Officer Young for stealing a bicycle, was found guilty of petit larceny and drew $10 and costs and thirty days at the penal farm, all of which will make a sojourn of seventy-two days. Papers found on Beno indicated him to be a crook.

Bill Hicks, a persistent offender in the matter of getting drunk, was found guilty of public intoxication with three previous convictions, and $20 and costs and sixty days at the penal farm. He will grub there for the next three months. Bill was found rioting with himself and a bottle of alcohol in a Nickel Plate box car on the siding near Calhoun street by special officer Hazelett.

Hiding Money from Wife.

Walter Wedlaw, a negro, pleaded not guilty to a larceny charge and offered as an explanation of $5 found in his shoe at the L. J. Libbing store, on East Main street, where a clerk said he had paid the colored man $5 too much change, that when he drew $11 from a bank he buried $5 in his sock to hide it from his wife, to whom he purposed making a birthday present August 28. Detective Sergeant Walter Immel and Baliff George Eisenhut who were called to the Libbing store, after Wedlaw refused to produce when charged by the clerk with having $5 too much, frisked the darkey and found the money. To permit Attorney W. C. Ryan to present authorities to the court in support of a contention that larceny had not been committed, Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Friday.

Other City Court Cases.

Tom O'Hern, John McDonald, Fred Hensel and John Van Allen, drunks, were turned loose, and Albert Cook and Charles Delaver, the latter a known crook, were continued on drunk charges for a day or two. William Kelly, another drunk, was fined $5 and costs for indecent conduct on Holman street.

The case against Alfred Boerger, for assault and battery on Fred Lagemann, was continued until August 17. Lageman is still in the hospital.

Two colored vags held from Monday, were turned loose.

TEST IN CASE AT WARSAW.

Try Out New Law Compelling Early Wage Payment.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—Because the Hugro Manufacturing company failed to pay Charles Ward, an employe, $4.59 within seventy-two hours of the time he resigned Ward brought suit under a law passed by the 1915 legislature and awarded judgment for $34.38. The law requires an employer to pay within seventy-two hours when a workman resigns or is discharged and provides that in case of failure to pay the employe shall be entitled to collect full pay for all days until payment is made. The case probably will be appealed and will be a test of the new law, which some attorneys declared is unconstitutional.

Earliest Allen County Man to Register Auto for 1915.

Indianapolis, July 27.—Dr. James M. Dinnen, of Fort Wayne, with his Chalmers, was the first man in Allen county to register his machine at the state house this year. Ferd Salge, of Fort Wayne, registered his Paige a few days ago.

There are now over 83,000 automobile owners registered for 1915 in the entire state, as against 65,000 in 1914.

Fords lead the other cars for numbers in Indiana, showing a total registration of approximately 30,000. This information comes from the Campbell Circular Advertising Co., of Indianapolis, who have compiled such lists for automobile concerns and other lines of business for a number of years.

WILL CONTINUE ON NON-PARTISAN LINE

Anti-Saloon League Head Talks of Work Planned in Indiana.

Indianapolis, July —The Indiana Anti-Saloon league, through its state superintendent, Rev. E. S. Shumaker, has issued a statement to the newspapers of the state reaffirming its allegiance to the non-partisan methods of activity which have characterized its work in the past.

At the recent annual convention of the National Anti-Saloon league at Atlantic City, N. J., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"After twenty years of practical demonstration of the value of non-partisan activity in the warfare against the liquor traffic, with special emphasis at this time we again declare for the preservation of the non-partisan or omnipartisan character of the anti-saloon league movement. We protest against every effort to use the rapidly growing temperance sentiment of the nation for the furthering of political ambitions or political ends. The anti-saloon league is entrusted with a sacred duty. That duty must be performed without complications in partisan politics and without swerving from the straight path which leads to the overthrow of the liquor traffic. From this great task the anti-saloon league cannot turn aside to support friends or oppose enemies except in so far as that support of friends or that opposition to enemies may help to hasten the final overthrow of this traffic."

The Indiana league announces that it will wage its campaign next year in full harmony with this resolution. Superintendent Shumaker says: "The league sincerely hopes that no political party will put a prohibition plank in its platform next year. The league does hope, on the other hand, that the various parties will nominate in the primaries candidates for congress, the United States senate, the state legislature and for governor men who are personally committed to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. It is on this exact ground that the league will wage its whole fight next year. The whole influence of the state organization will be exerted in the spring primary for the nomination of men favorable to the prohibition issue. In the election which follows, the league will know no political lines. Candidates will be supported and opposed without reference to party affiliations. The deciding consideration will be the attitude of the candidate on the one question of state-wide statutory prohibition.

"In order that the league may act wisely and justly in its attitude toward the various candidates, it will at the proper time respectfully interrogate candidates for the offices above named on the question of their personal attitude toward the prohibition issue. It is not the intention of the league to heckle or pester candidates, but as a matter of justice it will seek first-hand and authoritative information on the question. In adopting this policy the league feels that it is not imposing upon candidates or placing them under any embarrassment whatever. Rather, it believes that by giving the candidates an opportunity to be fully and fairly understood on this question, it is doing them a decided service. The league contends that no fair man would wish to go through a campaign at this time without being clearly and fully understood by the people as to his position on this great question that is closer to the hearts of thousands of the best citizens of this state than any other issue that may arise."

League leaders are careful to have it understood that they will not assume an arrogant or dictatorial attitude in this matter. They will not insist necessarily upon a categorical answer to any questions that may be propounded. What they do seek, in any way that candidates may see fit to give it, is a positive assurance that if elected they will stand squarely with that vast majority of the voters of Indiana that demand the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

League leaders are now busy perfecting plans for the greatest campaign ever waged in the state. Local organizations will be perfected in every county in the state through which the dry sentiment may be crystallized in the primary in the nomination of acceptable candidates, and if necessary later in the election of acceptable candidates. The fight throughout, both in the primary and in the election, will be waged on candidates entirely. Partisanship will be carefully avoided throughout.

MADE INSANE BY BOMB EXPLOSION

Officers Looking for Chicago Girls Who Escaped from an Asylum.

Springfield, Ill., July —Miss Della Noonan, of Chicago, employed as a maid at the home of Mrs. Maud Ferris, of Taylorville, was a massenger on a C. & A. train which entered this city early last spring. As she was alighting on the platform a trunk, thrown from the baggage car to a truck, exploded violently, seriously injuring the porter and baggageman.

Miss Noonan's mind was unbalanced by the shock and she was sent to the state institution for the insane at Jacksonville. June 26 she was removed to St. Vincent's hospital.

Recently the young woman disappeared from the latter institution and all efforts of deputy sheriffs and attendants to locate her have failed.

It was learned that she had packed her trunk and was apparently contemplating leaving the city. When her absence from the institution was learned the police were informed and visited all outgoing trains. They did not find her.

Miss Noonan was improved in condition, but was watched by the nurses at the hospital.

HARRISON HILL

The Heart of New South Wayne

3 Lots Where 12 Might Be

We told you the other day how there were only 233 lots in Harrison Hill where there might be 396.

Harrison Hill has a frontage of 600 feet on Rudisill Boulevard, a very valuable street for residences.

Did we take shortsighted advantage of this and lay out 12 lots facing Rudisill Boulevard, as well we might?

No! We thought of the entire addition, the plat as a whole rather than this one edge. We faced no lots on Rudisill Boulevard, and took up the entire 600 feet with the sides of three fine lots and the entrance to Harrison Boulevard.

Just one example of where we sacrificed immediate profit for the future welfare of Harrison Hill.

The plat of Harrison Hill is an interesting study in city planning. It is found in our latest circular. Ask any real estate man.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 27.—Unsettled weather in the domestic harvest region with a forecast of more, led to higher prices today for wheat. After opening ½c to 1¼c higher, the market scored additional gains, then reacted to a moderate extent.

The close was strong, ⅞c to 1¾c above last night.

Corn rose with wheat and as a result of the cool temperatures, opening prices, which ranged from a shade to ¾c higher, were followed by a setback and then a rally.

The close was firm at ½c to ¾c net advance.

Oats kept within narrow limits.

Lower average quotations for hogs weakened provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 27.—A broad buying movement lifted prices quickly in the first half hour of trading today. U. S. Steel was bought in blocks of several thousand shares and rose to 65½. An advance of a point and the best figures since it has been on a non-dividend basis. Bethlehem Steel was marked up 11½ to 232½, Baldwin Locomotive 1⅜ to 84½, Can 1⅝ to 61⅞, and Allis-Chalmers preferred 1⅝ to 68, all new high records. Many other active specialties made gains of one to four points. The railroad list was dull.

The vigorous recovery of yesterday following the break on the torpedoing of the Leelanaw, promoted bullish sentiment and taking the industrial list as a whole the intrinsic position of the market seemed to be better. The rise was not limited to war shares but spread to other specialties. U. S. Steel was absorbed in large amounts in expectation that the quarterly statement to be given out later in the day would make a highly favorable showing. War stocks reacted two to five points. Bonds were easy.

ELEVEN DOLLARS THE PRICE.

Judge at Hammond Fixes Fee for Kiss, Welcome or Otherwise.

Hammond, Ind., July 26.—Judge Frank Prest decided that $11 is the price of a kiss, no matter whether it is welcome or unwelcome, given or stolen. Mrs. Stanley Rolla kept a boarding house. When Mrs. Rolla's husband was away, Tom Dashinski, the star boarder, kissed her. Then Joe Peganik tried to do the same thing, but Mrs. Rolla resisted, and when her husband returned, she told on him. After Rolla beat up both men with a piece of lead pipe, he caused their arrest. After they were fined $11 each, Joe and Tom shook hands and had Stanley arrested and fined.

UNCLE SAM LOWERS REWARD.

Informers to Get But $10 for Reporting Revenue Law Infractions.

Washington, July 27.—Informers who aid the government to capture and prosecute violators of internal revenue laws hereafter will get only $10 instead of $50 as has been the case. Treasury department officials held today that a $10 reward was sufficient.

SCENE OF GREAT BATTLES IN PAST

Environs of Warsaw Have Witnessed Many Former Conflicts.

Washington, D. C., July 27.—On every field where the German armies are now fighting in the environs of Warsaw, great battles have gone before; for Warsaw has always been the chief stronghold for the defense of Poland, the industrial, commercial, and financial center, as well as the physical center and the center toward which all Polish lines of communications take their way. The greatest of European conquerors have passed that way, and dealt with Warsaw as one of the half-dozen most important towns on the continent. As a military problem, Warsaw is conscientiously studied by the leading soldiers of Europe, and there are few fields for which the possibilities have been better canvassed. The geography of the country immediately surrounding this great city, the scene of a supreme test of strength between Teuton and Slav, is described in a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic society, which reads:

"Girdled by a formidable plan of fortifications and by fortified towns, which build a circular line around the metropolis, Warsaw is the best defended city in eastern Europe. Its immediate line of forts are thrown before it at a radius of about sixteen miles from the heart of the city. In the immediate line of fortified towns beyond the Warsaw forts, varying from twenty-five to forty miles in distance from the city, are Garwolin in the southeast, Grojec in the south, Skierniewice in the southwest, Blonie in the west, Novo Georgievsk in the northwest, Pultsk and Segrje in the north and Praga across the Vistula to the east. The most powerful of these fortresses is Novo Georgievsk.

"The country around Warsaw is a plain, low and flat, intensely cultivated, and dotted with many industrial villages. This plain stretches away to the Prussian frontier. To the south there are hill clusters, while in the north, throughout the region adjoining the confluence of the Narew and the Bug with the Vistula, there are considerable stretches of tangled and treacherous marsh land. During the spring and autumn rains, this region frequently suffers from disastrous floods. The floods now and then prove to be terribly destructive. Novo Georgievsk fortress lies upon the confluence of the Bug and Vistula, and the swampy stretches near it are part of its scheme of defense.

"The Vistula cleaves through this district, through fortresses before Warsaw, through the heart of the metropolis, and through fortresses toward the German frontier, in a broad expanse of between a quarter and a third of a mile in width. Parts of the river's banks are high, and Warsaw stands over the Vistula on a steep terrace, lying between 100 and 140 feet above the river. Six great trunk lines traverse the plain to Warsaw, connecting the Polish city with Petrograd, Moscow, Kiev, Danzig, Berlin and Vienna. Over these railways and down the broad Vistula almost the whole trade of Russian Poland has taken its way through the first city.

"All the country before Warsaw is an open way of farm and factory. While the soils are not very fertile, being chiefly clay and sand deposits, large crops are raised upon them, crops that have been forced higher and higher to meet the needs of the great next-door market. Then, too, the Warsaw district is the most modern and progressive district in Poland, progressive in its agricultural as in its manufacture and trade. The industry of the metropolis spreads out over the city, through the neighboring villages and towns. For twenty years the Poles have turned their energies to industry with all the seriousness which they formerly displayed in politics, and with better organization. Warsaw, and the flat country in which it lies, are the heart and inspiration of Polish industry."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

KITCHENER VISITS THE BRITISH FRONT

Sees for First Time Lines in France Held by His Own Men.

British Headquarters, France, July 10. —(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—An otherwise dull week at the front has been relieved by the visit of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener, which is the more interesting because it is the first time he has been in the area held by the British troops. His previous trips to France have been for conferences at Gen. Joffre's headquarters.

Probably not one out of a 100 soldiers saw him. The army went on with its work, while he saw it and chose what he wished to see.

Other distinguished visitors had programs laid out for them, but he laid out his own, which was a revelation of energy and precision in the amount of ground covered. The only ceremonious affair was a parade of Indian cavalry which he briefly reviewed. As there is no speed limit on the main roads in the military zone he was not long in going from point to point. When he left the car to go on foot the officers conducting him found that it took a good pedestrian to keep up. Kitchener showed particular interest in the trenches, fortifications and all the conditions actually relating to the real fighting. It was a ticklish moment for his aide and the officers in command of that section when he went to Ypres which is still daily subjected to intermittent shelling. It is certain if the Germans had known of his presence they would have given more than a salute of seventeen guns to which the secretary for war is entitled.

The field marshal picked his way through the former streets, among the wreckage, saw a seventeen-inch shell hole in the plaza, the remains of the Cloth hall, and other sights, an impressive example of the destructive power of modern shell fire. His conductors kept thinking "What if a big high explosive shell should come and get the prime minister of Great Britain and the war minister at the same time." But unusual as it was in Ypres, not a single shell fell.

Don't forget that our Men's Palm Beach Suits at $7.20 and $9.00 are hot and cold water shrunk. You want a suit—not a washboard—when they come from the laundry.

NO HURRY-UP PROGRAM.

Military Preparedness Not Rush Order, Says Garrison.

Washington, July 27.—Secretary Garrison returned today from a brief holiday and began preparing a statement for President Wilson on the military preparedness of the country.

"There is no hurry-up program for preparedness," said the secretary. "We are proceeding with that calmness and deliberation which we hope will secure good results. I hope to submit a general outline of reorganization. It is no rush order but a serious task and what we have [illegible]

MUCH CONCERN FOR SAFETY OF RELATIVES

Ft. Wayne People Have a Narrow Escape When Eastland Turned Turtle.

Many Fort Wayne people have been aboard the ill-fated Eastland, which turned over in the Chicago river Saturday morning, resulting in one of the worst catastrophes in the history of the country. Many Fort Wayne people also had relatives whom they feared might have been aboard the boat when it capsized.

Arthur A. Catlin, of Chicago, has written to his cousin, Miss Clara Rissing, 1704 St. Joe boulevard, that he was aboard the Eastland at the time of the disaster and his escape from death was remarkable. He was thrown into the muddy waters of the river and was rescued after a narrow escape from being struck by the boat as it was turning over.

Arthur A. Catlin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Catlin, of Denver, Col., his mother being a sister of Mrs. John H. Rissing, of St. Joe boulevard. He is in the employ of the Western Electric company at Chicago.

Herbert Telley, 227 Williams street, and J. G. A. Litot, 308 West Butler street, who are employed at the Pennsylvania shops, had planned to make the trip on the Eastland, but fortunately missed the boat or else they might have been among the victims.

Ten rough boxes containing the bodies of victims of the tragedy passed through Fort Wayne Monday evening at 9 o'clock on Pennsylvania train No. 2. They were being taken to Pittsburg.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Will Be Held in Honor of the Late William J. Barth.

At a special session of the Vorwaerts Turnverein, Monday evening, it was decided, upon suggestion of Victor Kalteyer, to request the Fort Wayne German Alliance to conduct special memorial services in honor of the late William J. Barth, sr., on a date to be announced later, preferably next Sunday evening.

Fred Simminger, Paul Nachtigal and Leonard Brandt were named as members of a committee to apprise the president of the alliance. Henry Branning, of the action that had been taken and to assist with the necessary arrangements.

Victor Kalteyer, Herman Bolhauve and Paul Nachtigal were appointed members of a committee to draft resolutions in honor of the deceased. Otto Rohland, Walter Poetzsch, Emil Haberkorn, Fred Simminger, Charles Bernig and Victor Kalteyer volunteered to represent the turnverein at the funeral services Wednesday afternoon.

The "Nordamerikanische Turnseitung," the official organ of the American Turners' societies, will be requested to devote an article to the life history of the deceased. The colors of the local society were ordered to be draped in mourning for a period of four weeks.

TAX CONTRACT ILLEGAL.

Court Overturns Action of Commissioners at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., July 27.—Because the county council had not made an appropriation at the time a recent board of county commissioners entered into a contract with Lafayette Mansfield for the collection of taxes, Special Judge Eichhorn, of Bluffton, has held the contract to be illegal. He held that John D. Lee, who filed the suit on behalf of taxpayers, was entitled to recover $4,894.81 from Mansfield and Ralph H. Clark, county treasurer, who honored Mansfield's warrants. The money is to go to the board of county commissioners. The defendants have announced that they will appeal.

SCORES OF CHILDREN NOT ACCOUNTED FOR

Chicago, July 27.—With the taking of testimony by the coroner's jury, the first open investigation into the capsizing of the steamer Eastland started today. At the same time investigations were being conducted by the state grand jury, the federal authorities and the city council while the state public utilities commission issued an announcement that it would not conduct an investigation as it had planned, the reason given being that the matter was fully covered by other investigators.

Secretary of Commerce William C. Redfield arrived today and took up what he promised would be a thorough inquiry. A short time later attorneys from the United States district attorney's office visited all of the men held in custody as witnesses and obtained statements from them at the same time subpoenaing them to appear before the federal grand jury which meets Thursday.

Secretary Redfield upon arrival, said he welcomed the most searching investigation possible and that if an inspector were at fault no one was more interested in it than he.

States Attorney Hoyne also was active in his investigation. Both the federal authorities and the police cooperated with him today. Mr. Hoyne said he was confident the boat was overloaded.

Stubs Do Not Account for All.

"From all accounts there were scores of children on the boat only part of whom can be accounted for by the ticket stubs," he said. He added that he had obtained stubs of 2,550 tickets.

The funeral of the victims continued to be held today, although the great majority will be buried tomorrow.

The work of searching the river and the Eastland's hull for bodies continued with unabated energy today. At noon the official list of dead and missing was:

Identified dead, 822.

Unidentified dead, 5.

Missing (Western Electric company list) 393.

Total, 1,220.

Placing the Blame.

At the opening of the inquest Coroner Hoffman announced that its object was to ascertain the cause and "place the blame where it belongs."

"It is the intention to make a fair, thorough and impartial investigation," said the coroner.

Victor Olander, secretary of the Lake Seamen's union, who had been quoted as denouncing the United States inspection service of lake boats, would, it was said, be a witness both before the coroner's jury and the grand jury. Secretary Redfield in a statement issued today not only denied that steamboat inspectors were appointed at the instance of steamboat owners, as had been charged, but also denied that Mr. Olander had ever brought to his attention the condition of the Eastland.

Secretary Redfield's Statement.

Secretary Redfield in his statement, added:

"On my arrival in Chicago this morning, I met D. N. Hoover, jr., deputy supervising inspector general of the steamboat inspection service, and Captain Charles H. Westcott, the supervising inspector of the Eighth district. Both have been notified to appear before the state grand jury. I instructed

BULLETIN.

Chicago, July 27.—Not more than forty bodies remain in the hull of the Eastland according to Wm. Demeu, a diver, who is working on the wrecked boat.

"A strong undercurrent has swept a large number of bodies away and they are now floating in the river or the drainage canal," added Demeu.

UNCLE SAM MAY BE NEXT TO PROSECUTE

Sabin Smith Found Guilty of Running Blind Tiger in Country.

On testimony by which Sabin Smith was convicted in the city court Tuesday afternoon of running a blind tiger at the former Hiser roadhouse on the Goshoen highway north of the city the federal government may be able to found a good case and secure a conviction. He was fined $100 and costs and given a suspended jail sentence of thirty days. He took an appeal.

Smith was tried on the evidence of the young sons of half a dozen prominent Churubusco business men, whose disclosures a week or more ago caused a sensation in that town as well as Fort Wayne and have led to the filing of five blind tiger charges against as many different liquor dealers in Fort Wayne, including the proprietors of the Hof Brau cafe and the Hotel Edwin.

Smith was brought to trial Tuesday morning before Attorney Otto E. Fuelber, who was appointed when a change of venue was taken from City Judge H. Waveland Kerr. Prosecutor H. H. Hilgemann appeared for the state, assisted by Hon. William P. Breen, who was employed by the parents of the Churubusco boys to aid in the prosecution.

Oscar E. Gandy, Adam Bechtold, Phil Downey and Herman Fogel, all of Churubusco, and all minors, testified as to specific instances in which they had purchased beer at the Smith roadhouse. The sales were made the nights of July 16 and 17, although two of the boys testified to previous purchases. Sheriff A. C. Gladieux testified that he interviewed Smith Monday evening and got from the roadhouse keeper a statement that he had a government license up to July 1, this year, when it expired. The sales for which Smith was convicted were proven to have been made since that license expired, which exposes Smith to prosecution by the federal government.

Following the Smith case the trial of John P. Hedges, who runs a saloon with a club annex above at 106 East Columbia street, and his bartender, Carl Slagle, on blind tiger charges, were begun. Churubusco boys were the witnesses in these cases.

ENGLAND MAY BE WILLING TO HEAR

Gives Lansing Notice That Supplemental Note is Coming.

Washington, July 27.—Sir Edward Grey cabled Secretary Lansing today that the British government has in preparation another note to the United States on the orders in council, and asked that the note delivered yesterday be withheld from publication pending receipt of the new communication. Therefore yesterday's note will not be published tomorrow morning as had been planned.

No indication of the nature of the forthcoming note was given in Sir Edward's cable and state department officials have no intimation. They assume, however, that it is of a supplemental nature. The development will further delay dispatch of the American note to Great Britain on the same subject.

Secretary Lansing said the message from London stated the new note would be here in another week. In official quarters the development was regarded as highly significant. The belief prevailed that the last American note to Germany with its reference to the freedom of the seas may have influenced Great Britain to place herself on record as willing to take under consideration any new suggestions by the United States to the belligerents.

Takes Refuge in French Legation as Revolution Reaches Capital.

Port Au Prince, July 27.—The revolutionary movement against President Guillaume, which broke out under the leadership of Dr. Rasalvo Bobo last March, showed itself in Port Au Prince today.

After several hours of fighting at the presidential residence where Guillaume made a courageous defense against the revolutionists, the president took refuge in the French legation, whither he had been preceded by the members of his family. The place was on fire before Guillaume decided to seek refuge under the flag of France.

Rebellious troops of the government attacked the palace at 4 o'clock and continued firing upon it for two hours. The president was supported by a few loyal troops and the members of his personal staff.

Also Obliged to Flee.

Gen. Oscar, governor of Port Au Prince, continued his resistance at the palace even after Guillaume had left, but his situation soon became untenable and he was obliged to flee to the Dominican legation.

Fire Chief Had to Pay.

Fire Chief Tim Doud, of Peru, came in the limelight this week when he had a heated controversy with a conductor on the Main street line at that place. The Peru city lines are owned by the Fort Wayne and Northern Indiana Traction company. According to information from Peru the conductor told him he would be obliged to pay or get off the car. "You don't know who I am," said Tim. "I'm chief of the fire department." "It don't make any difference to me who you are, you'll have to pay to ride on this car or get off." Several more words passed between them, when Tim threatened to stretch a line of hose across the track and stop the car, to which the conductor replied that if he did he'd run the car over the hose and cut them in two. This ended the controversy and the chief coughed up the carfare and was taken to the end of his journey.

TOUCHARD ADMITS GOLF BALL THEFTS

The Former Indoor Tennis Champion Pleads Guilty to Larceny.

New York, July 27.—Gustav Touchard, 27, former indoor tennis champion and for several years a keen contender in outdoor national tournaments, plead guilty today to the larceny of golf balls valued at $140 from Abercrombie & Fitch, dealers in sporting goods, where he was a trusted employee. Judge Rosalsky, of general sessions, before whom he made his plea, remanded him for sentence until Friday.

George Gordon Battle, counsel for Touchard, in asking for mercy for his client, told the court that early this year Touchard's wife died in childbirth, and that the defendant was left with the baby. Doctors and medicine bills, he said, had piled up and his client's resources were at an end. Then came temptation and he fell.

A number of prominent tennis men have written to Judge Rosalsky in his behalf.

CRAZY INEBRIATE TRIES TO END LIFE

A man so crazy with drink that he could not tell his own name and had to be booked as John Doe, stripped off his clothing in a police cell Tuesday forenoon and with the shreds of his garments tried to hang himself from the upper grating of his prison. He was overpowered, taken to the jail and put in the padded cell. He was taken from the hayloft in the stable at the rear of the McKiernan grocery on Grand street, where he had crawled to sleep and fought furiously against disturbance. At the station he raved over having been robbed of $75 that he said he worked all summer on a farm to earn. The police searched his clothing thoroughly but could find no trace of any money and it was concluded that if the man had been robbed it must have been in one of the saloons near the railroads, where he had been drinking. Detective Sergeants Spillner and Junk were detailed to make an investigation.

300 EXCURSIONISTS THROWN INTO PANIC

Packet and Pleasure Boat Collide in Ohio River Near Vevay.

Vevay, Ind., July 27.—Three hundred excursionists on the excursion steamer Homer Smith were badly frightened when the packet City of Louisville collided with the Homer Smith in the Ohio river near here early today. The coolness of the excursion boat's crew, it is said, prevented a panic. Four women fainted. Both steamers were only slightly damaged.

The packet, it is said, was endeavoring to pass the Homer Smith when the current threw her against the other craft, demolishing a part of the packet's wheelhouse. In an endeavor to get away she rammed the Smith and stripped a number of buckets from her wheel. The Homer Smith was en route to Vevay to unload her passengers and the City of Louisville was making her regular trip to Cincinnati.

BUILDING AND LOAN ASSOCIATIONS GAIN

Increase Assets Over One Hundred Millions in Past Year.

San Francisco, July 27.—The building and loan associations of the United States increased their assets a little more than $100,000,000 in 1914, marking a growth of 8.72 per cent. over the previous year, according to the annual report of A. S. Cellarus, of Cincinnati, secretary of the United States League of Local Building and Loan Associations made here today at the twenty-third annual meeting. Secretary Cellarus continued: "Considering the fact that this period included nearly six months of the great war in Europe, during which time there also existed in this country an industrial depression more or less severe, this showing speaks volumes for the thrift and saving habits of the wage earning class of our citizens who are the chief patrons of these institutions."

There are in the United States 6,662 building and loan associations with a membership of 3,310,000 and assets aggregating $1,367,340,036. This is an increase over last year of 183 associations, 267,102 members and $108,860,837 in assets. The average amount due each member is $437.36, as against $440.16, the amount shown last year.

STILL RAGING AFTER 7 DAYS

Battle Along Isonzo River is Mightiest and Most Frightful of War.

AUSTRO-ITALIAN CONFLICT FEARFUL

Germans Still Driving at Warsaw Against Stiff Resistance.

Berlin, July 27.—The battle between the Italians and Austrians along the Isonzo river is described by the correspondent in the Tyrol of the Lokal Anzeiger as being "mightiest and most frightful of the world war."

The great struggle has lasted a week, the correspondent says, without any decision having been reached. The principal Italian onslaught has been directed against the Doberdo plateau where the artillery fire exceeds in intensity that of the battles of Tarnow and Gorlice in Galicia. The correspondent adds:

"The conflict, which is being directed from captive balloons, lasted three days without any interruption and after only a few hours' pause was resumed. The Austrian army, which is composed of soldiers of nearly all the nationalities in the dual monarchy, endures the terrible fire bravely and when the Italians gain a position they are soon thrown out of it.

"Italian aviators are continually seeking to destroy the railways at the rear of the Austrian lines, especially around Nabresina, but thus far they have done no great damage."

Submarines in Battle.

The French submarine Mariotte was destroyed by a German submarine on July 26 in the narrows of the Dardanelles, according to a dispatch from Constantinople. Thirty-one members of the French submarine crew were captured.

The narrows where the engagement took place is about midway of the Dardanelles straits between the Aegean sea and the sea of Marmora. They were fifteen miles from the entrance to the straits.

AUSTRIAN WARSHIPS BOMBARD.

Today's War News Given in Summary.

The German advance on Warsaw continues today to be the most important development in the field of war. It is being conducted with energy, and the Russian resistance has brought furious fighting along a wide front. Nevertheless, the latest reports indicate that the German movement to envelop the Polish capital is progressing.

A Russian official report admits that the Germans are attacking the advance defenses of Novgeorogivsk, fifteen miles northwest of Warsaw, but at the same time recites a number of instances in which the Germans have been either repulsed or unsuccessful in their attacks. The battle is still raging with terrific fury on almost the whole front between the Viprez and the Bug rivers. Furthermore, Petrograd announces the destruction in the Black sea of forty sailing vessels laden with coal for Germany.

The casualties in the fighting in the Italo-Austrian frontier, have latterly been very heavy, according to a news despatch received by the Tribune of Geneva.

There have been no developments of any moment on the western front. The French official report of today recites a few minor engagements, but shows no changes of importance.

A correspondent on the Italian front of a German newspaper has described the fighting along the Isonzo rivers, the mightiest and most frightful of the war. For seven days it has been going on, and no result yet had been attained. Captive balloons are being used to direct the fire of the artillery, and Italian aeroplanes are brought forward in attempts to destroy the railroads to the rear of the Austrian forces.

Gas Explosion Traps Miners; Eight Dead

Christopher, Ill., July 27.—Eight men were killed and fifteen badly burned in a gas explosion at one of the entrances of the Moderwell mine here today. Three men are missing.

The number of men in the mine is not clear, estimates ranging from 250 to 450. Less than thirty men were at the entrance where the explosion took place. All save those at the burning entrance escaped.

When the explosion occurred it was regarded as certain that at least nineteen miners had been trapped in a position from which it would be impossible for them to escape. The accident occurred four hundred feet below the surface.

MOST OF THEM ESCAPE.

Murphysboro, Ill., July 27.—Four hundred and fifty men were in the mine at Christopher, Ill., when the explosion occurred but most of them escaped.

Seven men were taken out dead and fourteen were taken out badly burned.

court-martial law governing the national guard, which provides for the appointment of not less than five nor more than thirteen commissioned officers by the adjutant general to try such cases. Under the general court-martial law such a body would have power to impose fines of not more than $300 and to imprison in jail for not more than six months. Such a body also would have power to dismiss the accused from service.

At the time of the shooting, McDowell was a private in the militia company from Madison, Ind. Ball was doing provost duty and had charge of McDowell, who was accused of attempting to smuggle liquor into the camp. It is charged that McDowell attempted to escape, when Ball fired. McDowell died later in a hospital.

Governor Ralston said yesterday he did not know how soon the court-martial would be named, but that it probably would be within the next few days. On his return from the west Governor Ralston learned that the indictment against Ball had been quashed, and, believing that some action should be taken to fix responsibility for the death of McDowell, he directed that the court-martial be organized and that the accused be given a trial in that way.

GERMAN SUBMARINE ATTACKED TURNWELL

New York, July 27.—Captain Humby, of the British steamer Turnwell, which arrived today from Swansea, reported that after sailing from Liverpool on June 15, he encountered a German submarine thirty-five miles off Tuskar. The submarine fired several shots from a rapid firer at the Turnwell, and the crew of the latter took to their boats. The Germans then boarded the Turnwell, Humby said, exploded several bombs in the empty holds and abandoned the steamer to attack the British coasting steamer Trafford. After sinking the Trafford the submarine crew returned to the Turnwell, but before they could do any further damage to the steamer, patrol boats of the British fleet appeared, and the submarine disappeared.

NOW WRITING AERIAL INSURANCE.

German Company Indemnifies Against Airship Attacks.

Washington, July 27.—Insurance against damage to property in Germany by aircraft is one of the latest developments of the European war. The American consul general at Dresden, Saxony, reporting to the department of commerce said a demand for insurance against bombs had been created by aeroplane attacks upon German cities near the battle lines.

As a result a German insurance company has established what, the consul says, may properly be called aerial insurance, policies being issued covering damage to all property caused either by explosives thrown from the aeroplanes or the aeroplanes themselves in landing. No provision is made for injury to or loss of life.

SHOULD HAVE BEEN IMMUNE

Washington Believes Attack on Leelanaw New Breach of 1828 Treaty.

BUT IS AWAITING THE FULL DETAILS

Course of U. S. Government Will Then Be Determined Upon.

Washington, July 27.—Details of the sinking of the American steamship Leelanaw by a German submarine were today awaited by officials of the United States government pending which they are reserved in their comments.

A full account of the destruction of the Leelanaw is not expected until the American consul at Dundee, Scotland, has completed his investigation. The inquiry was to begin there today with the arrival of the vessel's crew.

Only meagre accounts of the sinking of the steamer have been received here. The episode, however, is the subject of considerable informal discussion, coming so soon after the delivery of the American note to Germany.

The course to be pursued by the American government will not be finally determined upon till all facts in the case have been received. It is probable, however, that the procedure will be the same as in the case of the Wm. P. Frye, when the United States disputed Germany's right to destroy American ships even if carrying contraband.

Officials here are of the opinion that the Leelanaw should have been immune from attack and that Germany in reality had again violated the Prussian-American treaty of 1828.

330,995 IS TOTAL OF BRITISH CASUALTIES

Asquith Gives Out Figures on English Army and Navy Losses.

London, July 27.—The casualties in the British army and navy have reached a total of 330,995, according to a printed statement issued by Premier Asquith.

The total naval casualties up to July 20 were 9,306 and the military casualties to July 18 were 321,889. The naval losses were divided as follows: Officers killed, 49; wounded, 87; missing, 29; men killed, 7,131; wounded, 787; missing, 274.

Premier Asquith announced in the house of commons on June 9 that the total British casualties, excluding the naval division, had been 258,069 up to May 31 in killed, wounded and missing. This shows casualties in the army alone of 63,820 between May 31 and July 18. A statement made in London June 15 giving the number of killed, wounded and missing in the British navy up to May 31 as 13,547 evidently was erroneous in the fact of Premier Asquith's statement. On April 11 H. J. Tennant, under secretary for war, announced the total of British losses since the beginning of the fighting as 139,378. If his figures were correct the British have lost 182,582 men in the past fourteen weeks, an average of 13,000 a week. Great Britain is the only one of the powers engaged in the war which has announced from time to time her total casualties. Germany has issued at home full lists by name of all men killed, wounded or missing, but the government has given out no official total. No comprehensive lists of casualties have been given out by France, Russia, Austria-Hungary or Italy.

FIRST NIGHT OF ELKS' BIG REVIEW

The first performance of the Elks' Big Review was given Monday evening in a tent located on North Calhoun street, and, though the audience was not large, the performers were enthusiastically applauded throughout the entire entertainment. Larger audiences are expected Tuesday and Wednesday evenings.

The entertainment is in the form of a minstrel, entirely different, however, from the average minstrel show. The production is most gorgeously staged, and the costumes are beautiful and costly.

The show opened with a tenor solo, "Perfect Day," by Herman Martin, followed by fancy dancing by Fish and Romary. The Elks' quartet, composed of Marion Kiess, Rodney Breidenstein, David Erwin and Herman Martin, made a most favorable impression, the singers being called back several times.

Music throughout the evening was furnished by Prof. O. E. Osterle and orchestra, which was one of the big features of the entertainment.

The proceeds derived from the performances will be employed for charitable purposes.

Frank F. Heighway, of Crown Point, superintendent of the Lake county schools, was a visitor in Fort Wayne Monday. Mr. Heighway was here in the interest of his candidacy for the republican nomination for state superintendent of public instruction.

GERMAN ENVELOPING MOVEMENT VAST ONE

London, July 27.—The magnitude of the German enveloping movement in the eastern field now is absorbing the attention of the British officials and public. The latest reports show that Gen. von Buelow's cavalry have turned southward from Riga and are within eighty miles of the railway connecting Petrograd with Warsaw.

In this way the northern German line is closing in on the main northern railway artery to the Russian capital while the southern army similarly is pressing the main railroad running to Odessa. It is declared human history can show no parallel to the tremendous extent of this enveloping movement which involves results to Russia and the western allies comparing with Russia's resistance to a Mongolian invasion.

The Times believes the operations are a real danger not alone to Warsaw but to the whole system of railway defenses of which the city is the center and that it now is apparent that the Germans are planning to envelop the entire Russian army in this region. The newspaper points out that the fall of Warsaw will have a grave significance for the west, as it will mean that Russia's power to resume a successful offensive will have been indefinitely postponed and the principal bases for operations would be in the hands of Germany. Today's Petrograd statement saying that the Germans have been thrown back at one point of the Narew river brings some relief to London, as the military observers held that the final results depend largely upon Russia prolonging her resistance until climatic conditions in that country interpose a barrier to the full realization of the German plan.

Reports from the other military fields, with the exception of the Italian frontier where the Italians claim to have taken 1,600 prisoners, show comparative inactivity.

1,500 STRIKERS GO BACK AT BAYONNE

Return to Work With Prospect That Wage Increase Will Come.

New York, July 27.—About 1,500 men who had been on strike for several days, returned to work today in the plants of the Standard Oil company and the Tidewater Oil company in Bayonne, N. J. Mayor Pierre Garvin and Sheriff Kinkead declared that the strike was broken, that by agreement the strikers would be back at work and that several hundred guards who have been protecting the plants could be removed. The sheriff said he was positive an increase in pay would be granted the employes before the end of this week.

About 5,000 men have been idle since the strike began in the plants of the Standard Oil company. As a result of this strike and of disorder in which several of the strikers and their sympathizers were shot and killed, employes of the Tidewater Oil company quit work, it was said, unwillingly. The return of the men to work followed Sheriff Kikead's action yesterday in taking command of a meeting of the English speaking strikers and obtaining their vote to go back, after he had arrested Jeremiah J. Baly, their leader. Sheriff Kinkead had 650 uniformed policemen and guards stationed about the Standard Oil plant when the men went to work today. For six blocks a guard was stationed every fifty feet and on every corner was a policeman with a rifle. A crowd of several hundred men who gathered near the oil works was dispersed by the sheriff. Two arrests were made but there was no disorder and the sheriff appeared to have absolute control.

Many of the alien employes followed the English speaking strikers as they entered the oil plant and the sheriff was confident that all the foreigners would go back to work.

The strike was begun to enforce a demand for a 15 per cent increase in wages.

RALSTON ORDERS A COURT MARTIAL

Guard Sergeant Ball to Be Tried for Killing Private in 1913.

Indianapolis, July 27.—Under an order from Governor Ralston, a court-martial to try Sergt. Edwin F. Ball, of the Indiana national guard for the killing of Private Walter McDowell at the time of the guard encampment on July 21, 1913, will be organized probably within the next week. Ball was indicted by the Marion county grand jury shortly after the tragedy, but on motion of his attorneys the indictment was quashed by Judge Collins in the Marion criminal court for lack of jurisdiction.

It is probable the proceedings against Ball now will be under the general

GIRL BREAKS LEG AGAIN.

Whitley County Sisters Are in Splints Most of the Time.

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—Miss Eva Graves, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Graves, of Jefferson township, and a sister of Miss Mina Graves, who accompanied her in a daring ride this spring which resulted in a terrible accident in which both girls received broken legs, fell Sunday in the parlor at the home of her parents and rebroke her right leg above the knee.

Miss Mina and Miss Eva Graves drove to this city last May on the day of the Whitley county track meet and in the evening while returning to their home, in Jefferson township, indulged in a race, when near the Sam Hurd farm, just east of this city. The race ended when the rig driven by the girls was thrown against a telephone pole, the buggy torn to pieces and both girls sustained broken legs. The girls were taken to the office of Dr. Souder, of this city, where he, assisted by Dr. Nolt, reduced the fractures and they were then taken to their home. They were recovering nicely and were gradually growing stronger until recently.

About a month ago Miss Mina, the eldest of the sisters, was walking in the yard when she fell and rebroke her leg. She was taken to the St. Joseph hospital in Fort Wayne by Dr. E. V. Nolt, where he, assisted by Dr. MacBeth, reduced the fracture. On this occasion the doctors were compelled to perform an operation on the young lady in order to get the bones of the leg together correctly.

COLUMBIA CITY MAN DIES.

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—Nicholas R. Eisaman, aged 79, a well known citizen of this city, and veteran of the civil war, passed away at his home on North Line street, Monday afternoon, death being due to cancer of the stomach. He was born in Westmoreland county, Pa., and lived quietly at home until the war broke out and then enlisted with Company H, 84th regiment Pennsylvania volunteers. He remained in the army during the entire war, and during that time was in some of the thickest and heaviest of the fighting. After the war he went back to his home in Westmoreland county, where he remained for a short time. After his parents moved to Allen county, this state he followed them to Indiana. Later on his parents moved to Whitley county and he accompanied them. He was united in marriage on August 9th, 1887, to Miss Dilla Hoosack, of this city, and to this union six children were born, among those surviving being Ray Eisaman, of Fort Wayne.

ON TRAIL OF FORGER.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Sheriff Johnston has a warrant for the arrest of Edward C. Willard, wanted here for forgery, and the police of Fort Wayne and other cities have been asked to help locate the alleged crook. The accused man, Willard, is specifically charged with having presented and received payment of a forged check calling for $8.50 at the Farling & Sons meat market, a few days ago. He represented that he was a traveling salesman for a salt firm in Cleveland, Ohio, and named three or four local parties to whom he claimed to have sold salt. Later investigation showed that none of the persons named had bought salt from him.

ROBBERIES AT PIERCETON.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—One of the most sensational robberies in the history of the county was accomplished in a daring manner last night when yeggs entered two Pierceton stores in the early morning and escaped with loot valued at more than $100. The robbers gained entrance to the Radcliff Bro.'s general store by breaking in the back door. The fireproof—but not burglar proof—safe was easy prey for the thieves at first as the heavy outer door was opened by combination. The inner, small cash chest was a stumbling block, however, but finally was pried off and $60 in cash taken. The Brosnahan hardware store was entered and the cash register rifled of more than $10 and a number of tools taken.

BOTH WILL RECOVER.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—Mrs. George Lamaster suffered no internal injuries Sunday evening when Ray Foust lost control of his jitney bus north of Banquo and it overturned, her physician said yesterday. Mr. Lamaster is the more seriously injured, but is not in a critical condition. Four ribs and his collar bone were fractured. They are at their home, 1320 Marshal street. Miss Frances Erlenbaugh, of Marshal street, who was the fourth person in the automobile, has only a few bruises to remind her of the accident. Foust also has bruises and minor cuts. Fresh gravel on the road a mile and a half north of Banquo caused the machine to leave the road.

NOBLE COUNTY CITIZEN DIES.

Albion, Ind., July 27.—David Winebrenner, age 78, prominent Noble county farmer, expired at his home near Merriman. His death was due to heart trouble and gangrene which developed in his left foot. Mr. Winebrenner was born in Pennsylvania, August 3, 1837. He had resided in Noble county for thirty years. The widow and five children survive. The children are Andrew, of Merriman; Mrs. J. S. Zumbrum, Whitley county; Mrs. Thomas Skinner, Wolf lake; Mrs. George Miller, Cromwell; Mrs. Mildred Winebrenner, of Merriman.

LARWILL HAS ROBBERY.

Columbia City, Ind., July 27.—The Adams Express company office in Larwill was robbed Sunday afternoon between the hours of 5:30 and 6 o'clock and $15 belonging to Sherman Welker who conducts a news stand and looks after the express business, and $10 of the company's money was taken. The boldness of the robbery has startled the people of Larwill, and they have strong suspicions as to the guilty party.

Mr. Welker immediately notified the Express company of the loss and they have men on the field conducting a thorough investigation.

WELLS COUNTY COUPLE TO WED.

Bluffton, Ind., July 27.—Invitations have been issued for the marriage of a well known and popular young couple residing in Liberty township, and the announcement of the approaching marriage will be received with pleasure by their many friends. The invitations were issued by Mr. and Mrs. Eli Rowe for the marriage of their daughter, Miss Victo Rowe, to Mr. O. E. D. Heckman, a son of Mrs. Lydia Heckman. The marriage ceremony will take place on Sunday, August 8th, at 8 a. m., at the home of Miss Rowe's parents.

SUES FOR THREE YEARS' WAGES.

Huntington, Ind., July 27.—Back wages amounting to $700 are due him for work as a farm hand at $20 a month, William Robinson asserts in a suit filed yesterday against his employer, Sarah Dunton. Robinson says his wages were not paid from month to month until he asked the court to order the sum paid, which represents thirty-five months' work.

UNCLE DIED ON EASTLAND.

Kendallville, Ind., July 27.—William Johnston, chauffeur for H. I. Park, left Monday for Chicago, where he will attend the funeral of his uncle, Thomas Johnston, 1935 Kimball avenue, who was one of the victims of the Eastland disaster. He said his uncle had been in the employ of the Western Electric works for twenty years.

BURGLAR BECOMES A HERMIT.

Former Sing Sing Convict Found Living in Seclusion.

Pleasantville, N. J., July 23.—A strange recluse, living in a miserable log hut with a dirt roof in a desolate spot, a few miles from here, was discovered by a New York detective searching for a murderer from that city. The recluse was living in wretched surroundings and admitted that while he was well supplied with food he did no work. He declined to reveal his source of income, however, and admitted that he was a former convict from Sing Sing, having served a sentence as a "gentleman burglar."

The discovery of the hermit was made by Detective Allen, who recognized the man and told him a reward of $250 offered for the hunted slayer would be his if he gave information of his whereabouts. The hermit said he knew the man, but had not seen him in years. Asked why he did not return to New York, the unkempt hut dweller said he feared to return to his temptations.

Try This For Removing Hairs

Hairs on the face, arms or neck can be very easily and safely removed by a simple solution that dissolves them entirely, leaving the skin soft and smooth as velvet. Get an ounce of sulfo solution from your druggist, apply with finger tips, keeping the hairs moist for a few minutes, you will soon see them shrivel up and dissolve away. Any druggist will sell you sulfo solution; it is a little expensive, but one ounce will be all you will ever need, as the hairs very rarely return after this first application.

THE SENTINEL'S DAILY SCRIPTURE READING.

Genesis 50:1-13.

1 And Joseph fell upon his father's face, and wept upon him, and kissed him.

2 And Joseph commanded his servants the physicians to embalm his father: and the physicians embalmed Israel.

3 And forty days were fulfilled for him; for so are fulfilled the days of those which are embalmed: and the Egyptians mourned for him threescore and ten days.

4 And when the days of his mourning were past, Joseph spake unto the house of Pharaoh, saying, If now I have found grace in your eyes, speak, I pray you, in the ears of Pharaoh, saying,

5 My father made me swear, saying, Lo, I die: in my grave which I have digged for me in the land of Canaan, there shalt thou bury me. Now therefore let me go up, I pray thee, and bury my father, and I will come again.

6 And Pharaoh said, Go up, and bury thy father, according as he made thee swear.

7 And Joseph went up to bury his father: and with him went up all the servants of Pharaoh, the elders of his house, and all the elders of the land of Egypt,

8 And all the house of Joseph, and his brethren, and his father's house: only their little ones, and their flocks, and their herds, they left in the land of Goshen.

9 And there went up with him both chariots and horsemen: and it was a very great company.

10 And they came to the threshingfloor of Atad, which is beyond Jordan, and there they mourned with a great and very sore lamentation: and he made a mourning for his father seven days.

11 And when the inhabitants of the land, the Canaanites, saw the mourning in the floor of Atad, they said, This is a grievous mourning to the Egyptians: wherefore the name of it was called Abel-mizraim, which is beyond Jordan.

12 And his sons did unto him according as he commanded them:

13 For his sons carried him into the land of Canaan, and buried him in the cave of the field of Machpelah, which Abraham bought with the field for a possession of a buryingplace of Ephron the Hittite, before Mamre.

The Eastland Investigations

Investigations, complete and thorough, of the Eastland disaster at Chicago, are promised and some of them are under way. The federal government, the state of Illinois and the city of Chicago all purpose taking up the frightful catastrophe and making inquiry down to the last detail to determine upon whose shoulders shall rest the blame for the loss of more than one thousand lives. When all is said and done, will it be discovered that some pitiful little figure has been chosen to be the "goat" in the calamity, just as they piled the blame for the loss of the General Slocum upon the poor old captain, and as they piled the larger share of blame for the Titanic disaster upon the grave of its dead commander beneath the waters of the sea?

Investigations will be futile if they fail to go deeply and searchingly and place the blame fearlessly. The men who are manning these craft go out under orders from responsible owners. Their jobs, their salaries, their living, the living of their families, depended upon their carrying out the orders of these responsible owners. If they refuse to do so, their jobs are at an end and less scrupulous captains would have had their places.

The newest indications are that the Eastland was criminally overloaded, and that she was habitually overloaded; that again and again thousands of lives had been placed in jeopardy when the safe capacity of the craft was overtaxed in the greed for profits. Do you believe it possible there were among the responsible owners men who did not known this fact—who had not been warned of it, but who were willing to take a chance with the lives of others? Evidence is accumulating that skilled engineers had called attention to the freakish and faulty construction of the Eastland, and warned that failure to remedy the defects would end in disaster. And what of the federal inspection service? What of the officials who counted the throngs streaming into the Eastland and failed to halt the human tide before the limit of safety had been reached? Much feeling developed against Captain Pederson, of the Eastland, and he was for a time in danger of violence at the hands of the frenzied throngs gathered at the scene. Yet Captain Pederson is but a mere cog in the great machine. He can at most be charged with an infinitesimally small portion of the blame. The real responsibility for the disaster is clearly in some other quarter. Let it be hoped that some of the various investigations started will be able to find that quarter.

News from Washington is to the effect that a definite step toward settling the Mexican problem will soon be taken by the United States government, and, indeed, some such action has been forecasted for some time. No announcement is forthcoming as to the means to be employed, but it is difficult to see how any other step than actual intervention can be efficacious. For more than two years the United States, with its self-assumed responsibility of policing the North American continent, has patiently insisted that the Mexican people be permitted to adjust their own differences, and it has sought by every means short of the application of force to aid them in doing so. It is becoming clear to even the most patient of American leaders that some more radical remedy than has yet been used must be applied. That can mean but one thing, and that thing is armed intervention, with its cost in good American lives as well as dollars.

It is said that the section of the state militia now in camp at Fort Benjamin Harrison for annual instruction is devoting itself to real work as never before in the history of the annual encampments. The recent shake-up given the Indiana national guard by Uncle Sam's orders may prove to have been a genuine service to that organization. There is certainly a more pronounced effort at efficiency now evident than has been manifested for some years.

The European war may end, as some prophets profess to believe, before another winter season arrives, but it will be noted that the German forethought and preparation is still in good working order. German army authorities announce officially that full provision has been made for warm underclothing, gloves and wristlets for the soldiers of the kaiser for an "eventual winter campaign."

Correspondence which is now coming to light indicates that the owners of the steamship Eastland were in violent opposition to the new seaman's bill which was designed to provide greater safety for both passengers and crews on American vessels. The disaster at Chicago would make it clear that such was the case even in the absence of documentary evidence of that fact.

(Indiana Daily Times.)

We do not know Harry Worden, of Huntington. We do not know why he is a bachelor. We do know he ought to be one of the best daddies in Indiana. He deserves the supreme happiness that goes only with intelligent fatherhood and warm home felicity. Worden is one bachelor who has solved, in a way, the question of a "Bachelor's day."

For a few hours Thursday Worden became ex-officio the proud papa of 4,000 Huntington county little ones. It was "Worden day" in name, but it was the children's day in fact, with Worden the joyous host to romping childhood. Never did Indiana see such a day of innocent enjoyment.

Thousands of ham sandwiches, thousands of cookies, thousands of packages of crackerjack, hundreds of gallons of lemonade and 300 gallons of ice cream, all free to the young ones, and all topped off with games and contests and a fairy play with children for fairies—this was Worden's beautiful, realized, happy vision of a "Bachelor's day."

No wonder the fathers and mothers of Huntington children caught the glad spirit of the occasion and flocked, 6,000 of them, to the fair grounds, to share in the happiness of the babies. No wonder the business men, aroused to the meaning of the event, closed their shops and tagged along with the kiddies to see and to join in the fun. It is to the lasting credit of those business men that they doffed dignity, put on aprons and slaved in the sun to make the children happy and to fill them with the sweets of "Worden day."

For once Worden and the children had absolute sway. Toiling in relays, the best citizens of Huntington bowed before sentiment and ran hither and thither bearing viands to small boys and American princesses.

Worden, though childless, teaches the parents of children a wholesome lesson. In this second annual celebration of the meaning and beauty of childhood Worden reminds fathers and mothers that girls and boys, both large and small, babies and all, are large, and vital factors in home life. Further, Worden's tribute of love to all children may serve to teach many parents that a little more unashamed affection and softness toward the little ones; a little more frank, open consideration for the entertainment and for the reasonable desires of the babies would be not only worth while, but helpful.

It is not difficult to win and hold the love of a child. On the other hand one may quickly forfeit the respect and regard of a youngster and later find it is difficult to regain the old affection.

Worden seems to be a natural born daddy. Our hat is off to him. We join the children in congratulating him. We felicitate Huntington on having a citizen who owns a heart and mind capable of conceiving and carrying out such a joy enterprise as that lovingly called "Worden day."

UTILIZING WEST POINT.

(Milwaukee Wisconsin.)

When Speaker Champ Clark, at San Francisco the other day expressed his views on national defense he avowed himself in favor of doubling the number of cadets at West Point and also of making provision that would enable any boy possessing prescribed qualifications to secure education on reasonable terms either at West Point or Annapolis.

Gen. King, at Camp Douglas, said that the greatest need now is to see that West Point is employed to its full capacity. The academy could graduate four times as many finished soldiers as it does, if it were fed with sufficient material, and the country would feel safer in times of emergency with the knowledge that the output of this school of trained military men able to officer the citizen armies was not as at present 250, but 1,000 men a year.

Gen. King does not think that a second military academy, located in the west, would give results as good as are obtained at the institution baloed with tradition on the Hudson.

Far better than maintenance of a large standing army would be provisions for the drilling of soldiers on brief notice and for their command when drilled by men technically skilled in the art of war. The idea of utilizing West Point to its full capacity is a good one.

AT THE TEMPLE.

TRUTH OPENS EYES.

"Ready Money" Ryder in "Lion and Mouse" Human Under Surface.

Truth as an eye-opener is potent. This fact is exemplified in the finance drama, "The Lion and the Mouse," in which "Ready Money" Rider, blinded by the power of his money and his financial connections, finds himself suddenly enmeshed in the folds of a domestic revolution, headed by his son, Jefferson Ryder, who does not hesitate to speak his mind to his father relative to the latter's ruthless campaign against Judge Rossmore's character. Jefferson, however, is too much of a chip off the old block to accomplish any definite results. His straight-from-the-shoulder attack is parried and then met by similar weapons, but when Shirley Rossmore, the talented daughter of the judge, taken into the confidence of "Ready Money" Ryder exercises her woman's wits, she finds a way through scornful truth to bring the money king to his knees as he sees reflected a true image of himself in the biting arraignment this girl presents. The drama is one of Charles Klein's, written round the exposures of interference by big capital with the governmental functions of the United States senate and the judicial activities of our Federal courts.

AT THE JEFFERSON.

BEAUTIFUL LENORE ULRICH.

Star of "The Bird of Paradise," at Jefferson—Pathe Pictorial News.

Lenore Ulrich is ideal as "Kilmeny," a child of aristocratic parentage who grows up from 6 to 18 with roving gypsies, becoming probably as beautiful and touching a character in her supreme love of living things of wood and stream as has ever been portrayed upon the screen. At the same time the role is distinctly amusing, and it would be hard to conceive anything funnier than "Kilmeny's" return to society as represented by Lord Leigh's manor. The novelty of electric light switches which push on and off, tickle shower baths and hardwood floors which yield a beautiful sliding surface for a rug-craft, are comedy opportunities of which Lenore Ulrich takes full advantage. She is a veritable little tornado of fun.

The Pathe Pictorial News, which is an invariable attraction on Tuesdays and Wednesdays, is shown with "Kilmeny." Thursday and Friday bring Hazel Dawn to the Jefferson in "Gambier's Advocate," presented with a brilliant supporting cast, including James Kirkwood, Maude Odell, Robert Broderick and Fuller Mellish. Monday, Marguerite Clark is in Margaret Delano's "Seven Sisters."

EASTLAND SCENES HERE.

No Hint of Course With Regard to Mexico is Revealed.

Washington, July 27.—Official announcement that the United States government shortly would make a definite move to solve the Mexican problem led to some speculation here today as to just what course would be pursued. The announcement did not reveal the nature of teh action planned.

President Wilson has been giving close study to the Mexican situation, particularly since the heads of the warring factions have failed to heed his warning to settle their differences and bring peace to the troubled republic. The president, it is said, was weighing carefully several suggested courses, but an announcement of his decision likely will not be made until after his return from Cornish, N. H.

The most probable step, it was said, will be to make a final plea to Gen. Carranza to confer with other factional leaders in an effort to insure peace. Failing in this, conferences of other Mexican chiefs will be urged. A government formed by them might be recognized by the United States and aid given to maintain it.

attack on the presidential residence was the chief of police of Port Au Prince. The exact number of casualties has not yet been determined but it is believed to be heavy.

At 10:30 the rifle firing was about over and officials and citizens went out upon the streets to take stock of the damage in lives and property.

By noon the city was in the possession of revolutionists. The movement was started by a regiment of soldiers who had been disbanded by President Guillaume and who resented this treatment.

Reign of Terror.

There has been a reign of terror in Port Au Prince for the past ten days. On the 17th of July President Guillaume, doubtless realizing that his fall was but a question of a few days, started on a series of persecutions. He began by causing the arrest of all Haitiens of any wealth or position, without distinction of age or sex and expelling all foreigners. He apparently recognized the fact that the spirit of revolution was growing and that he knew the rebels were marching on the capital. Haitien women have been arrested on the streets and taken away to prison. On July 17 a French actress, Madame Taldy, was treated in this arbitrary manner. The prisons of the city are full and the conditions in them are deplorable. Prisoners die daily as a result of hunger and the unsanitary conditions in which they are compelled to live. The foreign legations hold many refugees.

The present revolution in Haiti has been going on for several months. The purpose of it is to drive out President Guillaume and set up in his stead Dr. Rosalvo Bobo. Up to the present time the fighting has been largely on the northern coast of the island, but the outbreak of today brings it into the capital on the southern side.

Rear Admiral Caperton, U. S. N., has been in command of the American cruiser Washington in Haitien waters since early in July. The French also have had a cruiser on the Haitian coast. The American vessel was sent to afford protection to American interests. Admiral Caperton about two weeks ago landed marines at Cape Haitien on the north coast to protect foreign interests. The Bobo revolt was declared a few days after Gen. Guillaume was proclaimed president of the republic last March. Dr. Bobo raised a force of men and captured Cape Haitien. Later the Guillaume forces retook Cape Haitien and then Bobo captured it a second time.

the country were present at the opening session. Among the distinguished visitors is Rev. Eisseld, of River Grove, Ill., founder of the Lutheran Children's Friends society.

Services Tonight.

Services will be held in all the Lutheran churches in the city Tuesday evening, the pulpits to be occupied by visiting ministers as follows: Redeemer, Rev. August Schlechte, in charge of the Chicago Lutheran Rescue mission; St. Paul, Rev. Jauss, superintendent of the Lutheran institution for epileptics at Watertown, Wis.; Trinity, Rev. C. Franke, in charge of the Buffalo Lutheran city mission; Emmaus, Rev. H. Hartman, superintendent of the Iowa Children's Friend society's institution at Fort Dodge, Ia.; Zion, Rev. H. Herzberger, of St. Louis; Concordia, Rev. Eisseld, of River Grove, Ill., founder of the Lutheran Children's Friend society; Emmanuel, Rev. F. Rudi, superintendent of the Lutheran hospital at St. Louis.

The evening services will begin at 7:45 o'clock, and the proceeds from the offerings will be divided among the following institutions: Lutheran sanitarium, Denver, Colo.; institution for the deaf and dumb at Detroit, Mich., home for epileptics and feeble-minded persons at Watertown, Wis., and for other charitable purposes.

President Makes Report.

One of the features of the session Tuesday morning was the report of President Wambsganss in which he briefly reviewed the work of the year and urged even greater things during the coming year.

An interesting paper was read just before adjournment at the noon hour by Prof. Dau on "Charity and Its Relation to the Work of the Church."

A sumptuous dinner was served by the ladies' committee at 12 o'clock. Between seventy-five and eighty were served.

Represent Fifty-four Institutions.

According to figures compiled by Rev. F. M. Rudi, official statistician of the organization, the fifty-four institutions represented by the delegates to the convention include eleven hospitals, eleven orphanages, eight homes for the aged, fourteen children's friends' societies, one school for the feeble-minded, one school for the deaf and dumb and other institutions representing a total estimated valuation of close to $1,500,000. A total of 7,319 patients have been cared for during the past year in the eleven hospitals, with a total number of 429 beds. The total number of orphans in the care of the synod is 441, of whom eighty-nine were admitted during the past year. A total of 328 children were cared for by the children's friends' associations. Of this number 150 were placed in homes or adopted, while 147 are being cared for in the synod's institutions. The total number of inmates in the homes for the aged is 389, while 143 patients are being cared for in the homes for the feeble-minded and deaf and dumb.

Adriatic between Senigallia, sixteen miles northwest of Ancona and Pezaro. At the same time several shells were thrown into the villages of Fano and Senigallia.

At the same hour two hydroaeroplanes dropped bombs on Ancona. Neither bombardment killed or wounded any one, and the damage inflicted was slight.

ITALIAN GENERAL SLAIN.

Udine, Italy, July 26.—(Via Paris, July 27.)—Gen. Antonio Cantore has been killed in battle on the Isonzo front. He is the first officer of that rank lost by Italy. He won a general's commission by the heroism he displayed during operations in Tripoli.

Gen. Cantore had charge of actions which resulted in the occupation of Ala and other villages near Rovreto in Trentino. Armed only with a riding whip he directed his men from the most exposed positions, declaring he would be ashamed to run less risk than his soldiers.

them to say that to the grand jury and to any other properly constituted authority that the department of commerce and the steamboat inspection service have nothing to fear or to conceal, that it desires the fullest possible light thrown upon every detail of its work and organization.

"Such an inquiry cannot be too sharp and keen to please the steamboat inspection service and the department. They were told to lay everything in their possession and knowledge before the state grand jury or any other legal body desiring information. They were instructed to say to the state grand jury that I will willingly appear before anybody to give them any information in my possession.

"They were also instructed to say to the state grand jury that since the local inspectors at Grand Haven, Mich., who inspected the Eastland, were possibly outside the jurisdiction of the state of Illinois, I would at once order them here for examination by the state grand jury if that body desires it done.

"I also instructed them to say that the supervising inspector at Cleveland who had the vessel under his care for some years and is possibly outside the state jurisdiction, will be summoned here if the state grand jury or any other body or person having authority wishes it.

Captain Westcott's Record.

"Captain Westcott was originally appointed to the steamboat inspection service by President Harrison. He was removed by President Cleveland and reappointed by President McKinley, and has served continuously ever since. No charges of any kind have ever been made against him.

"His father was a shipbuilder and he, himself, as a young man, was actively engaged in the construction of vessels. At the time of his appointment as supervising inspector, he held a first-class master's license, and was in command of a lake steamer and drawing one of the biggest salaries for that work on the lakes.

"The local inspectors are all appointed under civil service. They are selected from the list prepared by the civil service commission after the examination provided by law had been held by that body.

"The statement seems to have been made that the supervising inspectors have been appointed at the instance of the steamboat owners. This is wholly untrue. No supervising inspectors have been appointed in the lake districts under the present administration because upon careful inquiry I decided that the present officials were doing their work conscientiously and well.

"Where appointments have been made by the present administration it has never been at the instance of any vessel owner or steamboat company. Indeed in one important case an appointment was made with their very strong opposition.

"The records of the service in all of these matters are open for all to read."

Secretary Redfield, following President Wilson's request for a thorough investigation, is prepared to go into the case independently of the federal steamboat inspection service, but will announce his conclusion when he has had time to make a personal examination of conditions.

Eight Inquiries Under Way.

With the entry of the cabinet member into the case, not less than eight separate investigations are in progress or contemplated with the situation complicated by a clash between States Attorney Hoyne and federal authorities over the possession of evidence gathered by the Chicago police and which the latter on demand turned over to the government agents for presentation to the federal grand jury.

The county grand jury started its hearing at the criminal court building and the coroner's jury began the taking of testimony at the county building. United States District Attorney Clyne began the calling of witnesses for the federal grand jury. The harbor and wharves committee of the city council began its investigation and the state public utilities committee is considering the question of starting an inquiry. Gov. Dunne has been urged to call a special session of the legislature and the sanitary district board will meet Thursday to appoint an investigating board.

Total Dead Yet Unknown.

Bids for the raising of the Eastland will be received today, and, until this work is completed, it is probable that the number of lives lost in the disaster cannot be definitely computed. A number of bodies are known to be in the hull of the vessel, but divers have been unable to reach them. Coroner Hoffman declares that he has no way of computing the number of unrecovered dead. Late estimates place the total dead at between 1,000 and 1,200.

State's Attorney Hoyne declared that Captain Pederson, of the Eastland, told him that Federal sanction for increasing the boat's carrying capacity without change in construction was "arranged," and that he (Pederson), was told to go to Grand Haven, Mich., and get the certificate.

Completion of a relief fund of $300,000 for the aid of the families of the victims is expected to be attained before the close of the day.

Home Has Not Been Entered.

A house at 2301 South Kolin avenue, has not been entered since the Eastland capsized. Two families, consisting of seven persons, lived in the house, and all are either dead or missing. A wagon drove to the residence with two bodies, but there was no one there to receive them.

Insurance managers estimate that between 50 and 75 per cent of the Eastland victims carried policies, the average amount being $300. They say $200,000 will be paid to families of victims during the week. Several of the skilled workers of the Western Electric company carried policies of $5,000. Several Chicago representatives of the insurance companies have omitted the customary red tape and started to pay the claims. In several cases these payments have prevented applications to relief institutions. Some insurance men have not waited for claims to be presented, but sent their forces of collectors to find the beneficiaries.

Fighter Among Victims.

The body of Eddie Bartlett, well known as a fighter in the bare knuckle days, has been identified among the victims of the Eastland. He was employed on the boat and his body was laid beside that of Joe Bertrand, former bantam boxer, who also perished in the disaster. Bartlett prepared Harry Gilmore for his bare knuckle fight with Jack McAuliffe at Lawrence, Mass., in 1887. His last ring appearance was with Tommy Ryan, at Whiting, Ind., in the early '90s.

Thinks Tug Caused It.

William H. Hull, general manager of the company which owns the Eastland, advances the theory that the vessel was overturned by the pulling of a tug that had been engaged to pilot it to open water.

"My theory is that the boat was resting on the bottom of the river," he said, "then, when the tug pulled, over she went. The river probably was not deep enough at that point for the Eastland. We have plenty of water at our own dock, but perhaps the river had filled in at the place she was docked Saturday. My information is that a rear line was fast and that it pulled off the cap of the piling when the tug pulled. When the piling gave way the tug pulled over the boat in a hurry. If that theory is not right, I have not the slightest idea of what caused the accident. The boat was safe. It wasn't the boat."

Scores of Funerals.

Scores of funerals today passed through the streets of Cicero and other west side suburbs that suffered heavily in the Eastland disaster. Tomorrow, which will see the passing of many more of these silent processions, has been named "Black Wednesday" in Cicero.

Free funeral service has been provided for those families left destitute and plans have been completed for community funeral services tomorrow in the various churches of Cicero and neighboring suburbs.

Taking of testimony at the coroner's inquest as to the cause of the disaster was begun today. First to arrive were members of the crew under guard of policemen. No charge has been formally placed against the men, who are being detained as witnesses.

The coroner's jury was empanelled last Saturday and later inspected the steamer and the bodies of the victims. Representatives of State's Attorney Hoyne, owners of the steamer and scores of lawyers, who appeared in behalf of various interests, occupied seats near Coroner Hoffman.

Passenger First Witness.

The first witness called was Robert Moore, a passenger on the Eastland. Moore said he arrived at the Eastland at 7 o'clock in the morning and was on the boat when it overturned.

He was asked by Coroner Hoffman to describe what he saw.

"As I went on board I saw a great quantity of water rushing out of a pipe on the side of the boat. The first sign of listing I saw at about 7:15. I was on a rail on the second deck and the refrigerator in the bar toppled over. There were eight or ten minutes' interval between the time the boat began listing badly and the time it finally overturned.

"There was ample time I think to have emptied the boat had the warning been given.

"There was no warning. When the boat went over I was thrown into the water and was rescued with a number of others." The witness said that all the decks were crowded, particularly the upper deck, and declared positively that there was no rush across the deck before the boat overturned.

"There was no excitement," said the witness, "until the list became dangerous."

Daniel W. Gee, one of the committee of Western Electric company employees which arranged for steamers to carry the excursionists to Michigan City, was the next witness.

The contract between the Indiana Transportation company and the employe's committee, was read into the record.

Mr. Gee said that 6,000 full-fare tickets were sold at $1 each, and several hundred half-fare tickets. The contract called for a rebate of 50 cents a ticket on all tickets in excess of 4,000.

"I noticed the Eastland was listing, but not more than I had often seen in other boats," said Gee. "I did not see the boat capsize, as I was at another part of the dock at the time."

Gee said children under 5 years of age were to be carried free, but that no list was kept of the children. One adult ticket was honored for two children, he said.

MRS. POINSETTE IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Hard-Fought Case Ends in a Victory for the Young Wife.

After having had the case under advisement for several days in the hope that a reconciliation might be possible and finding that no such happy consummation was at all probable, Judge Yaple in the superior court on Tuesday granted a decree of divorce to Georgia Poinsette from Henry J. Poinsette, awarded her $100 alimony, gave her the custody of a minor child and ordered the father to pay $7 a week for its support. The case was one of the most bitterly contested heard in the superior court. The parties are young.

Two Suits Are Combined.

The suit of Lola Bertha Moore against Jesse Moore for divorce and her suit against him for $1,000 damages were combined in the superior court Tuesday and heard together, the evidence of the one being practically the same in the other. Mrs. Moore alleges that on the night of May 4 her husband came home drunk and after abusing her and driving her out of the house he set fire to the dwelling, it being destroyed with its contents. She claims ownership of the house and furniture.

Wants to Show Him Up.

In a second paragraph of a divorce complaint filed by Loretta L. Taylor against William N. Taylor, the plaintiff asks the superior court to order her an allowance of $250 attorney's fees and $100 to take depositions in order to procure evidence at Lebana, Moorsville and Indianapolis to the effect that it was mainly by her own labors that the Taylor property was accumulated and that such labor ruined her health. She says that she worked like a man—doing more than her husband, who would not work—to pay for three different farms they purchased, selling the first to buy the second and the second to buy the third, and that after they sold the last one she conducted a rooming house in Indianapolis until she was compelled to go to a sanitarium. She wants a divorce, her maiden name and $2,000 alimony. She has lately been employed at the state home for feeble-minded youth near Fort Wayne.

Notes of the Courts.

The suit of Barney Hessert vs. Henry C. Kanning and Henry Haehmeier has been dismissed from the superior court.

Upon citation for contempt in the superior court, where he has a divorce suit pending against his wife, Ida A. Miller, it was shown by Frank P. Miller, Tuesday, that he has the ability to make the payments ordered by the court and he promised to do so. He was ordered to do so or suffer the consequences.

The suit of Addison Herrick vs. one Ostermeyer, first name unknown, and Jennie Braybrook, has been dismissed from the superior court and the restraining order was dissolved. The plaintiff got an injunction to prevent the defendants from interfering with him in harvesting crops he had planted on land belonging to Jennie Braybrook.

The Central Furniture Manufacturing company is the name of a new corporation that has just filed articles with County Recorder Allen Hursh. The capital is $10,000 and the declared purposes are to manufacture furniture and fixtures, to buy and sell merchandise similar to that manufactured and to sell such as may be manufactured, the plan being to own a manufactory and to conduct retail stores and act as brokers. Harry R. Spurling, Charles W. Sperry and Archie W. Spurling, all of Fort Wayne, are the incorporators and directors of the company.

COUNCIL LIKELY TO INSIST ON EXPERT

Willing to Name Committee to Confer on Garbage Disposal.

That the majority of the city council would be likely to stand pat on the resolution adopted a week ago asking the board of works to employ a garbage engineer to survey conditions here before the board should proceed with any steps for an additional garbage crematory was the belief Tuesday of a majority of the members who supported the resolutions. The matter is to come up Tuesday evening in the report of the committee of the whole on the proposal to buy property in the southwest part of the city on which to locate a second crematory. The members who voted for the resolution are, however, willing to modify the report, so as to provide that a committee of three councilmen, appointed by the president of the body, shall work with the board for a solution of the garbage problem.

TO CUT TRACK LEVY 3 CENTS.

That and Lopping Off Garbage Levy Would Save Budget Some.

That the proposal of the city council to cut down the track elevation levy from 10 cents to 5 cents may be compromised by the administration by consenting to a cut of 3 cents, making it 7 cents, is a probability. This with the 3 cents carried for the garbage disposal fund started three years ago would give 6 cents for distribution among other funds and relieve Comptroller W. C. Baade from necessity to do too much pruning of the departmental budgets, a labor upon which he has already begun in a tentative way. Comptroller Baade says that his experimental work with the financial knife shows that he will have to cut about $30,000 from the budgets to get inside the money this year's tax valuation will produce with a total levy of $1.16 per $100, which the present council is pledged by the last democratic platform not to exceed during its term. The comptroller will send his budgets to the council at the first meeting in August and annual appropriation ordinances together with the tax levy must be passed before the first of September.

Health Department Will Soon Send an Ordinance to Council.

Dr. H. O. Bruggeman, president of the board of health, says the board will have the city attorney prepare for early introduction to the city council an ordinance to require that all bread sold in Fort Wayne be wrapped in a sanitary fashion at the place of its manufacture. Such an ordinance was started on its way several years ago, but never got very far. The board of health takes the view that since all bread sold must be wrapped either at the bakery or the place where it is retailed and that the expense of doing it sanitarily is probably less at the bakeries than at the retailers the ordinance will work no hardship. A number of the local bakeries have for a good while been wrapping their bread in a sanitary manner.

Another ordinance the board of health will send to the council will provide that all soda fountains in the city shall be licensed, the ordinance to be drawn in such wise as will bring the soda fountains within the regulations of the state board of health.

MAYOR WINS IN CONTEST.

In a contest for a stake of $1,000 Mayor Hosey has won out over City Comptroller W. C. Baade and Tuesday evening an ordinance will go to the city council to appropriate $1,000 from the general fund to the new street intersection fund to pay the city's portion of the paving of Wayne trace from New Haven avenue to the city limits. The mayor is very anxious to get that improvement accomplished this year, but when the subject of another paving raid on the general fund was broached Comptroller Baade more than shook his head doubtfully; he said "Nothing more doing this year." However, the mayor made his case so strong that the comptroller yielded and that $1,000 will be forthcoming unless the council objects. This is understood, however, to be the final, the very ultimate drag on the general fund for paving this year.

HEARINGS FIXED BY BOARD.

The board of works at its Monday meeting fixed Aug. 12 as the date for hearings on the assessment rolls for new cement sidewalks on both sides of Elmwood avenue, St. Joe boulevard to Tecumseh street, and on both sides of Nelson street, Washington to Jefferson.

PARK BOARD ABANDONS MEETING.

No meeting of the park board was held Tuesday afternoon because three of the four members—Louis Fox, Prof. Louis Dorn and Abe Ackerman—were out of the city. No business of special consequence was scheduled for the afternoon.

HAS BIDS UNDER ADVISEMENT.

Eight bids received Monday afternoon by the board of works for furnishing 1,000 tons of coal to the garbage crematory have been taken under advisement by the board until the best bid can be determined.

OBJECT TO SEWER.

Louis C. Zollinger, O. W. and Herman C. Tresselt and Robert L. Carnahan conferred with the board of works Tuesday concerning the construction of a sewer from Superior street to the Carnahan property south of the baseball park, designed to drain the Carnahan property. Messrs. Zollinger and the Tresselts, through whose property the sewer would pass, strongly objected to the drain. The question of opening Duck street from Clinton street through to Calhoun, was discussed. No conclusions were reached on either proposal.

TAKES UP WORK EARLY.

Cornish, N. H., July 27—President Wilson gave up his usual morning game of golf today and was at work on official business received from Washington soon after breakfast. He planned to remain indoors most of the day. The president set for his stenographer at 10 o'clock and shut himself in his study, leaving orders that he was not to be disturbed until lunch time.

CUBS DROP SECOND GAME TO SMOKES

And It All Happens After Two Outs in the Ninth.

Wheeling, W. Va., July 27.—Wheeling took the second game of the series from Fort Wayne yesterday when Neale hit Reilley across the plate in the ninth with two down. The final score was 3 and 2. Red Hart flung for Fort Wayne and hurled a very pretty little game, but it was only in that last frame when the Wheelingites got to him right.

Fort Wayne got its pair of runs in the sixth when Holderman opened with a single and was followed by Bratchi, who singled, too. Brubaker forced Bratchi but Holderman got third on the out, and scored on a passed ball. Hartle finished with a double that scored Brubaker. The score:

FIRST DAY RESULTS AT TENNIS TOURNEY

Rain Spoils Morning Events for the Second Day—The Scores.

With a score of tennis stars on deck from out of the city and a like number of local favorites in action, the northern Indiana tennis tourney opened Monday at the Fort Wayne Country club. From the early morning with its unpleasant gray to the sunshine of late afternoon the courts were always filled, and some mighty interesting matches came off. Tuesday morning a light drizzle held up the play.

Orne, the grand old man of tennis, was on the job all day, and played like a fiend. He is a personage far from petite, and the manner in which he gets over the courts is a matter of envy to the fat fellows along the side lines. Of course Trask was there, brown goggles, handkerchief, blazer and enthusiasm, the same Charlie Trask he was last year. McKrell, of Pittsburg, another old local favorite, defeated Gilbert in the first round, and Swayne, a newcomer from Philadelphia, who is considerable tennis bug in the east, looks good to stay right on through to the finals.

The scores yesterday were:

George Gawehn won from V. Nicholson, default.

T. Hendricks won from D. S. McClure, 6-3, 6-3.

J. C. Mackrell won from H. H. Gilbert, 6-3, 6-2.

C. Burton won from E. Gawehn, 6-4, 3-6, 6-0.

J. Virdon won from H. Orne, 6-2, 6-4.

P. McNagny won from M. Mulholland, 6-2, 6-3.

C. P. Trask won from Dr. Humes, 6-0, 6-1.

J. Hennessey won from Dr. Miles Porter, jr., 6-3, 9-7.

F. Bastian won from John Schwicters, 6-0, 6-0.

L. Baker won from A. Troemel, 6-0, 6-3.

N. W. Swayne won from J. Berghoff, 6-0, 6-2.

R. Bastian won from C. Berghoff, 8-6, 6-0.

R. Fisher won from D. W. Furnas, 8-6, 6-3.

Only three arrests were made in northern Indiana last week for violation of the Indiana game laws.

Another complaint for non-payment of road tax was filed by Trustee Henry P. Scherer, of Wayne township, Monday, making a total of seven he has filed. Judgments against six have already been granted.

White Dress Parade Robison Park, Wednesday, August 4th

The annual White Dress Parade will be held at Robison park on Wednesday, August 4. Should the day be stormy and rain be falling up to 12 o'clock noon, the fete will be postponed till the next fair day. As in former years, the street car fare will be 5c for boys and girls from any part of Fort Wayne to Robison park and 5c for the return, making 10 for the round trip.

Registrations are not required and a simple white dress is all that is necessary to enter the parade. Dresses are not considered by the judges in the selection of Queen and Maids of Honor. Purity, Simplicity and Innocence are the keynotes of the White Dress Parade and every girl in Fort Wayne and Allen county, between the ages of 5 and 16 years, is invited. The line-up will begin at 3:00 p. m. and girls will march four abreast. The White Dress spectacle is easily the park's most brilliant event. Two thousand one hundred and twenty-one snow-clad girls, each one carrying an American flag, marched in the parade last year.

MILLIONAIRES TO BUILD PRIVATE TRACKS

Horse racing may fall under the ban of public disapproval or under the disapproval of the law, but if a man wants to build a race track, stables and stands, buy horses, employ trainers, grooms and jockeys and hold private race meetings with friends as guests, there is nothing to prevent it.

And if anyone wants to bet a couple of ten thousand dollar bills it can be done without a bookmaker.

This is the latest development in country life around Washington. Several young multi-millionaires who amuse themselves in society at the capital are investing in estates in the Virginia hills and having race tracks laid out. Invitation meets are to be held for the pleasure and excitement of the society set.

The latest is E. R. McLean, whose family millions were linked with those of the Walsh family when he married. He is an enthusiastic sportsman. His first love has been baseball, and it is said he has tried to buy a major league club to use as a plaything.

The race fad seems to have appealed to him. He is having a track built at an estate at Leesburg, Va., about an hour's motor ride from Washington.

McLean will invite friends to enter horses. New Yorkers and members of famous hunt clubs will have entries.

The chief event of the first meeting, according to plans, will be a steeplechase with a purse of $1,000 added.

One feature that will give a touch of English country racing will be a race, part of which will be run over a timbered hunting course.

Work was given in the first and second degrees to a large class of candidates by Phoenix lodge No. 101 Monday evening at the Knights of Pythias hall. Following the exemplification of work a smoker was enjoyed and refreshments were served.

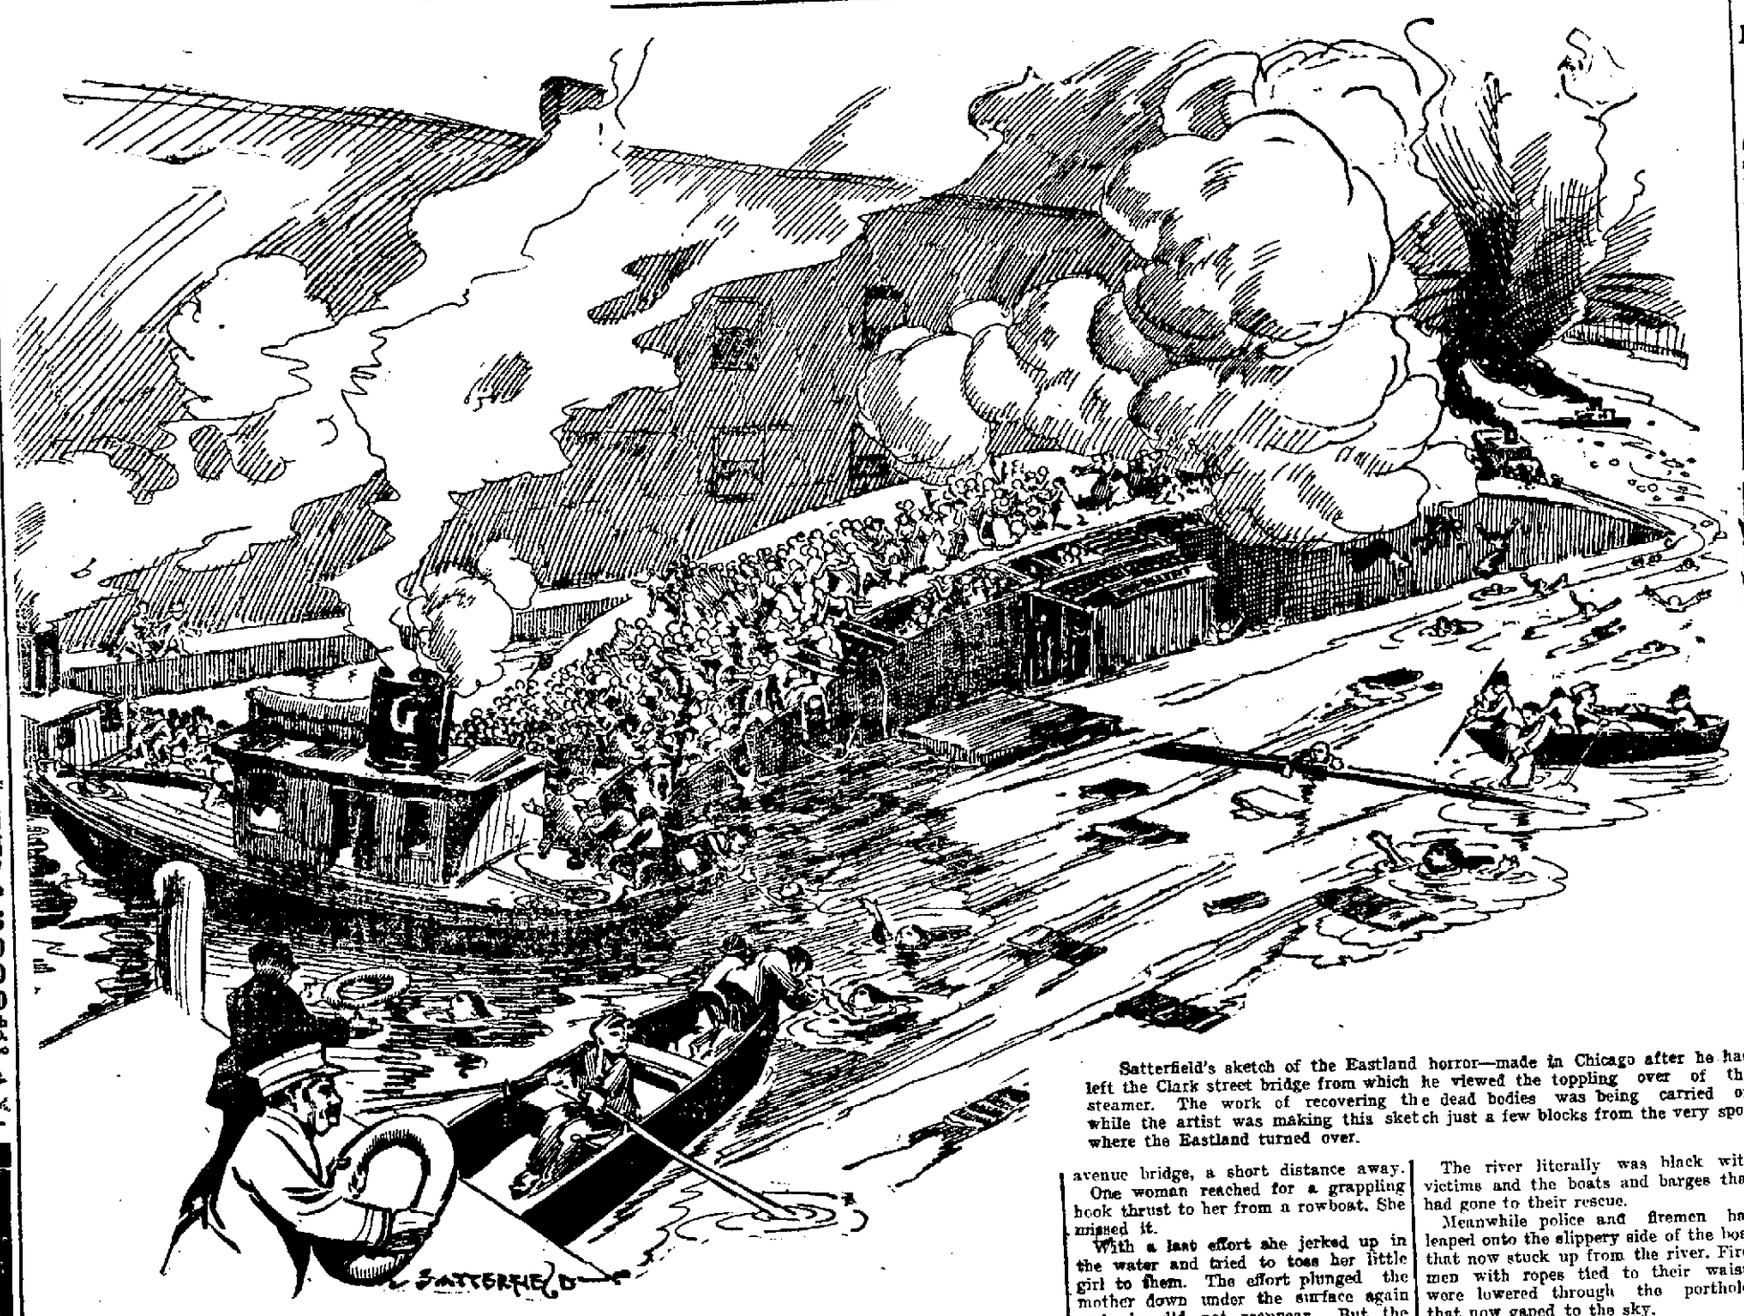
Cartoonist Satterfield Witnessed Eastland Catastrophe in Chicago and Tells What It Was Like in Picture and Story



Satterfield's sketch of the Eastland horror—made in Chicago after he had left the Clark street bridge from which he viewed the toppling over of the steamer. The work of recovering the dead bodies was being carried on while the artist was making this sketch just a few blocks from the very spot where the Eastland turned over.

(Editor's note.—Cartoonist Robert W. Satterfield was crossing the river on an elevated train when the Eastland disaster occurred. He saw the whole disaster and watched the frantic struggles in the water from a distance of only 100 yards. He made the above picture of the catastrophe while the terrors and horrors of it was still fresh in his mind. His story follows.)

(By Robert Satterfield, the famous cartoonist, who was an eye-witness of the sinking of the steamship Eastland.)

Chicago, July 27.—I was just crossing the Clark street bridge when I noticed the steamship Eastland, crowded with people, and with flags and pennants waving. Tugs were just beginning to haul her away from the pier.

I noticed the crowds that blackened the decks. Then I looked away for it was 7:40 and I was hurrying to the office.

As I did so I heard a woman shriek! Just one long piercing scream that rose high above the din and bustle of the early morning traffic.

I looked toward the Eastland again—and the big excursion boat was tipping over—was turning over on her side towards the middle of the river tumbling its holiday deckload of passengers into the swirling water.

The people, in order to see the tug boats start pulling the Eastland into the river, had rushed to the port railing. The weight of thousands was too much, and the top-heavy boat rolled over, practically turning turtle.

The air was filled with the shrieks of men and women and the thinner, shriller screams of hundreds upon hundreds of little children for (as I learned later) it was the annual picnic excursion of the thousands of employes of the Western Electric company.

As I ran towards the end of the bridge to reach the pier I could see the tumbling thousands of pleasure seekers fighting and scrambling as they were swept into the water.

Women and children and babies, with a sprinkling of men, were brushed into the river as some giant hand would sweep crumbs from a huge table.

For an instant the part of the deck that still showed the railing and the slimy, moss-grown—now upturned—bottom of the vessel were cleared.

The next instant it was blackened with human beings as flies swarming on a lump of sugar, blacken it.

Only instead of flies it was half-crazed picnickers crawling and fighting their way out from inside the boat.

But of the hundreds that screaming and scrambling managed to crawl through portholes and hatchways and reach and cling to the side and railing on the starboard side of the boat that now protruded from the water, still more hundreds were trapped below. It was an hour or more later before rescuers managed to reach these hundreds of drowned.

Many more passengers were below decks than above. They had been herded and jammed into the big passageways on the lower deck just as the order to "cast off" was given.

The big gates across the entrance hatches had been put in place, and as the boat turned they were trapped like cattle in a pen. Hundreds were drowned without a chance. They could not reach the upper decks for the crowds and they could not try to leap for the pier because of the gates.

Women near the gates tried to toss babies and children to the outstretched hands on the pier. Some were caught and others dropped into the water between the boat and the slimy piling and sucked under and drowned.

Police from the nearby streets rushed to take charge. With their clubs they cleared the pier of the terrified hundreds, the overflow of picnickers who had been waiting to get on the boat, but could not.

I turned back and managed to climb down on the bulkhead under the bridge. There I could see the water filled with bobbing heads.

Life preservers were rained into the river by the wagonload. Everybody that could grab something that would float threw it to the struggling mass of victims.

Choking in the muddy water, the victims were drawn under and carried down the river by the current faster than they could be pulled into the fleet of lifeboats and tugs that now were arriving on the scene.

I saw women with babies in their arms being swept away under the Fifth avenue bridge, a short distance away.

One woman reached for a grappling hook thrust to her from a rowboat. She missed it.

With a last effort she jerked up in the water and tried to toss her little girl to them. The effort plunged the mother down under the surface again and she did not reappear. But the child fell a yard nearer the boat.

Its white, frilled holiday dress with its ribbons spread out kept her afloat. Then the grappling hook caught it and she was dragged into the boat.

The river literally was black with victims and the boats and barges that had gone to their rescue.

Meanwhile police and firemen had leaped onto the slippery side of the boat that now stuck up from the river. Firemen with ropes tied to their waists were lowered through the portholes that now gaped to the sky.

The first victims they could reach were hoisted up by ropes. Girl after girl was hauled up, their soaked holiday attire standing out in pitiful contrast against the scene of death.

IF BACKACHY OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat less meat also take glass of Salts before eating breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—Adv.

CROWDING WORK ON BIG STORE HOUSE

Electric Plant Addition Will Be Enclosed Before Snow Flies.

"We will have from 150 to 200 men engaged in building the foundation for the warehouse for the Fort Wayne Electric works in a few days," said E. N. Franklin, manager for Bentley & Sons, of Toledo, the general contractors. "William L. Griebel, the subcontractor on excavation, has practically completed that work, and we have about sixty men engaged in preparing the trenches for the reception of the concrete foundation. These are all the men we can handle until the balance of our equipment arrives, which will be in a few days," continued Mr. Franklin. "When it arrives, we will push the work with a view of completing the foundation in ten days," added Mr. Franklin. The Fort Wayne Electric works, which will have charge of the wiring, has assigned H. B. McGuire, one of its construction men, to the work, and he will remain with it, carrying it along as rapidly as possible, so it will be finished simultaneously with the construction work on the building. A large office, material and tool house is being erected at the northeast corner of the building site, adjacent to the Pennsylvania tracks.

GROCERY CLERKS IN FEDERATION.

Delegates Admitted to the Central Labor Body.

One of the important features of the meeting of the Fort Wayne Federation of Labor last night was the admission of Delegates R. Masterson, E. C. Kilbiger, Miss O. Wynkoken, C. B. Weaver, and H. C. Hull, of the Grocery Clerks' union, which was recently organized. The charter of this union will remain open for sixty days, and it was announced that the meetings will be held Thursday night, instead of Monday night, hereafter. Another important event in labor union circles, which was announced at the meeting of the Federation, was the temporary organization of the local union of jitney drivers and chauffours generally in Fort Wayne. This was effected last night when eighteen of the jitney bus drivers met as the result of the work of General Organizer Thomas H. Flynn and the organizing committee of the Federation, composed of Clayton E. Johnson, J. C. Werkman, E. T. Drew, J. J. Perry and C. E. Redrup. It was announced that an active campaign would be waged during the next few days, and that it was expected to have a 100 per cent organization. Another meeting will be held this evening. Other matters to come before the Federation were the reading of an invitation to send delegates to the Peace Congress at San Francisco, which will be held October 10, 11 and 12; the report of the men engaged in the campaign in the interest of the Meat Cutters and Butcher Workmen and other movements of a similar character, including the results obtained from the committee work with the school board on the vocational question of commercial course at the High school.

WILL OPPOSE COMPENSATION LAW

Large yellow cards on all the bulletins of the Pennsylvania shops and elsewhere tell the employes that the company will refuse to pay compensation for injuries or death of employes as provided by the Indiana workmen's compensation act. The bulletin bears the name of the Pennsylvania company, by J. J. Turner, vice-president, and reads as follows: "To the Employes of the Undersigned and the Industrial Board of Indiana: You and each of you are hereby notified that the undersigned employer, being engaged in a business or occupation comprehended within the scope and meaning of an act of the general assembly of the state of Indiana approved March 8 and known as the Indiana workmen's compensation act and having employes engaged in said business does hereby elect to reject the provisions of said act and to refuse to pay compensation for injuries to or the death of said employes as in said act provided. Post-office address of employer: General Office, Pennsylvania Station, Pittsburg, Pa."

FORGING BUSINESS BETTER.

Business at the blacksmith shop of the Bass Foundry and Machine company is showing a disposition to improve. Foreman Joseph Slater said this morning that some pretty good orders had been placed on the books during the past week and if the improvement continues, it will not be long until the shop will be running with a full force. There is also an improvement in the machine shop, though Foreman Thomas Blythe has not taken on any new men for several months. The boiler shop, as stated before, is running day and night with all the men it can handle. This department booked another order yesterday, through W. A. Barrett. It was a boiler for the Kneipp sanitarium, at Rome City, where the heating and power plant is being reconstructed. In 1907 the Bass company put in two boilers, which will remain a part of the new plant.

HEAVY TRAVEL ON PENNSY.

The Pennsylvania is enjoying a good passenger business at present. Tonight there will be two extra sleepers on train No. 25, carrying the New York National ball team to Chicago. Tomorrow a special train running as second No. 25 will carry the Keystone state infantry to Chicago, where it will be delivered to a western road and taken to the coast. No. 19 tomorrow will carry Vice-President J. M. Schoonmaker and party in a Pittsburg and Lake Erie private car. They are going to the Panama-Pacific exposition, and tomorrow No. 40 will have two extra cars occupied by the Kistler and Marshall touring party, on their return from the exposition.

WHERE SAFETY FIRST STARTED.

The origin of the safety first practice is a matter of doubt, several railroads claiming the honor. Among them is the Cumberland Valley road, which is a part of the Pennsylvania road system, which at a meeting of the board of directors in 1838 passed the following resolution: "That no person shall be employed or continued in the service of the board whose habits of intemperance, either permanent or occasional, or such as to hazard the safety of passengers upon the road or property carried upon it—and that the board hereby charge the chief engineer and his assistants with the special duty of enforcing attention to this resolution."

ENGINEERS SEEK RETIREMENT.

It was learned at the Pennsylvania Relief Department offices yesterday that Benjamin F. Campbell and William L. Scott would retire soon. Mr. Campbell will retire December 1 by reason of reaching the age of 70, and Mr. Scott will seek retirement under the clause that permits between the ages of 65 and 70 when the applicant has become incapacitated by sickness or injury. Mr. Scott became a fireman on the Pennsylvania April 4, 1882, and Mr. Campbell entered the service as a fireman December 17, 1883. Both have been engineers many years.

Wheels built for a hand car carry it and there are some other changes, particularly in the body, but it has the gearing and other attachments of an auto and is said to be able to reel off miles at the rate of forty-five miles an hour.

AN ALL DAY PICNIC.

Kekionga Aid society, Ladies' Auxiliary to the Order of Railway Conductors, will be entertained by Mrs. T. P. O'Connell at her cottage in Rome City next Thursday with an all day picnic. FRANKLIN TRIES TO SPARE ASSAILANT

Never Saw Man Who Admits He Hit Him on Head With Brick.

With his head swathed in bandages that concealed a long scalp wound in which a surgeon had taken half a dozen stitches, Spencer Franklin sat in the city court and testified that he never had seen the man who hit him on the head with a brick because the brick was thrown from a distance of thirty feet when he wasn't looking. It was magnanimous, but it wasn't the truth, as was shown when Franklin's divorced wife, Anna Franklin, took the stand. She said she and Albert Cothrell, on trial for assault and battery on Franklin, were walking on the street Saturday night and that her former husband and another man followed them to Clinton and Dock streets, where Franklin made a rush for her escort and when within three feet of him was beaned with a brick that Cothrell had seized from a pile nearby. Cothrell took the stand and testified to the same facts. Judge Kerr took the circumstances under consideration for thirty days, continued the case against Cothrell for the assault and the case against Franklin for being drunk, in order to see if the trouble is at an end.

A Pair to the Penal Farm.

Jack Beno, arrested Monday by Officer Young for stealing a bicycle, was found guilty of petit larceny and drew $10 and costs and thirty days at the penal farm, all of which will make a sojourn of seventy-two days. Papers found on Beno indicated him to be a crook.

Bill Hicks, a persistent offender in the matter of getting drunk, was found guilty of public intoxication with three previous convictions, and $20 and costs and sixty days at the penal farm. He will grub there for the next three months. Bill was found rioting with himself and a bottle of alcohol in a Nickel Plate box car on the siding near Calhoun street by special officer Hazelett.

Hiding Money from Wife.

Walter Wedlaw, a negro, pleaded not guilty to a larceny charge and offered as an explanation of $5 found in his shoe at the L. J. Libbing store, on East Main street, where a clerk said he had paid the colored man $5 too much change, that when he drew $11 from a bank he buried $5 in his sock to hide it from his wife, to whom he purposed making a birthday present August 28. Detective Sergeant Walter Immel and Baliff George Eisenhut who were called to the Libbing store, after Wedlaw refused to produce when charged by the clerk with having $5 too much, frisked the darkey and found the money. To permit Attorney W. C. Ryan to present authorities to the court in support of a contention that larceny had not been committed, Judge Kerr took the case under advisement until Friday.

Other City Court Cases.

Tom O'Hern, John McDonald, Fred Hensel and John Van Allen, drunks, were turned loose, and Albert Cook and Charles Delaver, the latter a known crook, were continued on drunk charges for a day or two. William Kelly, another drunk, was fined $5 and costs for indecent conduct on Holman street.

The case against Alfred Boerger, for assault and battery on Fred Lagemann, was continued until August 17. Lagemann is still in the hospital.

Two colored vags held from Monday, were turned loose.

TEST IN CASE AT WARSAW.

Try Out New Law Compelling Early Wage Payment.

Warsaw, Ind., July 27.—Because the Hugro Manufacturing company failed to pay Charles Ward, an employe, $4.50 within seventy-two hours of the time he resigned Ward brought suit under a law passed by the 1915 legislature and awarded judgment for $34.38. The law requires an employer to pay within seventy-two hours when a workman resigns or is discharged and provides that in case of failure to pay the employe shall be entitled to collect full pay for all days until payment is made. The case probably will be appealed and will be a test of the new law, which some attorneys declared is unconstitutional.

There are now over 83,000 automobile owners registered for 1915 in the entire state, as against 65,000 in 1914.

Fords lead the other cars for numbers in Indiana, showing a total registration of approximately 30,000. This information comes from the Campbell Circular Advertising Co., of Indianapolis, who have compiled such lists for automobile concerns and other lines of business for a number of years.

WILL CONTINUE ON NON-PARTISAN LINE

Anti-Saloon League Head Talks of Work Planned in Indiana.

Indianapolis, July 27.—The Indiana Anti-Saloon league, through its state superintendent, Rev. E. S. Shumaker, has issued a statement to the newspapers of the state reaffirming its allegiance to the non-partisan methods of activity which have characterized its work in the past.

At the recent annual convention of the National Anti-Saloon league at Atlantic City, N. J., the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"After twenty years of practical demonstration of the value of non-partisan activity in the warfare against the liquor traffic, with special emphasis at this time we again declare for the preservation of the non-partisan or omnipartisan character of the anti-saloon league movement. We protest against every effort to use the rapidly growing temperance sentiment of the nation for the furthering of political ambitions or political ends. The anti-saloon league is entrusted with a sacred duty. That duty must be performed without complications in partisan politics and without swerving from the straight path which leads to the overthrow of the liquor traffic. From this great task the anti-saloon league cannot turn aside to support friends or oppose enemies except in so far as that support of friends or that opposition to enemies may help to hasten the final overthrow of this traffic."

The Indiana league announces that it will wage its campaign next year in full harmony with this resolution. Superintendent Shumaker says: "The league sincerely hopes that no political party will put a prohibition plank in its platform next year. The league does hope, on the other hand, that the various parties will nominate in the primaries candidates for congress, the United States senate, the state legislature and for governor men who are personally committed to the prohibition of the liquor traffic. It is on this exact ground that the league will wage its whole fight next year. The whole influence of the state organization will be exerted in the spring primary for the nomination of men favorable to the prohibition issue. In the election which follows, the league will know no political lines. Candidates will be supported and opposed without reference to party affiliations. The deciding consideration will be the attitude of the candidate on the one question of state-wide statutory prohibition.

"In order that the league may act wisely and justly in its attitude toward the various candidates, it will at the proper time respectfully interrogate candidates for the offices above named on the question of their personal attitude toward the prohibition issue. It is not the intention of the league to heckle or pester candidates, but as a matter of justice it will seek first-hand and authoritative information on the question. In adopting this policy the league feels that it is not imposing upon candidates or placing them under any embarrassment whatever. Rather, it believes that by giving the candidates an opportunity to be fully and fairly understood on this question, it is doing them a decided service. The league contends that no fair man would wish to go through a campaign at this time without being clearly and fully understood by the people as to his position on this great question that is closer to the hearts of thousands of the best citizens of this state than any other issue that may arise."

League leaders are careful to have it understood that they will not assume an arrogant or dictatorial attitude in this matter. They will not insist necessarily upon a categorical answer to any questions that may be propounded. What they do seek, in any way that candidates may see fit to give it, is a positive assurance that if elected they will stand squarely with that vast majority of the voters of Indiana that demand the prohibition of the liquor traffic.

League leaders are now busy perfecting plans for the greatest campaign ever waged in the state. Local organizations will be perfected in every county in the state through which the dry sentiment may be crystallized in the primary in the nomination of acceptable candidates, and if necessary later in the election of acceptable candidates. The fight throughout, both in the primary and in the election, will be waged on candidates entirely. Partisanship will be carefully avoided throughout.

Officers Looking for Chicago Girls Who Escaped from an Asylum.

Springfield, Ill., July 27.—Miss Della Nooman, of Chicago, employed as a maid at the home of Mrs. Maud Ferris, of Taylorville, was a massenger on a C. & A. train which entered this city early last spring. As she was alighting on the platform a trunk, thrown from the baggage car to a truck, exploded violently, seriously injuring the porter and baggageman.

Miss Nooman's mind was unbalanced by the shock and she was sent to the state institution for the insane at Jacksonville. June 26 she was removed to St. Vincent's hospital.

Recently the young woman disappeared from the latter institution and all efforts of deputy sheriffs and attendants to locate her have failed.

It was learned that she had packed her trunk and was apparently contemplating leaving the city. When her absence from the institution was learned the police were informed and visited all outgoing trains. They did not find her.

Miss Nooman was improved in condition, but was watched by the nurses at the hospital.

HARRISON HILL

3 Lots Where 12 Might Be

We told you the other day how there were only 233 lots in Harrison Hill where there might be 396.

Harrison Hill has a frontage of 600 feet on Rudisill Boulevard, a very valuable street for residences.

Did we take shortsighted advantage of this and lay out 12 lots facing Rudisill Boulevard, as well we might?

No! We thought of the entire addition, the plat as a whole rather than this one edge. We faced no lots on Rudisill Boulevard, and took up the entire 600 feet with the sides of three fine lots and the entrance to Harrison Boulevard.

Just one example of where we sacrificed immediate profit for the future welfare of Harrison Hill.

The plat of Harrison Hill is an interesting study in city planning. It is found in our latest circular. Ask any real estate man.

THE MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS.

Chicago, July 27.—Unsettled weather in the domestic harvest region with a forecast of more, led to higher prices today for wheat. After opening ½c to 1¼c higher, the market scored additional gains, then reacted to a moderate extent.

The close was strong, ⅞c to 1¾c above last night.

Corn rose with wheat and as a result of the cool temperatures, opening prices, which ranged from a shade to ⅝c higher, were followed by a setback and then a rally.

The close was firm at ½c to ¾c net advance.

Oats kept within narrow limits.

Lower average quotations for hogs weakened provisions.

THE DAY ON WALL STREET.

New York, July 27.—A broad buying movement lifted prices quickly in the first half hour of trading today. U. S. Steel was bought in blocks of several thousand shares and rose to 65½. An advance of a point and the best figures since it has been on a non-dividend basis. Bethlehem Steel was marked up 11½ to 232½. Baldwin Locomotive 1¾ to 84½. Can 1⅝ to 61⅞, and Allis-Chalmers preferred 1⅝ to 68, all new high records. Many other active specialties made gains of one to four points. The railroad list was dull.

The vigorous recovery of yesterday following the break on the torpedoing of the Leelanaw, promoted bullish sentiment and taking the industrial list as a whole the intrinsic position of the market seemed to be better. The rise was not limited to war shares but spread to other specialties. U. S. Steel was absorbed in large amounts in expectation that the quarterly statement to be given out later in the day would make a highly favorable showing. War stocks reacted two to five points. Bonds were easy.

ELEVEN DOLLARS THE PRICE.

Judge at Hammond Fixes Fee for Kiss, Welcome or Otherwise.

Hammond, Ind., July 26.—Judge Frank Prest decided that $11 is the price of a kiss, no matter whether it is welcome or unwelcome, given or stolen. Mrs. Stanley Rolla kept a boarding house. When Mrs. Rolla's husband was away, Tom Dashinski, the star boarder, kissed her. Then Joe Peganik tried to do the same thing, but Mrs. Rolla resisted, and when her husband returned, she told on him. After Rolla beat up both men with a piece of lead pipe, he caused their arrest. After they were fined $11 each, Joe and Tom shook hands and had Stanley arrested and fined.

UNCLE SAM LOWERS REWARD.

Informers to Get But $10 for Reporting Revenue Law Infractions.

Washington, July 27.—Informers who aid the government to capture and prosecute violators of internal revenue laws hereafter will get only $10 instead of $50 as has been the case. Treasury department officials held today that a $10 reward was sufficient.

SCENE OF GREAT BATTLES IN PAST

Environs of Warsaw Have Witnessed Many Former Conflicts.

Washington, D. C., July 27.—On every field where the German armies are now fighting in the environs of Warsaw, great battles have gone before; for Warsaw has always been the chief stronghold for the defense of Poland, the industrial, commercial, and financial center, as well as the physical center and the center toward which all Polish lines of communications take their way. The greatest of European conquerors have passed that way, and dealt with Warsaw as one of the half-dozen most important towns on the continent. As a military problem, Warsaw is conscientiously studied by the leading soldiers of Europe, and there are few fields for which the possibilities have been better canvassed. The geography of the country immediately surrounding this great city, the scene of a supreme test of strength between Teuton and Slav, is described in a bulletin just issued by the National Geographic society, which reads:

"Girdled by a formidable plan of fortifications and by fortified towns, which build a circular line around the metropolis, Warsaw is the best defended city in eastern Europe. Its immediate line of forts are thrown before it at a radius of about sixteen miles from the heart of the city. In the immediate line of fortified towns beyond the Warsaw forts, varying from twenty-five to forty miles in distance from the city, are Garwolin in the southeast, Grojec in the south, Skierniewice in the southwest, Blonie in the west, Novo Georgievsk in the northwest, Pultsk and Segrje in the north and Praga across the Vistula to the east. The most powerful of these fortresses is Novo Georgievsk.

"The country around Warsaw is a plain, low and flat, intensely cultivated, and dotted with many industrial villages. This plain stretches away to the Prussian frontier. To the south there are hill clusters, while in the north, throughout the region adjoining the confluence of the Narew and the Bug with the Vistula, there are considerable stretches of tangled and treacherous marsh land. During the spring and autumn rains, this region frequently suffers from disastrous floods. The floods now and then prove to be terribly destructive. Novo Georgievsk fortress lies upon the confluence of the Bug and Vistula, and the swampy stretches near it are part of its scheme of defense.

"The Vistula cleaves through this district, through fortresses before Warsaw, through the heart of the metropolis, and through fortresses toward the German frontier, in a broad expanse of between a quarter and a third of a mile in width. Parts of the river's banks are high, and Warsaw stands over the Vistula on a steep terrace, lying between 100 and 140 feet above the river. Six great trunk lines traverse the plain to Warsaw, connecting the Polish city with Petrograd, Moscow, Kiev, Danzig, Berlin and Vienna. Over these railways and down the broad Vistula almost the whole trade of Russian Poland has taken its way through the first city.

"All the country before Warsaw is an open way of farm and factory. While the soils are not very fertile, being chiefly clay and sand deposits, large crops are raised upon them, crops that have been forced higher and higher to meet the needs of the great next-door market. Then, too, the Warsaw district is the most modern and progressive district in Poland, progressive in its agricultural as in its manufacture and trade. The industry of the metropolis spreads out over the city, through the neighboring villages and towns. For twenty years the Poles have turned their energies to industry with all the seriousness which they formerly displayed in politics, and with better organization. Warsaw, and the flat country in which it lies, are the heart and inspiration of Polish industry."

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

KITCHENER VISITS THE BRITISH FRONT

Sees for First Time Lines in France Held by His Own Men.

British Headquarters, France, July 10.—(Correspondence of The Associated Press)—An otherwise dull week at the front has been relieved by the visit of Field Marshal Lord Kitchener, which is the more interesting because it is the first time he has been in the area held by the British troops. His previous trips to France have been for conferences at Gen. Joffre's headquarters.

Probably not one out of a 100 soldiers saw him. The army went on with its work, while he saw it and chose what he wished to see.

Other distinguished visitors had programs laid out for them, but he laid out his own, which was a revelation of energy and precision in the amount of ground covered. The only ceremonious affair was a parade of Indian cavalry which he briefly reviewed. As there is no speed limit on the main roads in the military zone he was not long in going from point to point. When he left the car to go on foot the officers conducting him found that it took a good pedestrian to keep up. Kitchener showed particular interest in the trenches, fortifications and all the conditions actually relating to the real fighting. It was a ticklish moment for his aide and the officers in command of that section when he went to Ypres which is still daily subjected to intermittent shelling. It is certain if the Germans had known of his presence they would have given more than a salute of seventeen guns to which the secretary for war is entitled.

The field marshal picked his way through the former streets, among the wreckage, saw a seventeen-inch shell hole in the plaza, the remains of the Cloth hall, and other sights, an impressive example of the destructive power of modern shell fire. His conductors kept thinking "What if a big high explosive shell should come and get the prime minister of Great Britain and the war minister at the same time." But unusual as it was in Ypres, not a single shell fell.

Don't forget that our Men's Palm Beach Suits at $7.20 and $9.00 are hot and cold water shrunk. You want a suit—not a washboard—when they come from the laundry.

NO HURRY-UP PROGRAM.

Military Preparedness Not Rush Order, Says Garrison.

Washington, July 27.—Secretary Garrison returned today from a brief holiday and began preparing a statement for President Wilson on the military preparedness of the country.

"There is no hurry-up program for preparedness," said the secretary. "We are proceeding with that calmness and deliberation which we hope will secure good results. I hope to submit a general outline of reorganization. It is no rush order but a report on just what we have been doing for some time."

MUCH CONCERN FOR SAFETY OF RELATIVES

Ft. Wayne People Have a Narrow Escape When Eastland Turned Turtle.

Many Fort Wayne people have been aboard the ill-fated Eastland, which turned over in the Chicago river Saturday morning, resulting in one of the worst catastrophes in the history of the country. Many Fort Wayne people also had relatives whom they feared might have been aboard the boat when it capsized.

Arthur A. Catlin, of Chicago, has written to his cousin, Miss Clara Rissing, 1704 St. Joe boulevard, that he was aboard the Eastland at the time of the disaster and his escape from death was remarkable. He was thrown into the muddy waters of the river and was rescued after a narrow escape from being struck by the boat as it was turning over.

Arthur A. Catlin is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Catlin, of Denver, Col., his mother being a sister of Mrs. John H. Rissing, of St. Joe boulevard. He is in the employ of the Western Electric company at Chicago.

Herbert Telley, 227 Williams street, and J. G. A. Litot, 308 West Butler street, who are employed at the Pennsylvania shops, had planned to make the trip on the Eastland, but fortunately missed the boat or else they might have been among the victims.

Ten rough boxes containing the bodies of victims of the tragedy passed through Fort Wayne Monday evening at 9 o'clock on Pennsylvania train No. 2. They were being taken to Pittsburg.

MEMORIAL SERVICES.

Will Be Held in Honor of the Late William J. Barth.

At a special session of the Vorwaerts Turnverein, Monday evening, it was decided, upon suggestion of Victor Kalteyer, to request the Fort Wayne German Alliance to conduct special memorial services in honor of the late William J. Barth, sr., on a date to be announced later, preferably next Sunday evening.

Fred Simminger, Paul Nachtigal and Leonard Brandt were named as members of a committee to apprise the president of the alliance, Henry Branning, of the action that had been taken and to assist with the necessary arrangements.

Victor Kalteyer, Herman Bolhauve and Paul Nachtigal were appointed members of a committee to draft resolutions in honor of the deceased. Otto Rohland, Walter Poetzsch, Emil Haberkorn, Fred Simminger, Charles Bernig and Victor Kalteyer volunteered to represent the turnverein at the funeral services Wednesday afternoon.

The "Nordamerikanische Turnzeitung," the official organ of the American Turners' societies, will be requested to devote an article to the life history of the deceased. The colors of the local society were ordered to be draped in mourning for a period of four weeks.

TAX CONTRACT ILLEGAL.

Court Overturns Action of Commissioners at Muncie.

Muncie, Ind., July 27.—Because the county council had not made an appropriation at the time a recent board of county commissioners entered into a contract with Lafayette Mansfield for the collection of taxes, Special Judge Eichhorn, of Bluffton, has held the contract to be illegal. He held that John D. Lee, who filed the suit on behalf of taxpayers, was entitled to recover $4,894.81 from Mansfield and Ralph H. Clark, county treasurer, who honored Mansfield's warrants. The money is to go to the board of county commissioners. The defendants have announced that they will appeal.
